Hamilton Drops Back One Lap

Such terrific speed on the skating surface as seen in the second night's racing of the big six-day race at the Coliseum was never before witnessed in this city. For nearly the whole half hour the seven partipants who were on the floor were continually spurting and when the time limit was up a more tired lot of racers were never so glad it was over.

Neafsey and Holden are tied for first place. Neafsey took a very bad fall last night. Holden and Hamilton see ing his misfortune quickly tried to gain a lap. Neafsey seeing his predicament pathered himself together and was right after them. Holden and Hamilton by this time had a half lap on him, Neafsey soon regained every thing lost. Clarence Hamilton and Wm. Glew the Canadian champion, are tied for second place. The close contest will make more interesting tonight.

The summary follows: Miles Laps Ed. Neafsey, 16 15 Chas. Holden. 16 15 16 C. Hamilton, Thos. Glew. Teddy Boyle, Thos. Shinkwin,

Everything Is In Readiness For Contest Of Submarines

The Herald prints a special dis atch of Tuesday, which says the overnment competive tests of the atest types of submarine fighting machines, the Octopus and the Lake. scheduled to begin today, were deayed by a dense fog, which settled down over the harbor shortly after noon shutting out everything beyond a radius of 100 yards.

The trial board has decided to take no chances in thick weather, but it the fog lifts, the preliminary tests will be run off Wednesday.

The board which consists of Capt. Adolph Marix, president, Commander Burnes T. Walling, Naval Construc tor D. W. Taylor, Lieutenant-Commander John W. Timmons and Lieut Commander William S. Smith reached here this morning and immediately convened at the torpedo

Th greater part of the day was pent by the board in consulting with epresentatives of the two boats going over with them, separately, the orders from Washington governing he trials and discussing plans and pecifications.

Inventor Simon Lake, representing is company, and L. Y. Everything is now in readiness for the contest which is really a battle between the two companies for government favor, and the $3,000,000 appronost successful type.

The only limitation placed upon the use of it is that no part of it shall be spent for a boat which does not in the judgment of the secretary of the navy, prove equal to the best boat now owned or under contract by the government. The Octopus, the latest and largest the Holland boats, and the Lake epresent distinct principles in type. The Holland boat is a diver and goes down on the propoise plan. The Lake keeps an even keel, and sinks or rises as an elevator goes up or down. The Holland boat is built wholly for war purposes, while the Lake is designed to meet the needs of naval warfare and those of the marine engineer in time of peace. The government has now in commission

12 Hollands but no Lakes. Capt. T. T. Cable, who was in charge of the Fulton, which was sold to a foreign government, will run to the Octopus, and Capt. William Evans, who commander the Protector, also purchased by a foreign power, will look after the Lake.

The tests will cover speed, endur ance, sea-going qualities, strength quality of material, workmanship and every possible feature of a successful submarine. Owing to the probability of a certain amount of unfavorable weather, it is expected the rials will occupy at least two weeks.

Two Air Voyagers Start From St Louis to Washington

SAILED TO THE SOUTHWEST

Expect to Be In the Air Forty-Eight Hours and Have Provisions to Last Three Days--Aerial Observations to Be Made For the Government

St. Louis, May 1.—With a sharp, raw wind blowing, and heavy clouds banking the sky, Captain Chandier, United States signal corps, and Aeronaut Mc-Coy of New York city, started last night on their delayed long distance balloon trip. The start had been scheduled for three days. They hoped the wind ************** would carry them eastward that they wight land near Washington, D. ### INJUNCTION ASKED FOR

ters involved in the strike in progress have appealed to the supreme court for an injunction against the officials and members of the local union to restrain them from what is alleged to be unlawful conspiracy and to prevent strikers from congregating in front of the stables and intimidating their men. The court will hear the arguments on the question of issuing the injunction on Thursday.

Disturbances continued last night at the stables and near the wharf at which the steamer Zealandia lays, when the strike breakers went on board, but no rests were made at the time, although several shots were fired. Three arrests were made, however, about the city during the day of strike breakers for carry ng concealed weapons.

Lewis Harris, who last Wednesday fired into a crowd near the steamer, with the result that Michael Cunningham was struck and subsequently died from the wound, was arraigned in the municipal court on a charge of manslaughter and will be given a hearing on Friday.

Must Go Before Federal Court Boston, May 1 .- Five justices of the Massachusette supreme court say that the anti-United Shoe Machinery bill is constitutional. They are Justices Hamnond, Loring, Braley, Sheldon and Rugg. Justices Knowlton and Morton leclare that it is unconstitutional. All even declare that the ultimate settlement of the question must rest with the ictory for the anti-United Shoe Machinery people, for a decision of a maicrity of the court is the law of the state until it is overruled by the highest court in the land.

Arrest of Embezzler Lincoln Woonsocket, R. I., May 1.-Levi C. Lincoln, who confessed that he had embezzled $92,000 from the Woonsocket Electric Machine and Power company, of which he was treasurer until recent v, was arrested last night. A warrant issued on demand of the Fidelity and Deposit company of Baltimore, his bondsman, specifically charges Lincoln with embezzling $57,000 since Jan. 1 last. Lincoln is locked up and will not attempt to obtain bail until after his arraignment in the police court.

Charges Against Town Officials Edgartown, Mass., May 1.-Edmund

G. Eldridge, a former selectman, and Zenas B. Linton, a former treasurer of the town of Cottage City, now Oak Bluffs, pleaded respectively not guilty and nolo contendre as preliminary to th rial on three indictments charging hem with conspiracy in obtaining and the larceny of the town's funds to the extent of several thousand dollars. Linton's case will be disposed of later while Eldridge's trial has begun.

Bryan Criticises Queer Maine Law Bangor, Me., May 1 .- William J. Bryan spoke in the Bangor opera house last night, a feature of his talk being a scathing allusion to information he had recently received that three Maine railoads received a rebate of 25 percent on plans and will furnish estimates. Will give the same faithful attention to work heir taxes on condition that they carry roops in time of war. Bryan said that n all his experience that was the most absurd excuse he had ever heard for draining money out of the common peo-

Boston, May 1 .- A strong endorsement of Governor Guild's recommendaion for a state commission on comnerce and industry was given by well known business men of this city when the project was taken up by the con mittee on ways and means at the state house. Many spoke in favor, and no voice was raised in opposition.

Barge Brings Up on a Ledge Vineyard Haven, Mass., May 1 .- A coal-laden barge, believed to be the Lewis Thompson of Philadelphia, went shore on Bass ledge, half a mile south of Gay Head. It is feared that the vessel will not be able to hold together against the battering of the heavy seas which are tumbling with great fury on the south side of the island.

More Freight Hands Quit Work Waterbury, Conn., May 1 .- The ranks of the freight handlers and checkers on the Naugatuck division of the New Haven road, who struck for an increase in pay, thereby causing a tie-up of all freight on that division, have been increased by the accession And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

PEACE IN GERMANY

LIMITATION OF ARMAMENTS

Diversities of Various States Too Great to Admit of Plans For Treaty -- Germany's Attitude Plainly Outlined by Chancellor Von Buelow

Berlin, May 1.-There was a genera debate on Germany's foreign relations in the reichstag and, incidentally, Andrew Carnegie's recent reference to the decision between war and peace being in the hands of Emperor William wa criticised and classed as a distortion of

At the opening of the debate speakers of various parties pointedly suggested to Chancellor Von Buelow that Germany should take no part in the discussion of the limitation of armaments at The Hague peace conference.

The chancellor, in reply, said tha Germany did not object to letting other powers discuss the matter, but Germany would hold aloof. This statement was received with approval by the house Continuing, Von Buelow referred to the recommendation of the first peace conference at The Hague that the powers study the question of the limitation of armaments.

"Germany," the chancellor said, "has complied with this recommendation but has not found a formula which takes into account the great diversity in the geographical, economic and military positions of the various states, or one which would be calculated to remove those diversities and serve as a basis for a treaty.

"I am also unaware that other counries have been more fortunate in discovering such a formula. So long as there is not even a hope for a satisfac tory solution of this question and no method for its practical application ex sts we cannot expect anything from its discussion at a conference. On the contrary, the danger is that an undesir able effect may be produced by arous ing divergent interests."

The chancellor claimed that the mere prospect of a discussion of the question of the limitation of armaments had a disquieting effect upon the international situation. He then remarked:

"Germany's abstention from the dis cussion of the question does not mean that she cherishes a secret desire fo war or that she is actuated by military ambition or other selfish motives Other powers feel the same way as Ger many regarding the limitation proposi tion, and many friends of peace in France, Great Britain, Italy and the United States think it would not serve the cause of peace to give way to illumany hitherto has secured peace keeping in readiness for war. Thi policy has been proved to be a wise one We never once misused our military strength and never will. Many persons have advised us to take part in the discussion of the limitation of armaments in order to show Germany's good vill, since nothing can come of the matter in any way. But Germany's peaceable policy has been a sufficien answer to all aspersions which may have been made.

"Germany does not wish to prevent other powers from discussing the limitation of armaments. If some pracical result is reached by such a discussion Germany will conscientiously examine whether it harmonizes with the protection of her peace, with her naional interests and with her special

The chancellor called attention to the act that his position in the matter unler discussion was endorsed by speakers representing all the parties in the house and added: "Supported by this unanmity Germany will show by her actual course at The Hague that she sincerely favors all efforts calculated to practically promote peace, civiliza tion and bumanity."

Loud applause greeted the chancelor when he concluded his remarks on the subject of the limitation of arma ments. He then turned to other phases of Germany's foreign relations, which he discussed at great length, endeavor ing to allay the nervousness in Germany respecting King Edward's visits to President Fallieries, King Alfonso and King Victor Emmenuel.

Rescuers Reach Marooned Men In a Flooded Mine

Spent Terrible Days and Nights In "Overcast" With but Little Food and Nothing to Drink--Darkness Bigelow street. the Worst Danger They Faced

Johnstown, Pa., May 1 .-- After being entombed since last Friday noon in the Berwind-White Coal company's mine No. 38 at Foustwell, near here, the seven miners who were shut off from the world by a sudden rush of water caused by the breaking of a fall of an aban ducted by Rev. Edwin N. Hardy, and doned mine were rescued iate last night The men were greatly exhausted. Ow ing to their weakened condition, it was decided not to bring them out until at lames Dunn, the veteran carriage ter the mine has been drained.

Never in the history of the mining re gion has such a joyous scene been wit nessed as when the unfortunate mer were reached. Hundreds of people of rescue, cheered, laughed and cried Many had believed the men had per ished during their long confinement in the mine.

The men were reached at 10 o'clock by Stiney Rodon and Charles Ream who made a dash through 50 feet of water-filled heading. Earlier in the day John Bolya, brother of one of the Imprisoned men, and three comrade made a futile attempt to reach the im prisoned men. These rescuers came back half drowned and reported that portions of the heading were still con with modern instruments. If we find pietely filled with water and that mor pumping would have to be done before eached. The efforts at pumping were then redoubled. At 10 o'clock the wa ter had so far gone down that it was resolved to make one more attempt to break through to the overcast, where was believed the men were still alive

Rodon and Ream volunteered for th service. Like the party that set forth earlier in the day, they left the pump ing crew and plunged out into the wa ter and darkness. Over an hour clapse before either man was heard from and at 7.45 o'clock, in the Council Chamber, then Ream came swimming back City Hall, and it is further ordered that the petitioner give notice of this hearing news from the imprisoned men. The effort had nearly exhausted Ream. He reported that the seven men were alive. but that until more pumping was done the passage to the place where they had taken refuge was impassable to those who could not swim.

When the news was received that th nen were alive it was resolved to alow them to remain where they were until the heading had been pumped out.

Ream and his comrade carried to the imprisoned men simply a flask of brandy and a little water. He reported that Mike Bolya had, since the breaking of the walls between the abandoned workings, been in charge of the movements Attention of Milk Dealers is hereby called to of his comrades. Bolya, who is a mine an extract from Ordinance No. 21, Section 3: - | contractor, was acquainted with every "Every person who conveys milk in carriages turn of the work. Bolya stated that the lamps were lighted because the darkness and noise of the water rushing in the headings vas so terrifying that the men feared that their reason would leave them if eft in darkness. Bolya said that of all the dangers they faced the darkness was the most terrible.

When stock was taken of the avail able supply of provisions it was found that three baskets were but half emptied. This scanty store of rations was husbanded until Monday morning, since when the men had nothing to eat. During the whole time they were imprisened they had gone without water, fearing to drink the water from the abandoned works. Ream said that at the place where the men had sought refuge there had been a supply of ties left for track laying purposes. With these Bolya and his comrades had built a platform, upon which they had found safety from the flood.

> The teamsters' strike involved sev eral new phases, the principal incident being the request on the part of the firms affected by the strike for militia protection for the strike breakers, a rewest which was refused by Governo Guild after a conference with Police Commissioner O'Meara.

Counsel for the firms appeared at the state house and informed the governo that the men brought here to take the place of the strikers were molested nightly, and received no protection from the police. Guild took the request under consideration, but after consult ing with O'Meara issued a statement to the effect that there was sufficient police to keep order without endangering the public peace.

A controversy took place, through the medium of the newspapers, between Harrison S. Loring, the head of teaming firm employing non-unio help, but not involved in the strike, and O'Meara over the question whether the police were using their best efforts to keep order. Loring claimed that the disturbances at the stables at night would not occur if the police would show more firmness. O'Meara replied that many of the disturbances had been exaggerated and that those that did oc cur were often provoked by strike breakers.

Incipient riots occurred last night in South Boston and Charlestown, and in the later section several arrests were made, one man, a strike breaker, being taken into custody for flourishing a re-

Seeks to Advance Economic and Commercial Policies of Vital Importance Both to Labor and Capital -- Vigorous Campaign Likely

Boston, May 2 .- Henry M. Whitney announces that he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Massachusetts. He desires to make the campaign on "business issues," as he puts it, particularly the tariff and Canadian reciprocity.

This announcement comes as the culmination of a series of happenings of more than ordinary importance in Democratic state politics. Several months ago Whitney hoped to be the Democratic candidate for governor this year, but evidences of former Governor Dougas' inclination to run led Whitney to hold his own aspirations in abeyance, since he believed the party not strong enough to suffer from the damage of an internal contest. If Douglas wanted to run Whitney desired to have him do so. This feeling he carried so far as to announce his willingness about two weeks ago to take second place or the ticket, with Douglas at its head.

Mr. Douglas at last came out yester day with a statement which substantially withdrew his name from the lists. Whitney accordingly concluded that the time had come for him to speak and to announce his desire to receive the Democratic nomination. It seems cratic leaders which for some days have appeared in the public prints and other evidences that the party managers wan him to head their ticket.

It will thus be, from present appearances, Whitney against Guild in November, and this means a vigorous fight.

Mr. Whitney last night gave out the following statement:

"After conferring with many business and political friends and reading the statement of ex-Governor Douglas that he does not desire to have his name considered in connection with the governorship. I have decided to announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for that office. While I understand that there is no other announced candidate now in the field, and therefore hope that no contest for the nomination will be necessary, I am in the field to stay

"My candidacy is due to my strong desire to obtain an expression of opinon from the voters of Massachusetts pon the business policies, which can only be, put into effect through political and legislative action, for which I stand. The only way to get a referendum vote of the people upon these quesions seems to be through the candidacy for governor of some business man who stands for them and represents

"I have for years been making the fight for reciprocity with Canada along ousiness lines, and taking this contest, ogether with the issue of a reasonable revision of the tariff, into politics in 1905, I came within 2000 votes of being elected lieutenant governor. I recogme the logical candidate at the nex election in this state, and I announce my candidacy at the present time in order that commercial questions which I believe to be of such vital importance both to the labor and to the capital of Massachusetts and New England may be calmly considered by the people before we are in the heat of the political campaign. I am a business man, not a politician, and I am going into politics now only because that it is the only way to advance the economic and commercial policies which I have so deeply "While I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination, I shall make my appeal to all who believe with me that close commercial relations with Canada and with other countries, by way of reciprocity or otherwise, are of great importance to the future pros perity of this commonwealth. I shall try, as far as possible, to make my canpublic opinion upon these questions. I therefore hope to receive in my campaign the support of all whose ideas are in agreement with mine, of whatever party affiliations.

"I will try to show the wage earners of the state that they are interested bewond all others in the success of the commercial policies for which I stand. If Massachusetts capital is not profitably employed at home it can to some extent be sent elsewhere; labor cannot as easily change its field of employ

"I stand for the expansion of industry and the fuller and more profitable employment of labor here at home. through the removal of the artificial barriers which laws have enacted to confine our growth and hamper our prosperity by depriving us of the natural advantages of our geographical

"If elected governor upon the issues which I represent, and I firmly believe that I will be. I will endeavor to bring to the front the question of closer trade relations with Canada and the enlarge ment of our trade relations elsewhere."

MUCH DAMAGE BY FLOOD

Due to Sudden Melting of Snow and Stripping of Forests

Lancaster, N. H., May 2 .- A recordbreaking flood occurred in the upper valley of the Connecticut river, which caused considerable damage to the river towns and much inconvenience and delay in railroad traffic. The crest of the flood passed here last night, the river at 6 o'clock having remained about stationary for two hours, while reports from towns above here showed the water to be gradually falling.

The cause of the flood was the sudden release of great quantities of snow of Omnibus and Narrowly Escapes in the northern parts of New Hampshire and Vermont, occasioned by un usually warm weather during the past few days. It is believed that the clear ing of the timber in the country north of this place also contributed to the May day would pass off without vio- flood, as there were no forests to hold lence was not realized. But I can't help being a bit homesick. You see, it was really the first time I'd ever been away from home for long, and, though my little place isn't a patch on this, of course, still, I was born there, and I'm jolly fond of it."

His companion nodded, and his dark eyes rested for a moment upon the other's face. Guy Poynton was idly watching the reapers at work in the golden valley below, and he did not catch his friend's expression.

"You are very young, mon cher ami," he said. "As one grows older one demands change-change always of scene and occupation. Now, I, too, am most hideously bored here, although it is my home. For me to live is only possible in Paris-Paris, the beautiful."

Guy looked away from the fields. He resented a little his friend's air of superiority. "There's only a year difference in our ages," he remarked. Henri de Bergillac smiled, this time more expressively than ever, and held out his hands.

"I speak of experience, not years," he said. "You have lived for twenty years in a very delightful spot no doubt, but away from everything which makes life endurable, possible even, for the child of the cities. I have lived for twenty-one years mostly in Paris. Ah, the difference!"

Guy shrugged his shoulders and leaned back in his chair

"Well, he said briefly, "tastes differ. Tve seen quite all I want to of Paris for the rest of my life. Give me a fine June morning in the country and a tramp round the farm, or an early morning start in September walking down the partridges, or a gray day in November, with a good gee underneath, plenty of grass ahead and He possessed all the personal essentials hounds talking. Good God, I wish I were back in England!"

You prefer a thing you call a pipe to my choicest cigarettes, and you have upon your cheeks a color of which a plowboy should be ashamed." Guy laughed good humoredly.

"Well, I can't help being sunburnt!" he declared.

Henri sighed delicately. "Ah, it is not only that," he said. "I wish so much that I could make you understand. You positively cultivate good health-take cold baths and walks and exercises to preserve it."

"Why the dickens shouldn't I?" Henri half closed his eyes. He was a dutiful nephew, but he felt that another month with this clodhopper of an English boy would mean the snapping of his finely strung nerves.

"My friend," he began gently, "we in Paris of the set to which I belong do not consider good health to be a state which makes for intellectual progession. Good health means the triumph of the physical side of man over the nervous. The healthy animal sleeps and eats too much. He does not know the stimulus of pain. His normal con dition is unaspiring-not to say bovine. The first essential therefore of life, according to our tenets, is to get rid of superfluous health."

Provided for In Enlargement of Thomas Crane Library

The contract for building the new wing to the Thomas Crane Public library has been awarded ta Norcross Bros., the contractors who built the original building. Plans for the ame have been perfected and work vill be commenced at once. The new wing will be built on the Spear street side and will be 42 feet vide and have frontage on Spear street of 38 feet. The wing will be constructed of the same material as he original building, the architects being William Martin Aiken of New York who was connected with the gathering of his friends. irm who made the original plans for the library.

The interior finish will also be made o correspond with the present buildng, although there will be a number of changes in the interior arrangenent of the building.

In the basement of the new wing here will be a children's room. Here there will be book stacks sufficient o take care of five thousand volumes There will also be well lighted reading tables and a delivery desk. A new hot air heating apparatus will be installed in the basement.

The changes on the street floor will Buy your MEN'S and CHILDREN'S CLOTHING at a Man's Store e very marked. ### Brown Named as Candidate For Lieutenant Governor

PROVED GOOD VOTE GETTER

Has Backing of the Independence League In Massachusetts--Contest For Second Place on Ticket Prom ises to Be of Unusual Vigor

Boston, May 3 .-- Whitney and Brown will be the Democratic state ticket it the regular organization people have their way. E. Gerry Brown of Brockton, whose nomination as Moran's running mate last year provoked so much adverse comment, including that of many Democrats, proved an astonish ingly good vote getter. Mr. Draper distances him by only 9609, as against Guild's plurality over Moran of more than three times that size. Brown is the favorite of the Independence League, and it is thought that his nomination for second place on the ticket would help keep labor union and other members of the party and its affiliated bodies in line for the ticket.

Of course thousands of men who would vote for Brown for lieutenant governor would not vote for Whitney for the head of the ticket and vice versa But it is a rule of politics that such a combination of opposites promotes the general strength; a good many ardent Whitney men might be led to vote for Brown to reward him for helping toward the success of the ticket, while many Independence Leaguers, otherwise dissatisfied with Whitney's nomination, might be mollified by the nomipation of a representative member of their fellowship for second place. When it is recalled that more than 35,-000 of the votes cast for Moran came under the Independence League designation it may be seen that this is an element of considerable proportions.

If the leaders have their way the Democratic state convention will be a fication in favor of the seller. love feast, with the conservative elaneent finding their wishes met in the gubernatorial candidate and the radicals similarly gratified by the selection for to be lieutenant governor of Massachusetts; he came surprisingly near success last year as a part of a radical combination, and he doubtless thinks that ing wing of the party, he can come still nearer to success.

SPEECH BY THE PRESIDENT

Touches Upon War, Peace, National Pride, the Family, and Qualities That Are Necessary to Make For Brotherhood and Fraternity

Washington, May 3 .- With appropriate civic and military ceremonies and in the presence of a distinguished tion will meet on Sunday in the rooms audience, the heroic equestrian statue Some of those unsuccessful in getting McClellan, erected under the auspices licenses have petitions in circulation of the Army of the Potomac, was unwhich they will forward to the City veiled here. President Roosevelt made the principal speech and witnessed an imposing military parade of regulars and militia. Mrs. McClellan, the general's widow, Mayor McClellan of New York, son of the general, and Dr. George McClellan of New Jersey, a nephew It now takes thirteen pages of the who pulled the string releasing the President Roosevelt, after extending greeting on behalf of the nation to Mrs. McClellan, her son and others, said in part;

"To General McClellan it was given to command in some of the hardest fought so that his name will be forever linked with the mighty memories that arise when we speak of Antietam and South Mountain, Fair Oaks and Malvern; so that we never can speak of the great Army of the Potomac without having rise before us the figure of General Mc Clellan, the man who organized and first led it. There was also given to him the peculiar gift to combine the qualities that won him the enthusiastic love and admiration of the soldiers who fought under him and the qualities that in civil life endeared him peculiarly to all who came in contact with

"We have listened recently to a great deal of talk about peace. It is the duty of all of us to strive for peace, provided that it comes on the right terms. I believe that the man who really does best work for the state in peace is the very man who at need will do well in war. If peace is merely another name for self-indulgence, for sloth, for timidity, for the avoidance of duty, have none of it. Seek the peace that comes to the just man armed, who will dare to demand his rights if the need should arise.

"It is with the nation as it is with the individual. Looking back through history, the nation that we respect is invariably the nation that struggled, the nation that strove toward a high ideal, the nation that recognized in an obstacle something to be overcome and not something to be shirked."

The president said there was one person in this country he put ahead of the soldier-"the really good woman, the good wife and mother who has done her full duty." She often has a pretty hard time, said the president, and he added "Yet the woman who thus with labor and anxiety brings up her children is blessed among women, blessed among men. I do not pity her in the least. I respect and admire her and hold her vorthy of admiration and honor." The president declared that a "foolish good nature, a weak good nature, inapable of righteous wrath, is almost as unfortunate an attribute for a citizen of this democracy as willingness to do wrong on the part of the man himself." "When we speak of liberty, when we praise it, let us try to see that in actual practice we achieve it. When we speak of fraternity, of brotherhood, iet us exercise each for himself the qualities that make for brotherhood for fraternity. When we speak of equality, let us try to realize it in the spirit of Abraham Lincoln, who pointed out that there was a certain sense in which men cannot be equal, but who realized by his life and his deeds the profound truth that in the real, the all-important. sense, there can and must be an equality among all men.

"This equality we of the American republic must seek to secure among our fellow-citizens. It is an equality of rights before the law; a measurable equality of opportunity, so far as we can secure it, for a man to do the best that there is in him without harming his fellows and without hindrance from bis fellows; and, finally and most important, it is that equality which we should prize above all else—the equality of self-respect and of mutual respect among each and all of our citizens."

IF MOTHERS ONLY KNEW

When children are cross, irritable and peevish it does not signify that they have bad tempers; it shows that there is something wrong with the child which it is not able to explain, and which the mother—If She Only Knew—could easily and quickly cure. Mothers, study your child's symptoms; if cross, peevish, nervous, grits the teeth, wets the bed, picks the nose, has variable appetite or bowels, suffers with wind-colic or headache, is irritable and restless, has furred tongue or offensive breath, you may be sure that child is troubled with worms, which cause nearly all the ills of childhood.

Strike Breaker Roughly Handled During a Recess of Court

THE INJUNCTION HEARING

Testimony That Striking Teamsters at Boston Are Resorting to Violence . -- Governor Says Police Understand Responsibility Resting Upon Them

Boston, May 3.-The injunction hearing in the supreme court, brought by the master teamsters against the striking teamsters, had a sensation when Joseph A. Tierney, one of the witnesses at the morning session, who testified that he had been assaulted by a number of strikers, appeared before Judge Loring at the afternoon session, and told the judge that he had suffered a second assault during the recess of the Tierney's head was well bandaged yesterday morning, but when he re- | a tree would die under similar conditions). sumed his testimony in the afternoon ha was a pitiable spectacle. His face was covered with blood, his clothes were torn and his hands were lacerated Judge Loring was so moved by Tierney's appearance that he ordered a recess and went into the lobby to consult with other justices of the court.

When Loring resumed the hearing he stated that none of the witnesses in troduced by the plaintiff need give their testimony, although he had inti mated at the morning session, to the counsel for the strikers, that they might ask the witnesses for the plaintiff regarding their usual place of residence.

When the hearing began 20 witnesses were sworn. Some of them were em ploying teamsters whose men are out Others were strikers and union officials while a third party consisted of strike breakers, whose swollen faces and blackened eyes gave every indication of their rough experiences during the

Joseph J. Feeley appeared as counsel for the master teamsters, while F. W. Mansfield represented the strikers. The hearing was on the petition of the master teamsters for an injunction to restrain the union teamsters from inter fering with the business of the struck

Daniel J. Tobin, business agent of Team Drivers' union No. 25, the organization which ordered the strike, was the first witness called, and in the course of his testimony it developed that the petition for an injunction would affect about 13,000 teamsters in Boston and vicinity, while the union responsible for the strike has only about 4000 members. Only 325 are now on strike, these including 40 who are not fully affiliated with the organization.

Tobin was followed by se representatives of the struck firms. who testified to numerous incidents of molestation and attacks upon their teams. Tierney was also one of the witnesses at the morning session and gave a number of his experiences while driving a team belonging to the petitioners. He was followed by T. J. Sullivan, another of the strike breakers, who stated that he had been assaulted by bricks thrown from the roofs of houses in South Boston.

In a letter to J. J. Feeley, counsel for the master teamsters, Governor Guild states that "a close watch is being kept upon conditions to meet an emergency.' The letter says in part: "Since I received the petition left by you at my office Wednesday afternoon. I have been through the entire situation very carefully with the police commis-

"I find that if the police do not afford sufficient protection as the situation is today it cannot be ascribed to lack of men, especially as there are certain reserves which can be utilized which have not yet been called out.

"The police fully understand the serious responsibility that now rests upon them. I have assured them that they will be thoroughly supported by me in prompt action against all law breakers. regardless of their affiliations. I am in formed that so far, as a matter of actual record rather than of rumor, the arrests are pretty evenly divided between the two contending parties."

Crazed by Loss of Voice Milan, May 3 .- Arcangelo Rossi, the tenor, who was with the Conried Opera company in San Francisco during the earthquake and who as the result of the fright he experienced has not since been well, recently lost his voice. This calamity weighed so deeply on his mind that he went crazy and yesterday he cut out his tongue with a pair of scissors.

He is in a critical condition. Jockey Fell With Mount

New York, May 3 .- Jockey Radtke marrowly escaped being killed at Jamalca when his mount, Ben Cole, fell. The jockey quickly got up and walked to the infield, where he fell. The ambulance carried him to he paddock, bu barring a cut on the shoulder and a severe shaking up, he was pronounced

AND WE CAN

PROVE IT Beautiful Hair At Small Cost.

WITHIN the last decade great and rapid strides have been made in Materia Medica. Many diseases that were considered incurable fifteen years ago are now cured in a few days, and in many cases prevented altogether. The scientists of late years have been delving for the cause, the foundation, the reason and the starting point of disease, fully realizing that the actual and true cause must be ascertained before the remedy can be located. Hair troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp, and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment, and when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all of its nourishment, when he appeared on the witness stand | leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even

The natural and logical thing to do in either case is, feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended

Booms Will Hold Runaway Drives of

Logs Along the Connecticut Woodsville, N. H., May 3.-The spring freshet in the Connecticut river is believed to have reached its highest stage, 33 feet, 9 inches, which is almost 10 feet above the usual gauge and is higher by 3 or 4 feet than any record of the past 10 years.

No damage of consequence has been caused along the banks of either the Connecticut or Ammonusuc rivers in this vicinity and thus far all highway bridges are safe. Drives of many million feet of logs are coming down both the rivers, borne on the crest of the floods, but it is believed that the booms here will be able to hold them and that no damage will result. In the Connecticut river 6,000,000 feet of logs belonging to the Coos company escaped from the boom at Lancaster many miles up the river, and are now on their way down the stream. A boom at McIndoe is relied upon to hold this runaway drive without loss.

Bribery Charge Not Sustained Boston, May 3 .- The jury in the case of Benjamin P. Nichols of Chelsea, harged with attempting to bribe Alderman Warren, rendered a verdict of acquittal. Nichols was immediately discharged by the court. It was harged that Nichols solicited Warren's ifluence in securing the vote of Aldernan Gates for Alderman Hall for city auditor, and told him that there was $50 in it for him if Gates would vote the way he was asked.

Submarine Tests on Ocean's Surface Newport, R. I., May 3 .- In the series of competitive tests for submarine torpedo hoats in progress here the submarin Lake was sent over the trial course on the surface. College Taxation Measure Killed Boston, May 3 .- The lower branch of the legislature killed the bill for the axation of certain property held by colleges and universities, by a vote of 142 to 14.

Washington Can Only Look On Washington, May 3.-The strained relations between Mexico and Guatemala, arising from the failure of the latter to surrender under extradition proeedings for trial in Mexico General Lima, charged with complicity in the asassination of ex-President Barrillas, is matter of serious concern to the officials here. Nothing can be done now by this government, however, to reieve the friction between Mexico and Guatemala.

More Pay For Steamship Officers New York, May 3 .- The officers of he coastwise steamships have won their fight for higher wages. The Conolidated Steamship company made erms with the men last night. The only lines that have not conceded the demands are the Atlantic Coast Lumber company, the Guffey Oil company and the Standard Oil company. These companies are expected to follow the example of the others.

Watch Dealer Presented Timepiece to Roosevelt

BOUGHT ABROAD FOR $7.98

Although Made In This Country It Mould Cost an American Dealer $10.58-- Department of Justice Requested to Investigate the "Trust"

Washington, May 4.-Charles A. Meene, president of the Independent Watch Dealers' association, had a conference yesterday with Assistant Attormey General Purdy of the department of justice concerning an investigation which the department is making into the methods of the so-called watch

Mr. Keene presented to Purdy, he said afterward to newspaper men, con siderable evidence concerning the opera Clons of the alleged watch trust. While he declined to enter into particulars respecting the conference, it is known he asserted that American made watches could be purchased in various Euro mean countries for much less than they could be bought in this country, and that the alleged watch trust sold watches to foreign dealers at a much Sower price than they quoted to Amer dean dealers. He exhibited American watches which he had purchased abroad for less than he could buy them

Mr. Keene also called at the White House and offered to President Roose welt a watch with an American move ment and American case which he had day. purchased in England from a dealer who had paid the alleged watch trust $7.98 for it. The watch, he said, would cost an American dealer $10.58. The watch was engraved as having been presented to President Roosevelt "as a demonstration of the methods of the American watch trust." The president declined to accept the gift. Later in the day Keene sent the watch to the president with a letter, urging him to accept it and saying:

"You will find engraved on this watch, in as few words as possible, indisputable evidence of the watch trust methods, which show serious discrimination against the American dealer in favor of the foreigner.

In a letter which Keene left with the president when he offered to him the watch, he said that he purchased Amerlean watches in Europe in substantial quantities and "brought them back to New York to undersell the market. Because of this, the trust is trying to stop any supply in Europe, in a way that I think is a direct violation of the Sherman anti trust act.

"I have forwarded several documents to the department of justice and trust you will see that the matter is thoroughly a vestingated. I sail for London the 21st of the month, where I shall vigorously prosecute the watch trust through the British Board of Trade. I think I have sufficient evidence to convict the trust criminally for conspiring with English dealers to prohibit my agents from executing my orders for the purchase of American watches in the English market."

Breland Opens Great Exhibition

Dublin, May 4.-The Irish interna fiesdal exhibition, which opened here today, is an event of far-reaching interest to Ireland, as it is designed to revive the drooping interests of the country and at the same time present a picture of Irish development and progress. A guarantee fund of nearly $1. 000,000 has been raised and an exposition eclipsing anything previously attempted in Ireland is open. Comparatively few foreign nations have become interested in the enterprise, but the principal colonies have sent fine ex-

HIGHER WAGES IN MILLS

Manufacturers and Textile Council Agree Upon a Wage Scale

Fall River, Mass., May 4.-Representatives of the Fall River cotto; manufacturers and of the Textile Couneil, at a conference yesterday afternoon agreed upon a new scale of wages to be in force for six months. The terms of the agreement will not be made public until it has been acted upon by the various unions, which must ratify it in order to make it effective. It is generally believed that it provides for a substantial increase in the wages of the operatives.

It has been the general opinion for some time past that the manufacturers were contemplating the adoption of a higher wage scale, and those familiar with market conditions have expressed the belief that the increase would be either 71/2 percent or 10 percent. As the understanding has been that the operatives believe that they should have 10 percent added to their present wages, it is generally thought that the fact that the Textile Council has agreed to a new scale probably indicates that this percentage of increase will be granted. There appears to be little doubt that the unions will ratify the agreement, and manufacturers, operatives and the general public feel happy in the prospect that the city will have at least six months of industrial peace and prosperity.

Testimony In Teamsters' Hearing Boston, May 4 .- That the attacks of strikebreakers are not incited by the unions, that the unions have warned their members against acts of violence and that the names of the parties who have assaulted strikebreakers are unknown to union officials, was the weight of evidence presented before Judge Loring yesterday in the hearing of the master teamsters for an injunction to restrain union teamsters from interference with the strikebreakers. "And now, ladies and gentlemen, we have this fine old piece of black walnut. Must have cost at least $75 fifty years ago. Just observe the hand carving, will you? Every one of those bunches of acorns is hand carved. Mirror real French bevel. See that initial hand carved right into the wood on top? That capital K stands for Kittredge, and this here bureau is part of the original black walnut, marble topped bedroom suit that old Grandpa Kittredge bought in Boston fifty-two years ago. Ain't that so, Mrs. Kittredge?"

Standing near the veranda steps was Grandma Kittredge, slender, erect and dignified in her mourning. Her sweet old face was tear stained, but courageous, as she watched her precious furniture go under the hammer, piece by piece. It was hard, nobody knew how hard, but they were all kind to her, and even old Billy Masters, the auctioneer, was making it just as easy for her as he could, and, standing next to her, one arm around her waist and the other hand holding hers in a close clasp of loving comfort, was Kitty-Kitty, for whose sake the old home and all it held were being sold.

With that soft, young hand holding hers the strength came back to her as she remembered what it meant for Kitty's sake each time one of the old dear things was sold, and now, even when the first piece of her wedding suit was put up, she smiled bravely, closed her eyes to force back the tears and answered:

"That is so, Billy." They had bought it on their wedding trip-the black walnut "set," as she called it. It had been made to order in Boston, and she remembered how proud she had been of even the initial on each headpiece, the initial that she had taken for her own through life only a few weeks before.

Marble tops! And today old Billy was telling her neighbors to bid up. that even the marble tops were worth buying for gravestones; real, good, flawless marble was getting so scarce. The tears forced their way through her lashes this time, and Kitty junior, seeing them fall on the hand she held. raised it to her lips and kissed them

"Don't cry, grandma," she whispered. 'I'll win it all back for you, dearest.

Don't you cry.

Then while Billy's voice sounded far off she closed her eyes to shut out his figure standing on one of her dining room chairs, shut out the scattered crowd of old neighbors and strangers that spread out over the lawn in front of the big colonial Kittredge homestead and reasoned it all out with herself again-how it must be for Kitty's sake, Kitty the Third, as they had called her when Kitty the Second had laughed and cried the first time her baby daughter was laid in her arms by Kitty the First. And today Kitty the First was only poor old Grandma Kittredge, and Kitty the Second lay up under the pines in the judge's family lot on the hillside next to the judge himself, and only little seventeen-year-old Kitty was left. It was right that the girl should have the full benefit from the old place, Grandma Kittredge told herself over and over again. She, too would be sleeping up under the pines before long, and then only little Kitty the Third would be left, and what good would all the old fashioned furniture be to her? Dudley liked new things. and they were going to live in New York after they were married. She capes its dissolving action. Consehad heard him telling Kitty how artistically and effectively he would furnish up an apartment for her, "all in mission style.

Grandma Kittredge had wondered vaguely what the mission style was, but she said nothing. It was perfectly natural for Kitty to want her own things, just as that other Kitty years ago had wanted to go up to Boston and have the joy of buying her own things for the home wonderful. Of course Kitty the Third couldn't understand how she loved each piece of furniture. She was too young. How could she the memory of the little baby garments that had been tucked away in its drawers years and years ago, of the dear old solid mirror that had reflected the face of that other bride from Boston and beside her, bending over her shoulder, the laughing, merry, tender eyed Tom Kittredge? Fiftytwo years ago it was, but how could Kitty understand? But it was for the best-surely it was all for the best-Grandma Kittredge kept telling hergo to New York to live, and she was to go too. They were very, very kind to her. She could not stay in the old house all alone, and, then, there was no money to keep it up with.

Money? She had hardly ever bothered about the word until the judge had died. There had always been plenty of money. She had never even asked how much or what was left. even build their nests in flowerpots, on The judge was the judge-that was chairs, in bags and tins, old kettles big white colonial mansion upon the perhaps the most remarkable place of hill before him, and even the new trol- all where a robin built its nest was in ley line that cut across the front lawn or on a cow's tail. the old home and the land it stood on. She had tried so hard to reason it out for hers. It was not like Tom to let things go along like that and never tell her. And they had always had plenty. Kitty had gone to college with the other girls. There had never a word been said of money

"Going, going, gone-to Miss Podmore for five." Billy's voice broke in on her reverie. "Better take that glass right off, Miss Podmore, and the marble, too, so as it won't get smashed. Dick, here, will help you. And you might as well bid up on the rest of the set. It's a shame to break it."

"Land, I don't want the heavy old stuff!" exclaimed Sue Podmore, staring blankly at the big old Lureau. "My ceiling's too low for that top piece, and it's so heavy to lug around. I only bid up five because it did seem such a pity. I felt as if we were fairly insulting the old thing cheapening it so. But I don't want it."

Didn't want it when it was worth its weight in gold to her! Grandma Kittredge crossed over to where Dick Lane was trying to take the screws out of the mirror, the screws that had not been loosened for fifty-two years and came out hard

"It's fearful hefty, Mis' Kittredge," he said, tipping it up against a tree to get at the back better, and then something happened-something so amazing that it stopped the whole Kittredge auction, for as Dick's hands pulled on the hand carved, acorn trimmed bottom piece along the side it gave way in his grasp and fell out, and there in the bright sunshine lay exposed Judge Kittredge's private home bank.

"Of course, grandma, you'll do just as you please," Kitty the Third said after every one had gone and Billy and Dick had carried all the precious unsold things back to their places in the house, "but Dudley and I would love to have you live with us in town."

Grandma Kittredge smiled happily to herself and swayed gently back and forth in her little low sewing rocker that Miss Podmore had kept her eye on ever since the sale had begun.

"Well, it's real sweet of you to say so, dearle," she answered, "and I know you both mean it, but as long as there's the means to keep it with-how much did Dudley say your grandpa had put in that drawer-twelve thousand and some odd? Well, I kind of think that I'll stay right here. You can come out to visit me often, and there may be others to consider, you know.'

"Others?" said Kitty the Third inquiringly. "Others, grandma?"

"There may be Kitty the Fourth some day, dear heart, who would love the old place and even the furniture some day, dearie, when you are old, too, and I am up with grandpa on the hill, and black walnut furniture has come in style again."

And while she folded her arms about the girlish figure kneeling beside her the sweet old face was full of a half merry, quizzical tenderness as she added, "Some day when mission style's gone out of date, dearie, so we'll keep every dear old piece that came from

Salt and Fresh Water Lakes.

Fresh water lakes are always only expansions of rivers, due to the particular topographical configuration of a valley. They are all characterized by the fact that the water that they receive runs out either continuously or intermittently and that the chemical constitution of their water remains constantly the same as that of the streams and rivers of the same region. Salt lakes, on the other hand, are always closed basins, without outlet, and their water is removed only by surface evaporation. These facts being well understood, we see at once why the former lakes contain fresh water and the others salt water. Water is nature's great solvent. Hardly a single substance, simple or compound, esquently the water that flows over the earth's surface or in its depths contains constantly in solution substances that finally accumulate in the great common reservoir, the ocean, whose mass, removed only by evaporation, becomes more and more charged with saline matter.-Paris Cosmos.

An Old Virginia Law.

A law passed by the grand assembly, held at James City, Va., in March. 1662, was designed for the purpose of trying to prevent women from talking to excess. The law read: "Whereas feel sad over the old bureau without many babbling women slander and scandalize their neighbors, for which their poor husbands are often involved in chargeable and vexatious suits and cast in great damages, be it therefore enacted that in actions of slander, occasioned by the wife, after judgment passed for the damages, the woman shall be punished by ducking; and if the slander be so enormous as to be adjudged at greater damages than 500 pounds of tobacco, then the woman to suffer a ducking for each 500 pounds self, for the young people wanted to of tobacco adjudged against the husband, if he refuses to pay the tobacco."

"It seems odd, I suppose, that I didn't," Guy answered, "but do you know there was an air of secrecy about the whole thing which rather frightened me. And those soldiers had exactly "You have it here?" the air of looking for somebody to shoot. Anyhow, while I was hesitating what to do there was a whistle and another train came from the opposite direction. Then, of course, I waited to see what was going to happen."

"And you saw?" the duke began. "I saw another single carriage arrive, more men in long cloaks and more soldiers. There was a brief but hearty greeting between two men who seemed to be the principals in this little pantomime. Then they both got into the train which had arrived first, and I could see them sitting at a table talking, and a third man, who seemed to be a sort of secretary, was writing all the time. In about half an hour they both stepped back on to the line, and every one commenced shaking hands and saying goodby. Then the whole thing seemed to melt away. The trains went on, the soldiers climbed into a truck attached to one of them, and everything was just as quiet as before."

"And afterward?" "I waited until it was clear daylight, and then I resumed my walk along the line. Discrimination in favor or shipments of cotton goods from New England points to the Pacific coast and the Orient is charged in a complaint filed with the Department of Justice by the Inerstate Commerce commission. The case was brought before the interstate commission recently by a number of Southern interests, among them being the Enterprise Manufacturing Company and the China ad Japan Trading Co. The complaint is levled against the Georgia Railroad Co., and a number of allied lines, the point being made that charges on cotton goods from Southern points of manufacture are such that successful competition cannot be maintained with New England. Accompanying the papers in the case is a report from the Interstate Commerce Commission declaring that its investigation disclosed "a community of interests" which gave the Hill and Harriman steamship Moving Pictures, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesand railroad lines absolute supremacy in rates and adjustments. It is believed that the inquiry will result in a suit that will be second in importance only to the Standard Oil Digation.

Making a maximum speed of 11.6 knots and a mean or average of a fraction better than 11 knots in surface running, or, according to the terms of the specification, in light or cruising trial the submarine boat Octopus of the Electric Boat Company exceed any claims that have ever been made for her by her owners or builders in the comparative tests of submarine boats in Narragansett of Friday to the Boston Herald which eports the trial as follows:

The conditions were, however, all that could have been asked for and somewhat better than Thursday when the Lake, the competitor of the Ocopus, made a maximum of 9.18 knots and mean of 8.6 knots.

In this condition, however, though the specifications limit the part of the boat that should be in view as only half the conning tower, the Octopus when running at top speed showed all her tower and some of her superstructure forward above the surface. THE TRIAL BOARD, of which Capt. Adolph Marix is president, was early astir in the morning, and by nine o'clock the activity of preparation was clearly apparent about the competing submarines at the torpedo station. A half-hour later most of the board went aboard the Nina, which put off on the course. On the Nina there was also Capt. C. D. Wallace, representing the Lake Submarines Boat Company. On the Octopus were Naval Constructor D. W. Taylor and Lieut. W. S. Smith of the board, and on the Hist, which was the was Lieut. Timmons ever seen in the bay. Her bow waves curved gracefully away from her, and she appeared to be making very little disturbance in the water when doing her best. Nearing the finish, she seemed to be making a remarkable record, and when she had crossed the line it was found that she had made the mile in 5 minutes and 20 seconds, or at a rate of 11.26 knots, though this was not her best.

Turning back on the course the Octopus encountered a tide running in, abates. but the wind was with her, though that had but little effect upon a submarine, as there is but little of one exposed to it. The run down was made in 5 minutes and 40 seconds, at rate of 10.60 knots, and then the Octopus turned for what was her last fect for the boat and the best that was in her was brought out. Indeed when she had finished and her speed had been checked up it was found that she had made the mile in minutes and 11 seconds, which was a rate of speed of 11.6 knots. Both down and up the course, or against and with the tide, the Octopus had made a rate of 10.78 knots and her mean for the three runs at maximum speed, as required by the specifications, was a fraction over 11 knots. SPEED CURVE.

Six more surface runs were made at greatly reduced speed to enable of the Octopus, and then the board took lunch, while the submarine was trimmed down for her semi-submerged runs, with all in readiness for diving instantly

It is the theory about submarine warfare that a boat when about to make an attack should run out into the open in the awash condition and dive at once upon observing the enemy. Running awash she can make good speed and be prepared to dive entirely out of sight at an instant's than it had been on the surface. The mile was made in 5 minutes 26 seconds which was a rate of speed of 11.05 knots. Up the course the Octopus encountered a strong tide, but she was able to make the mile in 6 minutes 41 seconds, the rate in knots being 8.97. The round trip, both with wind and against the tide, was made at a rate of just about 10 knots.

The Ostopus had a strong tide in her first run awash, which was down the course. Only her electric motors were used and her speed under the conditions was perhaps MORE SURPRISING

Down the course again with the tide the Octopus made the run in 5 minutes and 29 seconds, a rate of 10.94 knots. The mean of the three runs that she was required to make wash at maximum speed was 9.98 knots. Six more runs were made for standardization purposes and at the end of the last one, when going at the rate of a little more than six knots, the Octopus drove instantly 20 feet without any fuss whatever. Marine Constructor L. W. Separ directed operations on the Octopus.

EXCEEDED CLAIMS. The performance of the Octopus gave general surprise. Her owners had claimed only 10.5 knots for her in cruising trial. Capt. Simon Lake, the inventor, and the attaches of the Lake were among the first to give their competitor credit for her record. Capt. Lake is, however, greatly pleased with the performance of his own boat on Thursday.

He has never claimed great speed for her, but is relying on other advantages and faculties which attracted attention. The speed the Lake made exceeded what her inventor had advised the trial board that she would make.

Today the Lake will be put through her speed trials in awash and submerged condition.

The Making of a Successful Husband

By CASPAR S. YOST.

Do Not Fail to Be Courteous at Home, Always Realizing That It Is More Judicious to Be Polite to Your Own Wife Than to Your Neighbor's. Jo Jo Jo

Y DEAR JOHN-Do you remember Colonel Hosea Perkins, who used to live just around the corner from us on William street? Of course you do. Nobody could forget that stately figure and that ceremonious bow with which he punctuated every greeting. Old Perthat he's doffing his crown every two minutes-that is, if he's gone to a place where crowns are supposed to be a necessary article of wearing apparel. He was the most painfully polite man I ever saw. His genufications and I'll bet a horse he's doffing his crown every two minutes.

"beg pardons" used to get on my nerves until I could hardly refrain from a protest. He wouldn't wear his hat in the presence of ladies, and I've seen him standing on a street corner bareheaded in the broiling sun for an hour at a time while he talked with a female acquaintance.

I am reminded of Perkins by some actions of yours that I noticed while you and Anna May were visiting us last week. That old hypocrite was the embodiment of exaggerated courtesy to every one he met, with the single exception of his wife. Unless he had company he would drop his manners on his front porch and on the other side of his threshold become the most disagreeable reprobate that ever wore a long suffering woman to the grave.

I don't mean to intimate, my boy that there is any resemblance between you and old Perkins, but I saw when you were here that you were already beginning to follow the general tend ency of persons who wear trousers and forgetting at home some of the amenities you would never overlook outside It's so easy to do. We are all naturally savages, prone to drop the social graces whenever we think nobody's looking and our families are supposed to kindly shut their eyes. Yet the little cere monies and verbal expressions which constitute our everyday code of etiquette were designed for the sole purpose of smoothing the rough edges of our intercourse with the world, the flesh and the devil and keep us from flying at one another's throat, as we point-it is certainly worth while to be would like so much to do.

A Potent Force.

Next to the Christian religion politeness is the most potent force in the world today, and it is just as effective in one's own home as it is in the house across the street. Now, without any more beating around the bush, I want to say a few things to you on this subject, and I want to put 'em to you

I wasn't around when you were "set-Yes, you did. I wasn't there, but I know. That little girl you were exceedingly careful about then is your wife now, but in the change she has lost none of her rights. She is just as much entitled to the observance of the forms of courtesy as before-more than then, for as your wife she should hold a higher and more honored place in your life than as your sweetheart. Yet I noticed last week that you did not lift your hat when you met her downtown. I noticed that you allowed her to pick her own way along the street, to step up to the curbstone without any effort of assistance from you. I noticed in private as well as in public. He was when we dined at the hotel that you a rustic Bayard, but his chivalry was left her to grope through the mysteries as pure and true as that of any broadof the menu unaided, while you con- cloth attired city man. No, my son, templated the most desirable dishes for genuine courtesy is not a matter of the satisfaction of your own precious dress or of ceremony, and in practic-

It was a frisky critter, as all colts are, but father was very proud of it and delighted in showing it to visitors. As a rule, when he wanted to exhibit the colt it was in the pasture, and one of the most vivid recollections of my boyhood days is that dignified old gentle man chasing that dern fool colt over ten acre field. He would trot along and appeal to the colt in tones of strained honey. He would pretend to offer a regular cornucopia of things that horses are supposed to sigh for. The colt would coyly wait until he was almost within reach; then, with a sniff of disdain, it would raise its tail straight up in the air and gailop to the other side of the pasture. Finally the little beast would allow itself to be caught, just like a woman, and once he had his hands on him the old gentleman would let loose a flood of unprofane cuss words that would shuck the corn in the barn. "Contaminate your measly hide," he would shout, "I feel like breaking every bone in your onregenerate carcass!" But he never did. My kins is dead now, but I'll bet a horse parent was a humane man, and, besides, the colt was valuable.

Before and After.

That's just the way with a great many men after they marry. They will pursue a woman with sorghum eloquence, write sonnets on the classic outlines of her snub nose, crawl on their knees before her like the devotees of a heathen goddess' and after they get her treat her like a convict or lose interest in her and let her get along the best way she can. And some of these fellows really love their wives too. They simply think that the pretty words and gentle courtesies of courtship are features of the chase and are superfluous and foolish after the capture. They seem to forget that getting a wife is one thing and keeping her is another, as the records of the divorce courts show, but the same processes are effective in both.

But, you say, a man can't always be on his best behavior; he can't always sit around his own house in full dress; he can't make daily use of the stilted ceremonies of polite society in his home life. There you are wrong and you are right. If there is any place on earth that a man should be on his best behavior, it by that that he should put in practice all the purely artificial forms of social

Would raise its tail up etiquette. Heaven forbid! No one detests meaningless ceremony that spring from the heart, that are the outward manifestations of a desire gentleman they are as natural as the Everything that is tender and solic with his breath. It is a pity that so that these things are of no avail, befew of us are true gentlemen. Most of us are selfish to the bone, and genuine courtesy is an evidence of forgetfulness of self, a virtue which we have to gentleman at all-and I never heard anybody express any doubts on that a gentleman at home. The good opinion of your wife is of more importance to you than the opinions of all the rest of the people of the world put together. Yet you would fail to show to her the courtesy which you would bestow upon another as a matter of course and feel ashamed if you were remiss in the least particular.

Cultivate Home Etiquette.

No, you can't do a better thing than to treat your wife at least as well as you do your neighbor's. She will appreciate it. I can say that with emphasis, for nothing hurts a woman more than the apparent loss of that fine consideration which distinguishes the wooing days. No matter if she does feel sure of your love, no matter if you prove your affection in numberless other ways, she who has reigned as queen is never fully satisfied with less than the honors due to royalty. And it is so easy to gratify her. It is straight. When you have read this let- only necessary to keep in mind all the ter once, read it over again and get time that your wife is a woman and it stuck into your head so it won't slip that good breeding works as well in a smoking jacket as in a dress suit.

It is greatly missed when it is absent. It should be unnoticeable when it is present. That is the brand to use in the home as well as outside of it. A Luxurious Conscript.

A wealthy factory owner of Chauxde-Fonds, Switzerland, who succeeded in evading the rigor of his service as a conscript by much hospitality toward his officers, has been sentenced to two days' confinement to barracks and ordered to begin military service over again. When ordered to report himself he arrived at the barracks at Colombier in a motor car, accompanied by his valet. At a fabulous price he se cured a private room there, which he furnished luxuriously and stocked with the best wines and cigars. Eventually he was permitted to live out of barracks and engaged a flat in the best hotel, where he entertained his officers liberally and took them for rides in his motor car. By shamming illness he avoided all drill and the ordinary duties of a soldier.

Assault on American May Have Serious Consequences

PROMPT ACTION BY FULLAM

Honduran and Nicaraguan Authorities Must Make Reparation and Punish Perpetrators of Outrage-Trouble Started by Drunken Soldier

Puerto Cortez, May 4 .- A negro of Boyce Station, La., named General Davis, a fruit inspector for the Tracker Bros, steamship line, was near the railroad station at La Laguna, talking with other negroes, also Americans, A drunken Nicaraguan soldier, without any provocation, demanded to know what they were talking about. Davis answered that it was none of his busiiess, whereupon the Nicaraguan drew is machete and slashed Davis with it Davis finally seized the weapon from he man, threw it away and went to a ouse nearby.

A companion of the soldier ran to a police station and a squad of policemen and Nicaraguan soldiers surrounded he house and dragged Davis out and arried him towards the cuartel. Davis asked the squad why they did ot arrest the Nicaraguan. In reply he party beat him brutally over the lead and body until he was unconscious

The soldiers and policemen carried im to the cuartel with blood flowing rom his rose, mouth and ears. Be leving that he was dying, they carried him back to where they had knocked aim down and threw him on the ground. Davis' companions asked the soldiers to permit them to carry him out of the sun until medical assistance arrived. but they were cursed and told to let him lie th re. Physicians found him ruised and still unconscious

Within 10 minutes bluejackets of the Marietta, under Ensign Rorsach, were on the spot. Commander Fullam's orders were: "Arrest the chief of police and the policemen engaged in the assault, put them in irons and send them aboard ship. Arrest the Nicaraguan of ficers and men engaged in the assault and hold them for orders."

Men were landed from the Paducah to occupy La Laguna and men were also landed from the Marietta. The Padicah moved to a position fronting the Nicaraguan cuartels, while the Marierra covered the cuartels in the port.

Captain Fuliam of the Marietta, findng that the civil authorities were inapable of maintaining order, that the government of Tegucigalpa was a mere provisional agreement of certain leaders Estrada, commanding the Nicaraguan orces, who had in the meantime reurned from an outing.

The Nicaraguan officers and men artested were delivered by Fullam's order to Estrada, who was advised that they would be held responsible. Notice was also served on the Honduran and local currency per bunch when pro Nicaraguan authorities that reparation would be demanded and punishment must be inflicted on all of the perpetrators of the outrage. Commander Fullam says that if Davis iles the perpetrators will be tried for murder, presumably by court martial, and the guilty ones will be hanged. The and Truxillo, but will now remain here for the present. Commander Fullam has placed Capland forces, and he is conducting a vigprous investigation of all the details of the Davis affair. Davis is not an ofheer. His name is General.

Waiting to Hear From Fullam Washington, May 4 .- Acting Secretary Newberry says that the navy department has received no advices regarding the alleged assault on General Davis by Nicaraguan soldiers at Puerto Cortez. A cable message was received from Commander Fullam of the gunboat Marie'ta, but the navy department officials were unable to decipher the nessage and requested that it be recated. No response has been received, and if Commander Fullam has assumed charge of affairs at Puerto Cortez it is not known here.

CITRIC ACID.

The Way the Secret of its Manufacture Was Stolen.

The proprietor of an old chemist's shop, close by Temple Bar, in days gone by enjoyed the monopoly of making eltric acid. More favorably circumstanced than other secret manufacturers, his was a process that required no assistance. He employed no workmen. Experts came to sample and assort and bottle his products, but they never entered the laboratory. The mystic operations by which he grew rich were confined to himself. One day, having locked the doors and drawn the window blinds as usual, sure of the safety of his secret, the chemist went home to his dinner. A chimney sweep, or a boy disguised as such, wide awake in chemistry, was on the watch and followed the secret keeper to Charing Cross, and, sure that he would not return that day, the sooty philosopher hied rapidly back to Temple Bar, ascended the low building, dropped down the flue, saw all he wanted to and returned, carrying with him the mystery of making citric acid, The monopoly of the inventor was gone a few months after, and the price was reduced by four-fifths. The poor man was heartbroken and died shortly afterward, ignorant of the trick by which he had been victimized.-London Spare Moments

THE LOG JAM.

Quick and Sure Must Be the Workers When It Goes Out.

Log jams are not an abnormal part of the riverman's work, as most people suppose, but a regular incident of the day's business. In the breaking of them the jam crew must be quick and sure. I know of no finer sight than the going out of a tall jam. The men pry, heave and tug sometimes for hours. Then all at once the apparently solid surface begins to creak and settle. The men zigzag rapidly to shore. A crash and spout of waters mark where the first tier is already toppling into the current. The front melts like sugar. A vast, formidable movement agitates the brown tangle as far as you can see, and then with another sudden and mighty crash the whole river bursts into a torrent of motion.

If everything has gone well, the men are all safe ashore, leaning on their peavies, but ready at any instant to hasten out for the purpose of discouraging by quick, hard work and tendency to plug on the part of the moving timbers. I have seen men out of bravado jump from the breast of a jamjust as it was breaking down to a floating log ahead, thus to be carried in the sweep and rush far down the river. A ward White in Outing Magazine.

No Wonder the Son Was Surprised. A melodrama was some years since played in a certain theater, the chief actor in which had made himself, from his overbearing conduct, disliked by one and all. In the last scene he was supposed to visit the tombs of his ancestors. In the center of the stage, upon a marble pedestal, stood the stat-per covered the figure. Enter Albert. "Once again," he says, "let me gaze upon those features which in life so often beamed with tenderest now comes to pay thee reverence. Let me remove the veil which from vulgar gaze shields the image of a once dear parent."

The drapery fell aside, and, behold, the father stood upon his head! The effect cannot be described. It was electric. The shouts of laughter which Washington, May 4 .- A. R. Lamb, followed effectively put an end to the who has resigned as chief of police at scene, which changed to the next as Guatemala City, is a former Washing- quickly as possible amid the bravos of ton policeman. A Painter's Odd Ways.

Alfred Hunt was at the same time both a very slow and a fastidiously punctilious sketcher from nature, a combination which is said to have hastened his end, for he had a block for every hour of the day and every condition of weather, and, overladen with these, he would often trudge a lengthy distance to his work. He would then start, say, on an incomplete morning effect in sunshine, to be cast aside for a similar subject in shadow if the one directly that hour was reached. It carried as many as a dozen varieties Valuable Conch Shell.

There are evidently a number of mysterious properties about the conch shell in its relation to Indian religious rites and ceremonies that require investigation. For instance, a conch with Its spirals twisting to the right instead of to the left is supposed to be worth its weight in gold. Some years ago a conch of that description was offered for sale in Calcutta with a reserve price of a lac of rupees placed on it. It was eventually bought in for £4,000. -Allahabad Pioneer.

Her Self Control. "There's one thing I will say," remarked Mr. Millions, "and that is that my daughter, Arabella, has a fine disposition.

"Indeed!" "Yes, sir. The way she can listen for hours to her own playing on the violin shows remarkable self control."

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

KEITH'S THEATRE.

Two popular players who are play ng a limited engagement in vaude ville presenting one of the most de lightful sketches ever written will be among the good things on the Keith theatre bill for next week. The players are Grace Filkins, one of the best actresses on the American stag today, and James Horne, well know conspicuous successes in New Eng-land. "A Proper Impropriety," from the facile pen of Augustus Thomas, is the clever comeditta they are to pre sent. Among the hits made in the early part of the current season none visiting Mrs. Frank Thomas of Billings was more pronounced than that achieved by Tom Edwards, the great English ventriloquist. He has dupli cated that 'hit throughout the country and will now have the credit of being one of the very acts to play a return engagement at Keith's this season.

TREMONT THEATRE.

All the enthusiasts over the musica omedy productions will be wanting o put a little cross opposite the date of Monday, May 6, upon their calen lars for that will be an evening which it will be well to remember. On tha right, "The Time, the Place and the Birl" will come to Boston, and a lot f other girls will come along too, for n Chicago and the other cities of the Vest the production has been noted of the season. Chicago has gone particularly crazy over it. It is a somewhat different" entertainment and affording a combination of musiand comedy in which melody and serious interest are happily blended Therefore, the invasion of the Eas will be awaited with interest, and will be the finest that the play has ever had, the principals and chorus will be under the direction of Ned 4 Savings Bank B Wayburn, who staged the Chicago production. The players will all be oston favorites, and from Arthur Deagon and Georgie Drew Mendun lown all will be found to be especial qualified for making a laughing it of "The Time, the Place and the

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE

The past week having found the Castle Square theatre crowded to the oors at every performance with a public eager to see and hear "Robin Hood," the management has decided o run that opera still another week. Never since the days of "The Bostonians has "Robin Hood" been received with such enthusiasm in Boston, and ts lively music, its witty dialogue and its amusing characters have all combined to make a production of unfailng mirth and pleasure. The famous Gilbert and Sullivan opera "The Gon-23 Faxon avenue. doliers" will be given at the Castle Square during the week of May 12 nd among the other works to be given from week to week are Lohen grin Faust, Carmen, Bohemian Girl Dorothy, Patience and The Mikado.

THE ORPHEUM.

The bill framed up for Percy Wiliams' Orpheum for the week beginning Monday May 6, demands recogni tion as a program of favorites, bo ocal and national. The top liner i Charles Miller who has been the leadng man at the Castle Square in Boston all this season and who previous to that was the leading man at the Bowdoin Square. This clever actor and a supporting company including members of the Castle Square Com pany which has just closed its dramac season will be seen in a sketch called "The Littlest Girl" in which Mr. Miller will be seen to splendid advantage. Another local favorite on he bill is Katherine Nelson, the comdienne, one of the famous Otto family of musicians and players whose home s in Roxbury. Miss Nelson has a deightful act and her appearance on the coming bill will be most enthusistically received. Julian Rose, better known as "Our Hebrew Friend" ocupies a prominent position on the rogram as does Tom Harn, the lazy Heart's delight is that which affects street, Quincy, Mass. the life pleasantly. So it is with that which makes the stomach feel good, in fact, has the happy faculty of making you not know you have a stomach. To a dyspeptic this would be joy indeed, for he, of all mankind, knows he has a stomach, and a disordered one at that. Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets will make that stomach a delight instead of the opposite. They will do for him what they did for this Quincy

MYSTERY IS SOLVED

A WOMAN TERRIBLY SLASHED

Police Arrest Nephew of Her Hus band as Perpetrator of the Crime Whereupon He Takes Poison, Death Resulting In a Short Time

Boston, May 6 .- Through the suicide of Albert L. Smith, a Somerville motorman, just after he was placed under arrest early yesterday, the local police believe that they have the solution of the mystery of the atrocious murder of Mrs. George Smith, the wife of the young man's uncle, at a lodging house on Hancock street, this city. Mrs. Smith's resistance to the young man's advances, which during the past few weeks are said to have been so persistant as to have caused a separation between her and her husband, is thought to have led to the crime.

Mrs. Smith's body was found about noon Saturday lying across the threshold of her room with the jugular vein severed, the breast slashed and the right wrist cut. Under a sofa was found an overcoat with blood on the sleeve and by night the garment had been identified as belonging to young Smith. The police searched all the evening through Somerville for the suspect and about 2 o'clock Sunday morning finally located him at the house of A. L. Littlefield, just over the Medford line. He was very nervous when informed of his arrest, but managed to cbtain a glass of water from Mrs. Littlefield, which he used, it is thought, in taking a dose of corrosive sublimate. A few minutes later, while on the way to the station with the officers, he fell to the ground, became unconscious, and died about 3 o'clock at a nearby hos-

The victim of the murder was about 33 years old. A few days ago, following the separation from her husband, she took a position as housekeeper for Herbert W. Dayton on Hancock street. The Dayton family keep a boarding house and two inmates were in their rooms while Mrs. Smith met her death on the

Two neighbors who happened to be looking out of their back windows toward the rear of the Hancock street house saw the woman open the door. and, with her hand bathed in blood. clutch her throat, apparently trying to cry for help, but no sound was heard. Then she staggered back and closed the door. As quickly as possible word was sent to a police station, but it was a few minutes before an officer appeared. Another delay ensued through the officer's inability to force a way into the house, but finally the door was opened, disclosing a pool of blood on the floor and a disordered kitchen.

It was easy to follow the trail up the stairs to the second floor and there on the floor, with her head on the threshold of the room, lay the body of the unfortunate woman.

The usual procedure of notifying the medical examiner and the experts from the bureau of criminal investigation was followed, but as the Daytons were absent in New York, and Mrs. Smith | flocked to the station to welcome the was somewhat of a stranger to the other persons in the house, it was some time before her family connections were discovered.

During the evening the husband of the woman was found and brought to the station for examination. About the same time the coat which had been found under a sofa in the house where the murder occurred, with Mrs. Smith's 1.ocketbook in the pocket, was identified as belonging to Albert Smith. This identification, together with what George Smith told the police regarding the young man's attentions to his wife started the search for the Somerville

From their investigations of the premises and from the condition of the body and the stains on the walls, the police believe that Mrs. Smith's assailant was behind her when she opened the door and tried to call the neighbors across the back yard. Had help arrived instantly it is possible that Mrs. Smith might not have met her death. But she closed the door and, although no one has been found who witnessed the death scene, it is believed that she was again attacked in the kitchen, her breast slashed, and that the murderer followed her as she fled upstairs and that he dealt the mortal wounds on her throat just as she reached the landing. The staggered a few feet further and then fell and expired. On the kitchen floor was found a bloody razor broken in pieces.

Friends of Smith say that his infatuation for the woman and his intense jealousy of her caused him to commit plete epic poem of 20,000 words. the deed.

Italians Tried to Block Cars Buffalo, May 6 .- An Italian parade attempted to spread its ranks across Main street yesterday and stop street car traffic. A motorman insisted on running his car through the procession and immediately a riot began. After 20 minutes of vicious fighting, during which less than a score of policemen fought hand-to-hand with more than 100 armed Italians, the Italians fled with cut and bruised heads, leaving the worst wounded of their number with the police. One policeman was stabbed, but not seriously. Some citizens who rushed to aid the police were more badly hurt than the police.

The Evil Railroad Rebates

... By ... WILLIAM J. GAYNOR. Justice of the New York Supreme Court.

HE effect of wealth, provided it be acquired on equal terms of competition-that is to say, without the favor, connivance OR DISCRIMINATION of government or the aid of statutes-cannot be pernicious to republican institutions, but, on the contrary, tends to the healthy activity welfare and happiness of the community and hence to the PERPY. TUITY of such institutions.

There is no danger of the confiscation of private property in this country any more than in England. But the acquisition of private property by the dishonest use of public franchises and the aid of cunning statutes is a very different thing. It is more than a menace to our republican institutions. It is fraught with their DESTRUCTION if suffered to continue. The moral odium of it would in the end debase us all, and no debased people can in the nature of things remain a free. self governing people.

It has been difficult to get some people to understand that our railroads are not private roads, but are PUBLIC HIGHWAYS, just as much so as our roads which run alongside of them.

A railroad is not a private monopoly, although we must acknowledge that those in control of our railroads are, in their origin and the very law of their being public highways, subject to the regulation and control of government. Every one may use them on equal terms. Any favoritism in rates is absolutely unlawful AND ALWAYS

IT IS THE GUILTY RAILROAD OFFICIAL, HOWEVER HIGH, AND EVEN THOUGH HE MAY HAVE ARISEN TO A HIGH PLACE IN THE COUNSELS AND GOVERNMENT OF THE NATION, OR IF HE BE ONLY THE LOCAL STATION AGENT IN THE VILLAGE OR THE LONELIEST PLACE, WHO SHOULD BE PROSECUTED.

This favoritism in freight rates is the greatest crime of our day and generation. To allow one man or set of men to have their freight carried over the public highways at a rate so much lower than that which their rivals in business are charged as to enable them to undersell such rivals AND EVEN DRIVE THEM OUT OF BUSINESS is so heartless and so damnable that we shall be looked back upon by our descendants and by the future historian as a generation lost to moral sense for having suffered such a condition to exist so long.

This favoritism in freight rates has been such a DEEP SEATED abuse that it is not to be eradicated in years. Those who are profiting by it-namely, the few who control our railroads, our iron highways, and then principally the great trusts, and lastly politicians and public men who are in their pay-are not to give up easily such a source of wealth and power. It is my belief that the GOVERNMENT should appoint the general freight agent of every railroad, and it may have to do so, for be, through his subordinates, could stop the abuse at once.

THE DUTY OF SUCH OFFICIALS WOULD NOT BE TO FIX RATES, BUT TO SEE THAT EVERY ONE PAID THE PRESCRIBED RATE, NO MORE AND NO LESS.

As to the disadvantages of monogamy which the professor is pleased to point out, it may be true that what he calls ROMANCE wears off, but I do not think that our men of today lose their self interest so far as to seek out other women simply because they yearn for romance. Where such men are found it will be discovered that they are of the LOWEST MORAL TYPE.

"I can drive a racing automobile at eighty miles an hour, and with the foils I can play with you."

"I give you the first," Guy answered, "but I'm beginning to fancy myself a bit with the sticks. Let's have a

"My dear Guy," Henri exclaimed, "forgive me, but what a crude suggestion. The first breeze of the day is just coming up from the lake. Close your eyes as I do. Can't you catch the perfume of the roses and the late lilac? Exquisite. In half an hour you will see a new green in the woods there as the sun drops. This is silent joy. You would exchange it for vulgar movement."

"I don't see anything vulgar about fencing," Guy replied. "It's all right here of course, but I'm getting stiff, and I haven't the appetite of a kitten.

I should like a good hour's bout, a as fit as possible.

"M. le Duc," he announced, "desires to speak with monsieur in the library." Henri let go his friend's arm.

"I return to the terrace, mon ami," he said. "You can fetch me when my respected uncle has finished with you." M. le Duc and M. Grisson were still together. Immediately the door was closed the former turned to Guy.

I am telling you now what is a matter of common knowledge among diplomatists when I tell you that it was the attitude of my country-of Francewhich alone has stayed her hand."

"This is very interesting," Guy said, "even to me, who have never taken any interest in politics, but"-"Wait! Russia, as I say, found us in disposed to back her in any quarrel with England. She turned then, of course, to Germany. We became aware, through our secret service, that some thing was on foot between the two countries. With our utmost vigilance we were unable to obtain any particulars. It is you, M. "It is an affair of the tides," he said. "Your body was washed up this afterhoon, six hours before time. It will be in the evening papers. Ah!"

The telephone rang again. This time it was M. Grisson who was required. He listened for a moment or two with inscrutable countenance; then he glanced at the clock and replied:

"The Russian ambassador," he said, replacing the receiver, "desires an immediate interview with me on a matter of the utmost importance, and the Russian fleet has left the Baltic!"

Why Do Country Boys Flock to Big Cities?

Most small towns are short of young men. As a rule there are plenty of agreeable girls who would not object to matrimony; there are plenty of old people and enough babies to go around. But the boy-oh, where is

The boy, the young man, has gone to the city, where he imagines there are opportunities. To him the old home town is dull and stupid. He sees no future for himself there. Both for social and financial considerations he rushes off to the great city. Very frequently he finds that he is lonesomer there than at home-nearly always so; and even more frequently he finds that riches do not grow on ten story walls.

BUT STILL HE GOES TO THE CITY.

In going there the boy simply follows his daddy's dollars. For years his daddy and his mother and his big sister and his Aunt Mary Ann have been mailing their money to the big city for Mail Order bargains.

> Result: Home merchants don't thrive, grass grows in the streets, no jobs are to be had, no opening for a new business, and the young man goes to the city because it is a place where people have traded at home and built up their own community and provided opportunities for outsiders as well as for themselves.

IF YOU WANT TO KEEP YOUR BOY AT HOME BUILD UP YOUR TOWN SO THAT HE CAN BUILD UP HIS CAREER AMONG HIS HOME FOLKS.

Something Coming In.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

There has been some heated discus sion recently over the question of whether our warships are honestly built in private shipyards. Charles Cramp has come out in a heated defense of the private ship builder, and there are a number of naval officers and others who insist that the govern ment is the only one to build warships

John Paul Jones scraped up his original fleet anywhere. Some were capterpretation of the law a man who Theatre, May 6tb, with the remarkable tured, all were private built, and the most were not even seaworthy. Yet sale can be called a newsdealer. he managed to give a tolerably good account of himself. The Constitution was built in a private vard, and ye she did a few things that people remember. So far as modern ironclads are concerned, here are a number o Spanish naval officers out of a job yet who might testify as to their all round efficiency, and yet one of the most effective vessels in the fight at Santiago was a "lame duck" the old Texas, and built in a government yard at that. Really, we have not much reason to quarrel over American warships, however they are built

Uncle Sam's surplus continues to pile up. The monthly comparative statement of the government receipts and expediures for April shows that $53,260,591 was taken in, while $48,-071,134 was paid out, leaving a surplus for the month of $5,189,457. For the ten months of the present fiscal year, the total surplus reaches the enormus figures of $56,475,751. The receipts from the several sources of revenue during April were heaviest in customs, which increased approximately. $4,000,000 during the thirty clays; internal revenue came next with an increase for the month of $2. 200,000, while in the miscellaneous re ceipts there was an increase of about $2,000,000. The disbursements for the month were only a little over $1-000,000 in excess of those for April of stitution long enough. What is wanted is a bill of sufficient strength in penalty, to stamp this time-honored gamblng institution out. The Logan bill seems well calculated to reach that end, and legislators who really have at heart the abolition of the crime will not endeavor to substitute for the Logan measure any namby pamby legislation that prohibits in name but leaves the institution to do business only in a little less open fashion. ## Unlicensed Victuallers Closed Up By Police

Persons who have not been granted common victualler's license (unless they were newsdealers) were forced to close their places of business on Sunday, as Chief Burrell was after them with a sharp stick. The result was that many places that have heretofore been open every day in the week had to close their doors.

This rule applied to all those who had applications for licenses pending before the City Council as well as to those who have been refused a license.

In other years the police have pernitted those who had applications pending to remain open. This year, nowever, there has been so much said about open Sundays that Chief Burrell decided that the only thing to do was to enforce the law.

Emanuels ice cream parlor in the ost office block opened as usual Sunlay morning, but was soon waited upon by Officer Murray with orders from police headquarters to close up. The equest was immediately complied with, and a sign reading "Forced to close" placed in the window.

During the morning the police telephone was kept busy by parties who had applications pending, requesting permission to keep open, but in every usned down.

In Opposition to Public Opinion

William E. Weeks of Everett, who will speak before the Quincy Board of Trade this evening, in opposition to the Public Opinion bill, is chairman of the Committee on Legal Affairs of the Legislature which reported adversely on the bill. He and Speaker Cole are regarded as the leading opponents of the bill, which is regarded as one of the most important measures before the Legislature this year. The meeting is an open one and will be held at

The Globe says, the debate of the week on the hill will come on Tuesday on the public opinion bill, which is specially assigned for 11 A. M. on that day. Representative Luce of Somerville, house chairman of the committee on election laws, will lead the fight for the measure, while the opposition forces will line up under Representative Walker of Brookline house chairman of the ways and means committee: Garcelon of Newton, who is frankly aggressive in his opposition to the measure, and other strong men in the house

The opponents of the bill will not admit that it is of special importance politically. They claim that outside the Public opinion league, which as the name implies, has but one mission. and the labor unions there is little public sentiment in favor of the measure; and the additional claim is set forth that the granger interests in the not only is there no real public demand for the bill, but that the law, if enacted, would operate to disturb Magazine. business and multiply and confuse the

IN A MARSH POOL

Little Horace Marvin's Body Found by Farmer Pleasaton

HE DIED FROM EXHAUSTION

Clad Exactly as When He Disappeared--Little Fellow Overcome Within Half a Mile of Where He Was Last Seen Alive on March 4

Dover, Del., May 6 .- The body of Horace Marvin, Jr., which was found en Saturday lying in a pool of water less than half a mile from where he was last seen playing on March 4, was Interred yesterday in "Bay Meadow Lawn" on the Marvin farm. All the litthe fellow's playmates and fully 1000 meighbors joined the Marvin family in amourning his death and attended the fumeral services.

Prior to the funeral 24 men, composing Coroner Calloway's jury, officially Sdentified the body and authorized the merforming of an autopsy. The jury was then discharged, to reconvene at The call of the coroner.

There is much to make it appear that The boy for whom detectives searched so long wandered away and fell exhausted into the pool on the marshes where his body was found. Doctors are Erying to determine the cause of death For the coroner, and have decided that the boy did not drown. No marks of wiolence were found on the body. The stomach, which was removed by Dr. Robyn, was empty, and the child may cither have been frozen or starved to death. The condition of the stomach indicates, according to the physicians, that the boy suffered privation for at Least 40 bours prior to death.

Many are of the opinion that the boy wandered around his father's farm and in his efforts to get back home over the frozen marshes became exhausted and Tell into the pool, where he died from exhaustion and privation.

To have reached the spot where the body was found the boy must have walked across frozen and snow-cov ered fields in the face of a driving wind and then climbed two high embankments, besides crawling through a barbed wire fence.

The body was found by Ollie Pleasauton, a farmer. Pleasanton, who lives on a farm adjoining the Marvins, came espon the child's body while out gun ming. The child lay face downward Bu a patch of meadow grass. There was not a mark upon the boy's body Indicating foul play. It was in a good state of preservation, suggesting that it had beer frozen. Pleasanton says he saw the body at a distance of 20 feet. When he came close he found the clothing intact. The child's woolen reefer was buttoned up securely about the body and not an ar ticle of clothing which he had on when he disappeared was missing. His knit cap was pulled over his face and his mittens were on his hands.

Dr. Marvin went on a run to the piace described by Pleasanton and picked up the little form, pulling his cap from the face to make sure that it was his boy. Being satisfied that it was his son, the doctor wrapped the re anains in a sheet and carried him to the house, where he notified the family.

Detectives who have been on the case are inclined to the belief that the boy wandered into the marshes from the farm on the day of his disappearance and, being overcome by the cold. fell exhausted where the body was found.

Pleasaaton, who discovered the body has figured in the case since the time Horace was lost. He reported that he furniture movers will receive an insaw two strange men who inquired about the topography of the country teamsters $1 a week. Fifteen hundred three days before the boy's disappear ance.

The recevery of the body was reported to Governor Lea, who directed state detectives to make a rigid investigation of all the circumstances.

SATISFIES THE OPERATIVES

Sliding Scale Agreement at Fall River Is Certain of Ratification

Fall River, Mass., May 6 .- The new sliding scale agreement for cotton mill operatives, by which it is expected wages will be advanced 10 percent on May 27, was accepted at a meeting of the Text'le Council Saturday night, and it was voted also to call meetings of all the five textile unions in the city for next Wednesday night to take action upon the agreement. That the unions will vote to ratify the agreement is not questioned, as the members of the Textile Council committee which has arranged the plan with the executive committee of the Manufacturers' association are highly gratified with the results they have obtained.

President Tansey of the Textile Council says that he considers the arrangement the fairest one ever proposed be tween the operatives and the manufacturers. The effort of the operatives for years has been to obtain a sliding scale of wages by which the prices paid the operatives should depend upon the manufacturers' margin of profit. Tansey says he considers the present proposition an ideal one for the operatives.

This expression, used playfully and without having any particular meaning, and possibly hardly comporting with the dignity of your body seems to have had, if not a good, at least an unexpected effect, in that it has caused the emaciated corpse of the Kansas Democracy to take on the semblance of life and sit up and take notice.

The belief in miracles is here strengthened by absolute proof, showing that the proper call will restore animation to the dead. If the Angel Gabriel, standing with one foot on land and one on sea, were to blow such a blast from his trumpet tha the mountains should rock to their base the Democratic party would probably sleep on undisturbed, but if he were even to whisper the magic words "set 'em' up,' the grave of this moribund organization would give up its dead, and from the en tire aggregation, headed by the talented and handsome senator from Atchison, would come the answer in swelling chorus, "We will take the same."

Rev. B. of New York is a very popular preacher, and every day many persons visit him at his home in search of religious consolation or of advice The very small daughter of the house is quite observing and much to the surprise of her parents seems to take a great interest in her father's callers. One day when her father was away a noted bishop called to see him on business connected with the church. The little girl answered his ring at the doorbell.

"Is your father in, my little maid?" the great man asked kindly. Two round blue eyes gazed at him solemnly for a few seconds; then she took hold of his hand and in a voice filled with compassion said: "No, father is not in now, but come in, poor dying sinner; mother will pray for

Exact Justice Must Be Done Toward Mover and Haywood

LEGAL RIGHTS SAFEGUARDED

Quotes From Letter Written Over a Year Ago to Attorney General In Relation to the Case-Calls For Evidence Showing Any Misjustice

New York, May 6 .- In a letter read before the Central Federated union, there has been a miscarriage of justice for or against Moyer and Haywood charged with the murder of former Governor Steunenberg of Idaho, he will bring such evidence to the attention of the attorney general for such action. f any, as it may be in the power of the federal authorities to take.

The communication was the formal reply of the president to the committee of the union which recently called upon Mr. Roosevelt in Washington and requested him to set forth in general his attitude toward the accused men, and specifically why he had referred to Moyer and Haywood as "undesirable citizens." The president's letter, dated

May 1, follows: When you, in company with Messrs. Coakley and Brown, called upon me this morning I read you the letter I had written to the attorney general on March 25, 1906. At your request I

In the discussion that followed a moion to accept the committee's report, a delegate charged that the president had evaded the issue. This called forth a response from Delegate Coakley. The atter said that the committee considered the interview satisfactory and that t was "not up to the president to prove that there had been a miscarriage of Justice, but to those defending Moyer and Haywood." After several delegates had been eard it was decided to forward a copy of the letter to counsel for the indicted daho labor leaders and let them submit to President Roosevelt any evidence they might have that there had been a discarriage of justice in the extradion of Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone

Bartlett Wants the Nomination For Governor of Massachusetts
Boston, May 6.—Charles W. Bartlett Governor of Massachusetts was last evening formally declared a candidate for the Democratic nominaon for governor. A statement issued n his behalf by Charles J. Barton of Melrose declared that Bartlett would be a candidate to the end; that he would fight for the nomination, and that a canvass just made in his behalf gave reasonable ground for expecting that he would win the nomination. The statement was called forth by umors that Bartlett's name had simply been used by certain politicians for their own purposes and that he would not really eppose Whitney.

Barton signs himself a "member of the Bartlett committee," intimating that a committee has been formed to manage the Bartlett campaign. In an interview Bartlett declared that Mr. dence is submitted to him showing that Barton nad the proper authority to make such a statement, but refused to tell just who make up the "Bartlett committee." He declared that that would be announced later.

SHAW'S VIEW OF IT.

ury Talks on Public Ownership.

Government Employees Never as Efficient as the Employees of Firms and Corporations-Tenure of Office In the Civil Service Breeds Slipshod Ways.

There are over 20,000 public servants, exclusive of presidential appointees, under the direct supervision of the department at the head of which I had the honor to temporarily preside. They are a good, conscientious, painstaking body of men and women, and yet if the treasury department were a private enterprise every whit as much work could be accomplished with a reduction of one-third in number and maining. This condition is not to be charged to civil service rules and regulations, of which I most heartily approve, but to the inherent nature of public service.

Some years ago while walking through Lincoln park, Chicago, I noticed a group of twenty-five or more men pushing lawn mowers. Stopping to make some inquiry of a policeman I innocently asked why the city did not use mowers drawn by horses. I shall long remember his reply: "I guess you don't live in Chicago, do you? How long do you think the city administration would live if it mowed the park with horses?"

The cornerstone of the city hall in Philadelphia was laid on July 4, 1874, but the building was not completed until the first year of the present cenadvanced to be the scene of an inaucompleted, all save the tower, for which the foundation was found in sufficient, in 1899. In the meantime the two great political parties alternated in control, and I am told in one or more instances four generations performed work on the building.

The appropriation for the public building in Chicago was signed by Grover Cleveland, and about sixty days ago I made final settlement and HAZEL FORSYTHE JENNINGS. signed the draft for the last payment and was then able to answer public criticism because the work had progressed so slowly with record proof that it had been about as expeditiously built as most structures of its character erected by the government.

The Harlem river, extending from the Hudson to the East river, eight miles in length, was dredged by the government to a depth of fifteen feet in seventeen years.

Now note a few instances of private enterprise. In 1904 the Pennsylvania railroad began the construction of twin tunnels through the mud beneath the Hudson river and four tunnels extending thence under the city of New York and beneath the East river to Long Island City, and now at the end of two years feels confident that its fifteen miles of nineteen foot waterproof tunnel will be completed and in use within the contract period of four

John B. McDonald began work on the subways of New York in March. 1900, and had nine miles with double track and stations in operation in four years and seven months. These instances illustrate the natural, the necessary and the inevitable differences between private enterprise and government work and might be multiplied indefinitely.

I do not know that I can explain the reasons why these differences must and always will exist better than to recite a very commonplace experience. I Telephone, Quincy 105-3. received a telegram some days ago from the cashier of a little bank in which I am interested. It read: "I am offered $42.50 an acre for your East Boyer land. What shall I do?" I answered: "You know better than I do. Do as you think best." To this he replied, "I think the land is well sold." These telegrams were not even preserved. But If I had been acting for the government I would have had the land advertised for sale, I would have sent a commission to examine and appraise It, I would have had not less than two subordinate officers of the department go through all the papers and submit their recommendations, I would then have rendered final decision, but I would have been careful to preserve a complete record of everything, lest on some unhappy day after my retirement and perhaps after my demise an investigating committee, appointed perchance by an adverse congress, would make inquiry and, failing to find positive proof of honesty, would make a report filled with suggestions of doubt, and that would be quite enough to brand my name with shame. My subtrdinates took the same precautions and safeguard their reputations with In equal amount of red tape whenever they sell an old horse or wornout piece of furniture.

It is the appropriate function of the government to safeguard the individual and to see that the game of business is fairly played, that the cards are held above the table and that everybody is given a square deal. It is not the appropriate function of the government to sit in the game.

Control Easier Than Operation. The plea for municipal ownership seems logical in communities that appear to be unable to control public utility corporations. But if cities with all their law making and law enforcing power cannot cope with corporations which operate by their sufferance, would they be more able to manage these companies themselves?--Kansas City Star.

Historical Places Around Edinburgh

f Christ church Monday evening. At the business meeting J. H. Stedman, manager of the minstrel show, reported the total amount cleared as $280. A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Stedman and to all who assist ed in making the show a success. The speaker of the evening was Alexander C. Smith. The subject was "Historic places in and around Edinburgh." Mr. Smith opened his very interesting address by giving a number of reasons why American Episcopalians should be interested in Scotland. He sketched the influence of Scotchmen in the colonial period and reminded his hearers that the first oishop of the American Episcopa church was consecrated in Scotland, after having been refused consecration in London. He also described the ommunion service now used in the Epicopal church and showed how most of it came from the Scottish book of orayer rather than from the Engish prayer book.

For two hours, assisted by stere pticon views, Mr. Smith described the various scenes around Edinburgh. His talk was graphic because he was describing that which he had seen many times, and it was lightened by many interesting and

Some Objections to Public Opinion Bill

Arguments against the Public Opin ion bill were heard Monday evening at an open meeting of the Quincy Board of Trade held in Colonial hall. This will be a bonafide Closing-out Sale, and guarantee a saving of The speakers were Representative Weeks of Everett and Representative Patterson of Barnstable.

President T. L. Williams presided and introduced the speakers.

Mr. Weeks said the bill looked harmless and seems to appeal to men, but upon close scrutiny there were several objections that might be raised. One because the Ballot Commissioners were to frame the question to be submitted to the voters; second because the questions may not be clearly stated; third, the vote results in nothing, as the Legislature is not compelled to act as voted; fourth, there was no way to tell how the signatures to petition were obtained. He claimed local and trivial measures could under the bill be submitted to the voters. Also that votes obtained did not represent public opinion, and cited some taken in Boston. Mr. Luce was opposed to the referendum, but I believe in it on certain

The press was a good medium for discussion, but he regretted that the press was perverted. He charged that the editorial columns of a majority of the Metropolitan papers were for sale at a fixed price. As at the time of the coal strike the voters would be swayed to vote unwisely. Inflammatory speeches would also carry through unwise measures submitted to vote under the bill. He claimed no good would be accomplished by the bill. Only a few minutes were allotted o Representative Patterson. He predicted the defeat of the bill in the Legislature this week. He argued the 409-3 Quincy people could not vote understanding. Questions were asked and answered and at the close a vote of thanks was people could not vote understandingly. extended to the speakers.

Owners of Stands Had Ignored Orders of Authorities

PUTS THEM TO GREAT LOSS

Soda Fountains, Signs and Other In cumbrances Protruding Over Certain Space on Main Thoroughfare Are Chopped Away and Carted Off

New York, May 7 .- Armed with axes and guarded by a squad of 25 policemen, a gang of men, directed by Durbin Van Vleck, assistant commissioner of public works of Brooklyn, descended upon Surf avenue, the main thoroughfare of Coney Island, and lopped off every part of any kind of a building, stand or sign which extended beyond the court yard line.

While the indignant owners pro tested, soda fountains were chopped in two, frankfurter stands were torn part, overhanging signs were pulled down, cane-ringing racks and the dozen different catch-penny devices which line the avenue from end to end were piled into trucks and carried away. When the raiding squad had completed its work the avenue looked as though a cyclone had swept through it, tearing away everything nearer than 20 feet to the curb line. At least 20 truckloads of material were hauled off.

The loss to the owners of these tands will be considerable, as many of them paid extremely high rates for the privilege of maintaining their stands within easy reach of the hundreds of thousands of people who patrol Surf avenue during the season.

Borough President Coler issued an order last week that all the incumbrances extending over the court yard line must disappear by May 6, but none of the owners paid any attention to it. When the raiders started to work the owners hurriedly moved their goods out of the way of the raiders and then denounced them. A curious crowd of a thousand on-lookers gathered to watch the proceedings. Although the denunciations were vigorous, there was no

SPANISH PUBLIC EXCITED

Now Said That Royal Baby Will Not Come Until End of May

Madrid, May 7 .- It was semi-offirially announced yesterday that the ac couchement of Queen Victoria may be expected the end of May. This an nouncement was subsequently contralicted by Dr. Guttlerez, the specialist who is in permanent attendance at the palace, who declared that the royal aby should have arrived before this.

There was much surprised comment at the discrepancy in these statements, and careful inquiry was made with the esult that the statement issued the eginning of the year placing the event the latter part of May turns out to be orrect. The incident has caused both ndignation and amusement, and it has evealed that the court physicians who issued a report on April 2 saying the acconchement would probably occur in the latter part of April were in error. The newspapers demand that some one be made to answer for this ridicuous mistake, which has kept the nation on the tip-toe of peedless excitement and entailed many premature prepara tions. They instance the fact that no fewer than 20 bishops have arrived at Madrid within the last 10 days in order to be in readiness for the birth of the heir to the throne of Spain.

occasional flushing; indigestion accompanied by an unnatural appetite at times; foul tongue and offensive breath; itching nose; vomiting; grinding of the teeth during sleep; swelling of the upper lip; hard swelled bowels; griping or colic pains; also convulsions and many other unaccountable nervous symptoms, which, if not checked in time, lead on to something more serious.

TOOK DR. TRUE'S ELIXIR AND GOT WELL SOMERVILLE, ME.

DR. TRUE, DEAR SIR:-'For more than three months one of my children had been troubled with spells of vomiting and symptoms of fever nearly every week, together with canker-sores about the nose and mouth. I obtained, about two weeks ago, two bottles of your Elixir, and before the first bottle was exhausted the sores were entirely healed and no appearance of his vomiting or fever-spells has ever returned. I really believe that the lives of thousands of children suffering from worms or canker might be saved by a timely and judicious use of your Elixir." Yours truly, J. L. HAMMETT.

This is only one of hundreds of such testimonials. This marvelous remedy has been made and sold by Dr. J. F. True & Co. for fifty-six years, and in all that time nothing but words of praise have been bestowed upon it. This is what Mr. Wing thinks of it. AUBURN, ME.

DR. TRUE, DEAR SIR:-"For the past seven years I have constantly kept a supply of your Elixir in my house, and it never failed to give prompt relief. It has been a great blessing to my children, and unsolicited I give you this tribute of gratitude, hoping the merits of your unrivaled family medicine may be widely known and appreciated." Very respectfully yours

CHAS. E. WING. Even though worms may not be found present Dr. True's Elixir tones up the stomach and liver. Read what Dr. J. Haley, of Brunswick, thinks of it:

"It is a safe and effectual remedy. For worms it has no equal, and is an excellent remedy for canker of the mouth and throat." Dr. True's Elixir is sold by druggists everywhere at 35c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle. The booklet, "Children and Their Diseases," will be sent free by simply addressing Dr. J. F. Seek a Bill of Particulars In the Case of Haywood

SAY INDICTMENT IS FAULTY

Claim That Defense Is Entitled to Disclosure of Evidence In Hands of Prosecution--Latter Defends Secrecy In Securing Witnesses

Boise, Ida., May 7 .- Judge Wood on Wednesday, the day before the trial of William Haywood for the murder of Frank Steunenberg, will decide whether Haywood is entitled to receive at the hands of the state a bill of particulars, specifying the overt acts charged against the defendants. The motion of the defense for this disposure of the case in the state was argued at length vesterday, and at the conclusion of the liscussion the court announced that it would make a decision tomorrow. The prisoner was brought into cour for the argument, and of his counsel both Frank Richardson and Clarence Darrow pleaded in his behalf. Senator Borah alone spoke in behalf of the state although D. H. Hawley, his associate, was in the courtroom when the pro ceedings began.

Mr. Richardson, who opened the argument, contended that the indict ment was lacking in particulars; that it eft the defendant in the dark as to th nature of the case to be presented against him and the defendant was enitled to a more specific showing of the ease. He submitted an extended brief citing a great many authorities and recedents in favor of his contention. Mr. Borah, in reply, declared that the lefense was seeking a disclosure of the proof in the hands of the state rather han more perfect pleadings, and asserted that the reports contained no single authority that would support such a contention. Mr. Darrow, who closed the argument, began by saying that it was the urpose of the defense to obtain a disosure of the evidence in the hands of prosecution and asked why the dease was not entitled to such a showng. He made an attack on the atti tude of the prosecution towards its wit nesses and evidence, describing it as mysterious, unfair and unjust. He asserted that the only question involved was one of fairness and justice to the accused; laid stress on the difficulty of procuring testimony from distant points and the danger to the defense of "sur-were as much in the hands of the prose cution as in the keeping of the defense. In answer to Judge Wood, Darrow said that the defense was not ready to to trial, but Richardson in him to make the qualification that the defense was as ready as it ever could be n the circumstances where the case of the state was withheld from it. He said that in all other respects the de-rise" testimony, and passionately as

erted that the rights of the prisoner

Mr. Richardson, responding in brief to the argument of Borah, said that the rounsel for the state made no distinction in his arguments between the overt acts which the state would seek to show against the prisoner and the evidence by which it would seek to show the commission of the alleged overt acts. The defense wished to snow what the overt acts were.

Mr. Borah closed the discussion with a spirited speech, in which he defended secrecy in obtaining witnesses, instancing the loss of two in Colorado Sunday, disayowed a desire for any man's blood unjustly, and avowed the purpose of the state to do its duty.

Modjeska and Barrymore.

Mme, Modjeska once undertook at rehearsal to correct her leading man, Maurice Barrymore, in regard to what she deemed his erroneous conception of certain vocal inflections. He paid no attention to her injunctions.

Angry at his apparent indifference, she said at last: "What do you know about acting? I made you what you are. So I dare you to tell me what is right and what is wrong."

Barrymore swung around and faced Modjeska, pretending to resent her lecture. "You made me!" he cried derisively. "Why, I was an actor before the public when people did not know when they looked at you whether you were a woman or a tooth wash." This had reference to the London billboards, on which Modjeska's name had been interwoven with "snipes" that were used to advertise a tooth

"But, monsieur," she said, "that is wholly impossible. Mademoiselle is too thoroughly upset by the terrible news in the paper this morning. It is unheard of. Monsieur may call again if he is a friend of Mlle. Poynton's-say in a fortnight.'

"Marquise," he said, "it is necessary that I see mademoiselle at once. I am the bearer of good news."

The marquise looked at him steadily "Of good news, monsieur?" "Certainly!"

How to Make Good Tea-Suggestions For Serving It.

To brew a good cup of tea select a olend that is aromatic and not too heavy. It pays to get a good quality of tea, as a little of the best goes enough further than the cheap to make it economy in the end.

The orange pekoe is delightful for the afternoon or evening cup of tea, as also the Chinese dragon's beard, which is the budded tip of the tender branches of the plant bound together in little bundles, says the Pittsburg Press. The colongs from Formosa or Fuchau give a light amber colored infusion pre ferred by most old American families, while those of more recent English or Irish extraction give the preference to the congous, which have a malty heavy flavor.

The teapot may be almost anything but tin, though the preference is given by tea sharps to a baked earthenware pot, unglazed on the inside, a ware known as Nihing. Have the water for the tea freshly boiled, and the soft er the water the better the resultant brew. When the water has just reach ed the boiling point, but not steamed away long enough to have lost its life rinse out the pot with hot water; then put in the tea, allowing half a tea spoonful for each cup of boiling water. If several cups are required, reduce the proportion of tea or increase if the tea is not up to the standard or the drinker prefers it extra strong. Put the tea into a strong strainer or tea ball and pour through it bubbling, boiling water. Cover closely with a tea cozy and let the tea brew on the back of the range or at the table for three or five minutes. If the tea is to stand some time, take out the strainer with the tea leaves, else the fragrant bouquet is dissipated and the tannin extracted. One of the best things to use for a tea strainer is just an ordinary salt bag washed and boiled. Make a hem in the top and slip one of the rings In the top and slip one of the rings were. of the tea. When the tea is poured, pass with it block sugar and slices of lemon, but no cream unless there are old people whose habits are fixed. With the younger generation the practice of takng cream with tea is as extinct as the dodo. A pretty dish of maraschine cherries or a little shredded pineapple Is sometimes passed with the tea when one wishes to be extra festive. The cherries are lifted with little bonbon tongs. Girl's Escape From a Wildeat. When a young girl I spent several years on a ranch in southern Arizona. One day as I was riding through the desert I noticed the sun's brightness gradually becoming obscured by a yellowish haze and the increased force of the wind whirling great clouds of dust everywhere. Dismounting and leading the horse, I discovered we were on the dry bed of a river and partly protected from the fury of the storm. A clump of mesquite on the opposite bank apparently affording a shelter, I decided to avail myself of it. I opened the pouch containing my lunch. The latter was thickly covered with dust, and I threw it into the nearby bushes. Instantly there was a blood curdling scream, and the fiery, glaring eyes of a huge wildcat were watching me. The brute was crouching, working its way in my direction. Just then another hair raising scream brought me to my knees, and there was the brute on its back, gnashing its teeth, with a quivering arrow in its side. Later I found that a party of Indians who had been out rabbit hunting heard the cat's growls and had shot it .- Chicago Trib.

wenue lines is because there is but a single track in this section. As it is now cars are held in a pocket on almost every trip, either at Dobles corner or Music hall.

A car coming from West Quincy o Brockton is now held up on every trip at Dobles corner by the block, showing the track between that point and Music hall to be in use. When these cars arrive at Music hall they are again held up so that from five to ten minutes is lost by waits at this point. unction of School street and Quincy avenue. At the same time cars coming into City Square would have sufficient time to run to the junction of Schoo street and Quincy avenue and there would be no waits.

The Quincy avenue line would also be leared and there would be no reason why the cars on all three of these should not be on time, unless an accident should occur.

The first objection to the double track ng would be the narrowness of the street. The fact is, however, that with Choice Meats and Vegetables a double track the street would be clearer than it is now.

With a single track in the middle of he street there is but a narrow piece of oom enough for two teams to pass. If there were two tracks as propose passing car would be on one side of the street. This would leave a wide pace on one side of the car, room enough for two teams to pass abreast and still be room enough on the opposite side of the car for a team to pass. Although this proposed piece of track must greatly improve the service on these lines of cars it would be even better had the railroad extended its double streets to Dobles corner.

Educational Trip.

The local association has made arangements for a trip for the Y. M. C. A. boys to Virginia to attend the Jamestown Exposition if a crowd of ten fellows can be worked up to go. Arrangements have been made with the association at Newport News for accommodations for the party.

The trip will be under the supervison of Physical Director Long, who is very familiar with the grounds where Newport News previous to coming orth, consequently a very profitable rip will be enjoyed by those going with Mr. Long.

The trip will cover ten days, the party leaving Boston by Merchant & Miners Steamship Co., the last week of through July 4th.

But Little Is Granted In Bill Before Parliament

Proposed Irish Council Has Control Over Certain Departments, but Real Power Is Still In Imperial Authority -- Wholly Pleasing to No Party

London, May 8 .- The governmen has presented its long awaited Irish bil to the house of commons and the coun Night Phone: 75-2 at residence of try. This bill is designed to meet the demands for Irish home rule. It was presented by the chief secretary for Ireland, Mr. Birrell.

************ Compared with the home rule bills of 1886 and 1906 the new measure confers | Irish. little self-government upon Ireland, merely giving to the council control of the eight departments now managed by government boards. The council is to be appointed by the crown, and while the lord Heutenant of Ireland is given power to nullify its measures, the crown retains control of five of the eight departments, including the constabulary. The control of this branch always has been a thorn in the flesh of the Irish people. It is natural that this half-way measparty. The Unionists regard it as a Leader. The interest charged is 55 ************* many departments of local affairs, while the Irish members of the house of commons retain the right to legislate in similar affairs for England and Scotland. They criticise also the plan of government by council through eight committees as complicated and cumber

> The Radicals are disappointed that the measure falls so far short of home rule and the Irish members are even more disappointed with it. The Irish leaders, however, are maintaining a diplomatic attitude until they have time to study the provisions of the bill and learn the sentiment of the people. A Nationalist convention will be held in Dublin soon to decide upon the policy of the Irish party. The Laborites will support the measure because they are the 1700 union motormen and conductors of the United Railroads developed esterday afternoon into a riot in which more than a score of persons were severely hurt, some fatally, one of whom, James Walsh, died last night At 2:30 o'clock the company made its sending out seven passenger car! manned by about 40 strikebreakers.

Blood Freely Shed In Connection With Street Car Strike

SEVERAL PERSONS ARE SHOT

Railway Company's Attempt to De Business Meets With Resistance From Angry Mob--Women and Children Trampled During Battle

San Francisco, May 8 .- The strike of

The men wore uniforms of car inspectors and each carried a 38-calibre re company's barns at Turk and Fillmore streets, where a crowd of from 3000 o 5000 men and boys had gathered. Twenty-seven policemen, five mount d officers and several sergeants under the command of Captain Mooney were on patrol guard. The appearance of he cars in Fillmore street, from which they were switched into Turk street, No. 1 Granite Street, was the signal for an outburst of jeers and howis. Before the cars had gone one block they were made the targets of stones and bricks. In a few moments every pane of glass tad been smashed and several of the operatives had been struck, cut and bruised. At Turk and Buchanan streets an especially fierce attack was nade on the foremost car. A guard on the rear piatform answered the stones with a pistol shot. The bullet struck a union sympathizer in the arm. This transformed the crowd into a wild mob and thence forward for 12 blocks there vas fierce fighting. The strikers and their friends, aided by hundreds of youthful acodlums, kept up a shower with fusitiade after fusillade of pistol

Eight men received bullet wounds. ome of which will prove fatal. Among those thus injured are a detective sergeant and a patrolman. Finally a dozen or more of the guards were arrested by police reserves and a union crowd boarded the rearmost car and started it back to the barns. Arriving there, the strikers charged and revolver fire was opened from the parns. In this encounter several more men were shot. A non-union man threw the switch at Turk and Fillmore streets and the derailed car shot In the stampede that followed scores of women and children were trampled

The appearance of relief squads to einforce l'olice Captain Mooney's men resulted in the partial dispersing of the crowds.

A rumor has it that Superintendent Chapman was seen about 5 o'elock driving rapidly on Golden Gate avenue in n automobile that was splashed with blood. There is as yet no confirmation of the rumor that Chapman was wounded. Practically all of the police reserves at the various precinct stations have been called out and are now patrolling the neighborhood of Fillmore and Turk streets. The bloody events of the afternoon were preceded by a less serious clash in the forenoon, when a freight car manned by five inspectors and a barn superintendent was run out of the yards at Turk and Fillmore streets and operated for half a block. The crowd showered the car with brickbats and stones and slightly injured two inspectors. Finally all attempts to operate the car were given up.

Won't Do Business In Texas New York, May 8 .- Following a meeting of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, a statement was issued in which it was intimated that the companies represented in the association would withdraw from Texas when the new insurance law of that state becomes effective June 1. The new legisation provides that 75 percent of the reserve on Texas policies shall be invested in Texas securities.

Defalcation 'Yas Made Good New York. May 8.-Circulation of a report that a clerk employed by the Italian Savings Bank of the City of New York had stolen some of the bank's money started a run by the depositors of the bank. It was officially an nounced that the defalcation had been made good by the bank officers and hat the assets of the bank exceeded its Democratic Victory at Baltimore Baltimore, May 8 .- In the municipal election J. B. Mahool was elected mayor over the present incumbent, E. C. fimanus, by a majority of 4500. Both branches of the city council are Demoratic by arge majorities. The Demoerats also elected the comptroller and the president of the second branch of the city council.

Junior Y. M. C. A. Dramatics

There was a good attendance Tuesday evening at the entertainment given by the Junior auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. at the Association hall. The program was one well calculated to please, and that it did please was evident by the applause of the audience.

The program opened with a piano solo by Miss Harriet Spooner and was followed by a selection on the mandolin and guitar by Henry C. Hallowell, Rosco Ricker and George H. Newcomb.

Then came a laughable farce entitled, Henry Taylor and Miss Mabel E. Lovejoy impersonated the characters.

The characters in this comedy were Marian E. Johnson, Miss Marian E. D. B. Reardon, D. J. Seward McCur- cushion from another chair and plac-Thomas, and Harold Newcomb.

Study Your Telephone

Its habits are as important as the habits of a clerk.

If it is overworked---if calls from your office are numerous--it may be you are losing trade because of your line being reported "busy."

That report too often repeated is apt to drive prospective customers elsewhere---perhaps to competitors who have been keen enough to note the value of a special Receiving Telephone or a Private Branch Exchange.

Quincy is well Protected Against Fire Hydrant needs

It was with some surprise, that mem bers of the Quincy and Milton Board of Underwriters, to read in the report of the doings of the City Council of Monday evening, that their association had voted to ask the City Council to carry out the improvements recommended by the New England Insurance Exchange as' they claim that no such action was taken on the part of the Association.

According to one of the prominent members who was at the meeting of the Association on April 26, when it is alleged acton on the matter was taken, a communication to the City Council Trinity church. regarding the placing of hydrants on Spear street.

Everybody recognizes that the recmmendations of the New England Insurance Exchange were the result of a visit paid to this city last year by inspectors from New York who had but little knowledge of the local situation and while their recommendation might well be put in force in a city like New York or Boston there was no need o uch radical changes in Quincy. In fact some of the things in the com unication sent to the City Council have already been done and that they were must have been known to the gentlemen from Quincy who are mem bers of the Association.

The recommendation in the communi cation relative to a bydrant on Spear street is however a good one for if there is any section of the city that should have a hydrant it is on this street. There is much valuable property located on this street and there has never been a hydrant, and it would seem that it is not adequately protected with the present hydrant service in that vicinity. There is a large stable and a cluster of houses on Washington street backing on Spear street which is considered by many to be of the fire trap nature and for full name. Look for signature E. W. if but one hydrant can be located on Spear street it should be so as to com mand that property.

Alleging negligence, the Milton Water Company has entered suit for damages in $150,000, against the Hyde Park Water Company in the Norfolk superior court at Dedham. The declarations claim damages in tort and contract, the former referring to the period from 1900 to 1902 when the Milton Water Company purchased the water which it supplied its customers of the Hyde Park concern. This water, the plaintiff now alleges, was not wholesome and proper for domestic purposes and says that many of the customers of the defendant suffered damage for which the defendant had been ordered by the courts in many instances to pay large sums. The Milton Water Company ceased supplying water to Miltonians about five years ago. The Hyde Park Company is now in process of being taken over by the town.

TWO CARS ARE OPERATED

Intermittent Hurling of Missiles and Howling and Jeering by Mob--Another Death as a Result of Tuesday's Riot--Two More May Die

San Francisco, May 9 .- The police, for the first time since the commencement of the street car strike, furnished actual protection yesterday afternoon for two cars of the United Railroads, manned by 21 strikebreakers, and as a result these cars were run over six miles of track without the firing of a shot. Four men were injured, however, by missiles thrown by strike sympathizers. One of the injured men was a strikebreaker and the other three members of the Electrical Work-

There was intermittent hurling of missiles by union crowds at various he purpose of foreclosing the same, will be points along the route, and for two or three miles a mob of 1000 men and boys ran with the cars, yelling, calling epithets, daring the non-union men to get off the cars and fight, cheering whenever for any cause the cars wer brought temporarily to a standstill.

About 20 police officers and patro men, led by Chief Dinan, some in autos some mounted on horses and others afoot, accompanied the cars. Thornwell Mullalley, assistant to the president, Superintendent Chapman and other officers of the United Railroads outheasterly by lots numbered nineteen and kept pace in autos with the cars.

From its commencement to its finish the police displayed energy and deter mination in dealing with the howling crowds. When necessity arose they did not hesitate to use their clubs. The start from Oak and Broderick streets was a tame affair compared with Tue 897, and duly recorded in Book 802, Page 271, day's experiences. The crowd of me and boys at the starting point did nothing more serious than to howl and jeer as the cars proceeded.

The second death as the result of Tuesday's riot occurred yesterday afternoon when John Buchanan, a car shop employe, died at the emergency hospital. He was shot through the ab domen. Two others, Albert C. Palm, a hauffeur, and Nathan Leizer, 16 years ld, are not expected to live.

Asked as to the report that he had threatened to arm the police with rifles and order them to shoot strikebreakers if the latter opened fire from the cars Chief of Police Dinan said: "I did not exactly say that. I told the attorners of the company that if the strikebreakers were going to shoot down my men selves, and we would use them. This was after I heard of the shooting of Detective Sergeant Bell and Officer Sauers.

Two Lost Fishermen Are Picked Up Far Out at Sea

SAVED BY A NARROW MARGIN

Had Been Adrift In Dory For Six Days and Five Nights Without a Morsel of Food and With One Quart of Water--On Verge of Collapse

Halifax, May 9 .- After a terrible experience from exposure, hunger and thirst, having been adrift in their dory for six days and five nights, Columbus McPhee and Alexander Steele, two of the crew of the Gloucester fishing schooner Mystery, were picked up åt sea 250 miles off Halifax and brought here on steamer Bornu from Mexico.

Both men are in a critical condition and as soon as the steamer tied up at ier dock an ambulance was summoned and they were speedily removed to the hospital. The men are in such a condition that they are unable to relate career at Harvard, his marriage and the their experiences, but the doctors have every hope of their recovery.

At 2 o'clock on Monday morning last, s the steamer was speeding toward this port, the second officer, W. H. Ward, who was on the bridge, happened to look over the ship's side, having had his attention attracted by a faint cry, and close to the steamer he saw the ory and the two men lying helpless in he bottom of the little craft. The eamer slackened its speed and circled round the dory, steaming as close as ossible. A boat was launched and the nen, who were on the verge of collapse, were lifted aboard the steamer. They were half unconscious and unable to assist themselves. The dory, which was anchored, was cut adrift and the steamer resumed her course.

The men were given every possible ittention aboard, both by the officers and crew, and the ship's doctor took charge of them. The night was very dark and it was only by the narrowest margin that they escaped being sent to the bottom by the liner. The men told the doctor that from the time they got astray from their vessel they had not a norsel of food and but one quart of waway, leaving them to their fate.

Bowler's Att orneysAsk That He Be Put Under Some Restraint

Boston, May 9.-George P. Bowler, arrested several weeks ago in New York, appeared in the superior criminal court and pleaded guilty to charges of forging eight notes, aggregating $11,-000, and uttering the same, using his brother's name for the signature. The notes were passed on Bernard Bennett, well known to Harvard students as a money-lender. Bowler has been in jail since his arrest through failure to secure bonds of $25,000. Sentence was ot imposed at once.

Before his plea was entered the atorneys made brief statements. It developed that Bowler is not the pauper the public has been led to believe. He not without means. A fortune of $200,000 is held in trust for him, from which he receives an income of $4000 annually. His wife, from whom he is estranged, receives $35 each week from the same source.

His attorneys asked that Bowler be but under some restraint. They asked for a form of probation, believing that it would be better for him than imprisonment. In any event, they asked that he should not be sent to Concord reformatory, a place that was characterized as a kindergarten for crime.

The story of Bowler's escapade is stil fresh in the public mind. His wild desertion of his wife for Mrs. Revnolds are well known.

A Hint to Tract Society

New York, May 9.-Robert Watchern, commissioner of immigration, in an address before the American Tract society, said: "A great many of our mmigrants are Hebrews, who are on their way from persecution by one style of Christians, and when they have Christian tracts, printed in Hebrew, put in their hands at Ellis Island, apparently with the approval of the d Neponset United States government, they wonder what is going to happen to them here There will be over a million immi seems to me that ought to afford a pretty large field for the society. In fact, it might have its hands full lookng after those who practice neither Judaism nor Christianity."

Sent to France For Trial

St. Johns, May 9 .- Upon representa tions made by the French consul, the Newfoundland authorities here turned over several men to the French gov ernment, which agreed to institute a rigid inquiry into the burning of the ench brigantine Henri de Cancale off Cape St. Mary's, last Friday night The master, the owner and two mater were formally served with warrant charging them with barratry, but the others were released. They will be sen to France by a steamer which leaves Steamships' Cargoes Shortened New York, May 9 .- The contest be tween the trans-Atlantic and coastwissteamship companies and the striking ongshoremen, which followed the re fusal of the former to grant a wage in crease of approximately 33 1-3 percent continues to the disadvantage of both parties. While the men remain idle the steamship people are obliged to sail with partial cargoes, to their monetary loss. Though probably 10,000 men are idle, there is comparatively little disor-

Hughes Will Be Sustained

Albany, May 9 .- Following conferences between Governor Hughes and leading officeholders, it was announced that the public utilities bill in the form desired by the governor is to be passed without delay with the full support of the Republican state organization. The bill will, it is expected, be made a party measure in both houses.

For Federal Officials to Deal With Cincinnati, May 9.—The case of Richard Berger, who was arrested here on a charge of selling lottery tickets, will be called to the attention of the federal authorities. Detectives found in Berger's trunks thousands of lottery tickets, bank books and certificates of drawings, apparently made by lotteries in Berlin and Vienna.

Children See "Rip Van Winkle" Washington, May 9 .- Nineteen hundred school children yesterday attended a special matinee performance of "Rip Van Winkle" in which Thomas Jefferson, son of "Joe" Jefferson, is appearing at the new National theatre. They were the guests of Jefferson.

SITUATION IS VERY GRAVE

Troops and Bodies of Police Being Drafted From All Parts of Province -- Meetings of Every Kind Are Prohibited by a Special Proclamation

Lahore, British India, May 10 .-Everything seems to point to the immience of a native outbreak here and the uthorities are taking all the steps possible to suppress it by force of arms. The political unrest is hourly assumng graver proportions.

Bands of stalwart rustics, armed with bludgeons, who have been enisted by the leaders of the sedition, are erowding into the native city, and roops of all arms and bodies of police, neunted and dismounted, are being MAP of the CITY of QUINCY. drafted into the city of Labore from all parts of the province.

The fortifications of Lahore have een subject to a special inspection and the artillerymen have been reinforced. The lieutenant governor of the Punjab. Sir Denzil Ibbetson, is taking active neasures to circumvent any possible outbreak. He has issued a proclamation prohibiting meetings of every kind and solemnly warning the public not to attend any assemblages under pain of severe punishment.

In addition, the lieutenant governor has struck at the root of the revolution ary movement by causing the arrest esterday afternoon of a prominent awyer, Lajpatrai, who practiced in the chief court of the Punjab and who vas the leader, financier and organizer of most of the seditious demonstrations and revolutionary riots in the Punjab. Immediately after being taken into custody Lajpatrai was deported to another province.

His arrest caused a profound sensaion among the Hindus, who hitherto had believed that the authorities would not dare to take such drastic action. Another revolutionary leader, for whose arrest a warrant has been issued, re ceived an intimation of the action taken by the authorities and escaped from Lahore and is now in hiding.

The swift display of military force, ombined with the arrest of Lajpatrai, appears to have paralyzed the seditious movement. The troops were out all night, but this city, which hitherto has een the scene of nightly excitement. nflammatory oratory and noisy processions, slept in unbroken stillness. The streets were utterly deserted.

The determination of the government suppress the revolutionary move ment was not taken too soon. Today is of the most sightly spots of Quincy, 8 minutes the anniversary of the beginning of the | walk to the Center. Indian mutiny, which took place 50 years ago, and forbearance on the part of the authorities would have been interpreted as a sign of weakness and

Platt Won't Succeed Himself New York, May 10 .- The World pubishes an interview with Senator Thomas C. Platt in which he says: "I have no idea whatever of being a candidate to succeed myself. I shall serve out my term. Then I shall wait for the call to the other side. I have lived my life, and I have done what seemed to me to be the right thing to do. But I realize that there is not much left now for me to do. I would like to settle down and see the world go around."

Stromboli Grows More Violent Messina, May 10.-The eruption of Mount Stromboli, the volcano on Stromboli island, is more violent and the apprehension is growing. The violence of the present disturbance is declared to be without precedent. Almost all the people of Stromboli island have made their escape. Ashes from the volcano have destroyed everything on the island. The detonations are heard at all the other islands of the Lipari group.

Flowers For Strikebreakers San Francisco, May 10 ..- Roses and carnations, instead of brickbats and cobblestones, were features of yesterday's run of two cars of the United Railroads, manned by 20 strikebreakers. The cars covered three or four miles through the business and residence streets of the western addition. Stirred to admiration by the courage of unarmed strikebreakers in operating the cars, women waved handkerchiefs, clapped their hands, cheered and threw kisses to the non-unionists as the first car, police protected, ran slowly by. At one point a young girl ran out from a florist's shop and tossed a handful of long-stemmed carnations to the platform of one of the cars. The cars were halted then, while young women brought clusters of carnations and roses from the shop and offered them to the

Shakeup In Stock Market New York, May 10 .- New capital issues, aggregating $136,000,000, which were announced by the Union and Southern Pacific companies, created something of a sensation in financial ircles and resulted in a sharp decline n prices on the Stock Exchange. ## Study Your Telephone

Its habits are as important as the habits of a clerk.

If it is overworked---if calls from your office are numerous--it may be you are losing trade because of your line being reported "busy."

That report too often repeated is apt to drive prospective customers elsewhere---perhaps to competitors who have been keen enough to note the value of a special Receiving Telephone or a Private Branch Exchange.

Difficulty In Securing Jurymen For the Haywood Trial

QUESTIONS OF WIDE RANGE

Defense Endeavors to Ascertain If President Roosevelt's "Undesirable Citizens" Letter Has Affected the Opinions of Talesmen

Boise, Ida., May 10.-William D. Haywood, first of the alleged participants in the avenging conspiracy by which it is averred the assassination of Frank Steunenberg was plotted and executed, was placed on trial for his prisoner entered at once upon the examination of prospective jurors and Kept steadily at the task for five hours. No juror was finally accepted, but substantial progress was made and the indications are that a jury may be ob tained by the end of next week.

The opening day of the trial was earnest and businesslike. Its striking feature was the absence of crowds or demonstrations. At no time, morning or afternoon, was the courtroom more than half filled, and the streets forming the courthouse square contained not a single loiterer.

The case was halted shortly before 5 'clock by the exhaustion of the jury panel and adjournment was taken until Monday. Meantime the sheriff will summon a spec'al venire of 100 men. The 11 men under examination, but not yet finally accepted or rejected, were locked up and will be closely guarded.

The chief concern of the counsel for the state was the men's attitude toward circumstantial evidence, absence of the accused from the state when the crime was committed, the effect of the manner in which the prisoner and his companions were brought from Colorado, the question of the death penalty for murder in the first degree and union labor They also questioned each talesman as to his acquaintance with the murdered ex-governor with a view to disclosing friendship or enmity. Their examination brought out that certain labor and socialistic papers are being distributed free of charge in parts of Ada county.

The custom of Idaho courts in selecting juries for criminal cases is to call 12 talesmen to the jury box and to keep the box full. The state conducts a com plete examination until 12 men have een passed. Then the body of talesnen pass to the defense for examinaion. The state passed 12 men early yesterday afternoon and the general examination is in the hands of the defense. Eleven men were in the box at have been passed by both sides. They have not been finally accepted and sworn and are still subject to peremptory challenge.

Haywood gave no sign of emotion, but sat quietly throughout the day. Mrs. Haywood and the older daughter stood the ordeal apparently well, but the younger child cried after the examination of talesmen began. Mrs. Haywood and her children did not attend the afternoon session.

Second Verdict For Scott & Co New York, May 10 .- The second trial of the suit of Franklin Scott & Co. brokers, to recover from J. H. Hoadley Joseph Leiter and C. F. Judson $65,000, with interest from April 30, 1902, resulted in a judgment for $84,961.34 for the plaintiffs. The suit grew out of the sharp decline in International Power stock on April 30, 1902. At the first trial the jury found a verdict for the plaintiffs, but the verdict was reversed by the appellate division and the case sent back for a new trial.

Striking Teamsters Cannot Even Induce Men to Quit Work Boston, May 10.-The temporary injunction against the members of the local Teamsters' union went into effect at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Judge Loring of the supreme court formally issued a decree which he had previously announced he would grant. The question of making the injunction permanent will not be taken up until after James D. Colt, who has been appointed master in the case, has submitted his findings to the court.

The injunction was further amended yesterday by Loring, and in addition to restraining the officers and members of the union from acts of violence and paying the carfares of strikebreakers out of the city, prevents them from intentionally inducing any person under contract with the master teamsters that are plaintiffs in the case to break such contracts or from inducing any person Since the announcement of the court that an injunction would be issued there have been few efforts to induce strikebreakers to leave their teams or to interfere with the teaming of the struck firms.

A Peculiar Fatality

Greenwich, Conn., May 10 .- The body of James Rogers, aged 45, was discovered lying face downward in mud at the foot of an embankment on the highway in East Portchester. Nearby was the horse and wagon which Rogers had been driving. It is supposed that the horse must have gone over the embankment, overturned the wagon and thrown out and stunned Rogers so that he suffocated in the mud. The horse was grazing when the discovery was

Mr. Niles vigorously opposed re-vivals, and referred in most dispar-aging and sarcastic language to Whitefield's tours through New England. He was a fierce controversialist. Rev. Lemuel Briant of the First church had published a sermon on the text "All our righteousnesses are as filthy rags, in which he had brought forward some of the views that were later expanded by Channing, and had inscribed on the title-page "Let no man despise thy youth." He was then about thirty years of age.

Mr. Niles' spirit may be judged from the quotation from Virgil, with which he prefaced his pamphlet.

"O formose puer, nimium ne crede

(Beautiful boy, don't take too much stock in your complexion, or don't trust too much to appearances), and from the following extract from the body of the discourse "Blessed be our youth, which have not made our old, men ashamed. But alas! we that are old men must confess ourselves ashamed, when we see how our youth have expressed and behaved themselves, and with what scoffs they have assaulted the order of the gospel, in some things lately published and scattered about the country." Mr Briant's remarks about "judging of scripture doctrines from particular scraps of scripture and from the bare jingle of words "would naturally provoke some feeling in such an age

This second minister of this ancien church was a theologian, and wrote a treatise of 320 pages on "The True Scripture Doctrine of Original Sin. (1757) The despondency of his spirit may be seen in the following extract from this work. "The people in many places are carried away with the itch of novelty, self-pleasing amusements form, and outward appearances, by which means it looks as if in a short run of time, should these things generally prevail, we must bid adieu to sound religion, and New England lose

As the body and mind fret from overwork and their operations lose easy action, so is it with a stomach that is overworked. Rest alone restores normal conditions. But where can a dyspeptic find rest? That alone gives rest which does the stomach's work. Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets are the scientifically dis-covered remedy that restores strength to a tired stomach by relieving it of the burden of strained conditions and thus enabling it to regain its wanted actions. A case in point is the following:-

Thousands of Workmen Would Be Greatly Accommodated

Among the recent petitions sent to at Fore River asking that the City George Root. Council use its best endeavors to have the street railway build a loop line to connect the line on Washington street with that on Quincy avenue.

The Fore River yards are located about midway between these two lines and the thousands of workmen who daily use the cars in going and returning from work have at least a five minutes' walk to either line to take a car. It is in the nature of a hardship for a man after working hard all day to be obliged to take this walk, especially in stormy weather, and if such a line were bnilt it would prove of great convenience to the workmen.

Something like a dozen or more cars are required every night to accommodate the men. Many of these cars runs through to Neponset while others run to Weymouth and Braintree. If the proposed line was built the workmen when oming from the yards could to step directly into the cars and save at least ten minutes time. Teachers 'Non't Get Higher Wages New York, May 11.-Mayor Mc-Ciellan has vetoed the White salary bill, recently passed by the legislature, and which, had it become operative, would have materially increased the salaries of women teachers in the higher grades of the public schools of this city. The mayor points out that the bill discriminates against 5000 of the 12,000 women teachers in that it provides increases for only such as happen to be jointly engaged with men teachers.

Whitney. trial of the case ought to be over in two weeks. Judge Wood expects to waste no time, and another adjournment is not looked for after Monday.

Several members of the Western Federation of Miners, now in Boise watching the progress of the case, do not join in the belief existing in some quarters that Orchard, the so-called informer, will refuse to testify. They believe he will make his statement on the stand. On all sides there is a question as to how far Orchard will be allowed to go in his statement, which it is alleged implicates Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone. It is around this evidence that the whole case undoubtedly will move.

A story printed by the Chicago Journal charging that one Charles Moyer was in 1886 sentenced to one year in Joliet penitentiary, was printed here and created much discussion.

Acting President Ma honey said he had no record of Moyer's entire career, but was positive that the man who served a term in the Illinois penitentiary was not the man who is now president of the Western Federation of Miners.

During 1831 and 1832 Rev. Edwards A. Park served as colleague pastor. He was born at Providence, R. I., in 1808, graduated at Brown University, taught in Braintree and Weymouth Landing in 1826, graduated at Andover in 1831, was professor at Am-herst after leaving Braintree, and ater became professor of Systematic Theology at Andover, where he continued in service until 1881, and died in 1900. During his two years' ministry in this church 57 were added to its membership.

In 1811 the Union church of Weymouth and Braintree was formed, seven members taking their letters from the mother church.

In 1829 seventeen members were lismissed to unite with others in forming the South Braintree church. New meeting houses were erected in 1830 and 1857.

The inexorable limitations of time compel the omission of many interesting subjects suggested by the church records of the first half of the nineteenth century. Moreover, all characterization of Dr. Storrs has been omitted on account of the more complete paper of reminiscences to be presented at another meeting.

1857 has been assigned as the close of the period to be covered by this address. It is an appropriate date. It heralds a new day. "Bleeding Kansas" and "The Crime against Kansas" were consolidating the forces opposed to slavery. 1858 witnessed the great debate between Lincoln and Douglass-the forensic Gettysburg of the century-long conflict. 1859 brought us the John Brown excitement, 1860 was the beginning of secession, ushering in the conflict of 1861-1865, which culminated in the establishment of the sovereignty of the Union and the freedom of the slave, and from that time we have been living in a new world of thought and activi-

Meantime the population, who has been deprived of street car service, is subjected to the alternative of walking er paying five prices for an execrable wagon service.

Reduced to an arithmetical aspect, the problem is simply this: If 50 policemen are required to afford safe conduct to two street cars daily over six miles of track when no passengers are carried, how shall 200 cars be operated hourly over 250 miles of tracks, with 300,000 passengers, with a total force of only 700 policemen, not more than half of whom can be on duty at once. This is the question that the residents of San Francisco are asking each other and the reply is almost unanimous: "The police force is unable to cope with existing conditions." Yesterday afternoon's trip of two cars were more pleasant. When the cars passed the Majestic hotel women threw armfuls of flowers from the windows of the hotel into the street. The flowers were picked up and distribuated among the unarmed strikebreakers operating the two cars.

A non-union conductor on one of the cars collected five fares and handed the money to Vice President Mullaly of the company, who was aboard the car, as a souvenir, the first money taken in by the United Railroads since the tieup of the system last Sunday.

Brilliant White House Function

Washington, May 11.-Seven nations, through high officers of the army and navy, were represented at a reception given by President and Mrs. Roosevelt at the White House. These were Italy, Japan, China, the Argentine Republic, Chile and Belgium and the United States. All the foreign nations represented have sent delegations to the Jamestown exposition and the welcome given to them by the president was one of the numerous social courtesies that are being extended to them.

Court Business.

There is usually a good deal of eagerness on the part of Ntfolk county lawyers to try their cases when Judge Hardy is presiding as he is easy to get along with besides being fair and clear cut in his rulings but this term things are going away Nobody seems to be ready. Last week court had to be adjourned at noon on Friday for want of anything to do, although there is an unsual; large number of case on the list. His Honor is not pleased with this condition of things and expressed himself quite plainly the other day. The principal rouble is that most attorneys have no partners and of course they cannot be in two courts at the came time. If an attorney reports that he is engaged in another court, that protect him, but it often happens that other lawyers had counted on his going ahead and are not prepared with their cases when he drops out of the line. and its costs the county quite a little.

Mystic Shriners In Terrible Train Wreck In California

DUE TO DEFECTIVE SWITCH

Forward Coaches Took Fire After Being Reduced to Debris--Scores Scalded by Escaping Steam From Disconnected Pipes--Tardy Relief

Santa Barbara, Cal., May 13 .- Thirty-one dead and a score injured comprise the casualties of the wreck at Honda of the Ismalia specia! train of New York and Pennsylvania nobles of the Mystic Shrine who were returning home from the annual meeting of the imperial council of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine at Los Angeles.

The train, carrying 145 Shriners and riends from Ismalia temple, Buffalo, Rajah temple, Reading, Pa., and neighboring cities, was rushing northward at the rate of 50 miles an hour when the locomotive struck a defective switch at the siding at Honda. The locomotive turned a somersault into the sand. The forward coaches were crushed to debris and took fire. The flames were soon extinguished by uninjured persons from the two rear coaches. As Honda is isolated it was not till late yesterday that definite information ould be collected.

The wreck occurred at 2:35 o'clock that the train was making high speed when it struck the defective track is borne out by the fact that it covered Santa Barbara to Honda in 100 min-

The locomotive in leaving the rails tore up the track. The baggage car half buried itself in the sand on the right side of the locomotive. It was smashed almost to kindling wood. occurred before word of it reached the outside world. As soon as one of way to the station word of the wreck was flashed to San Luis Obispo. Immediately special trains were arranged. Physicians and nurses were quickly on the way to the wreck.

At 4 o'clock a relief special left Santa Barbara and made the 61 miles to Honda in 90 minutes. Simultaneously another special left San Luis Obispo equipped with nurses and doctors. It arrived shortly before the one that left this city. Already what work of rescue was possible had been done by those who had escaped the disaster. Large Band of Terrorists Had Elabo rate Plan to Kill the Czar

London May 13 .-- The Daily Tele graph's St. Petersburg correspondent reports the accidental discovery and foiling of the greatest terrorist plot since the great Decembrist conspiracy Quincy is Growing. 82 years ago. The correspondent says he has the sensational story from two reliable sources. According to these versions no fewer than 80 conspirators resolved a couple of months ago to assassinate Emperor Nicholas and plans were finally fixed for carrying out the deed during Easter. The plotters in cluded reserve officers and other offiials and civilians whose loyalty hither o had been undoubted.

The plan was to approach Tsarko elo in distinct groups and then exe cute a sudden and daring attack on the palace. The first group, consisting of 34 men, arrived on the Russian Good Friday when, from some means un known, suspicions against them were aroused and the whole 34 of them wer arrested at Tsarko-Selo and documents found in their possession led to the ap prehension of the other members of the band in St. Petersburg.

HAD OUARRELED OVER A DOG |

Youthful Slayer, 'Nho Already Had a Bad Record, Carefully Planned Ccid-Blooded Deed--Father of Victim Found Dead Body In Woods

Brunswick, Me., May 13.—Cherishing a resentment over a boyish quarre which took place two weeks ago, Sydney Preble, aged 15 years, shot and killed Morris W. Heath, aged 16 years in Bowdoinham Saturday night. The crime was not discovered until Sunday when M. S. Heath, father of the murdered boy, found the body buried under pine spills and leaves at the edge of a

Preble was arrested and immediately confessed. He said that two weeks ago he kicked Heath's dog and the boy reprimanded him for it, saying that it Preble did such a thing again, h (Heath) would kill him. Saturday nigh Freble accompanied Heath part way home from the mill where Heath was spot in the woods Preble suddenly fired a charge from a shotgun at Heath, blow ing off the back of his head and kill ng him instantly

Preble is a son of George F. Preble of ·Bowdoinham. He has a record of terms of confinement in the state reform school, one of three years and the othe of one year, for breaking and entering Heath's parents live on a farm about two miles from Bowdoinham village.

Saturday afternoon Preble called a the Heath farm and presented to Mrs Heath a note purporting to have been written by young Heath and requesting that she turn over to Preble her son's revolver and bicycle. Mrs. Heath suspected that the note was forged, but the consented to allow Preble to bor row the bicycle, though she did not let im have the revolver. A little later Preble returned and told Mrs. Heath that it was all right about the revolver nd that he did not want it.

At 6 o'clock Saturday evening Preble vent to a sawmill where Heath was uployed and waited until the latter finished work, when the two started ou together toward Heath's home, abou quarter of a mile distant. Most of the way was along a road lined with wood on either side. After they had gon about 150 yards, Preble, according his statement made to the authorit made after his arrest, slipped into the woods and, securing a shotgun which he had concealed there, rejoined Heath in the road. He says they then walked along together for some distance fur a short cut to his own home.

"I guess I'll leave you here," Preble says he remarked to Heath, and he then stepped through the bars and turning, aimed the shotgun at Heath's head and pulled the trigger. The charge struck Heath just behind the right ear, tearing away the back of nis head and killing him instantly.

Preble then, according to his state ment, dragged the body from the road side into some bushes, a feat which re quired a great deal of effort, as he him self is of slight build, weighing only 80 pounds. When he had reached the bushes with his burden he heard self until it had passed. Peering through the bushes from his hiding place, he saw that the team was driven by his victim's father, and that Heath's attention in passing was attracted to the pool of blood which stained the dust of the road. Heath, however, continued on his way and afterward young Preble dragged the body further into the woods to the edge of a swamp, where he covered it with pine needles and leaves and left it. A little later Preble appeared at the Heath farm and told Heath that his (Preble's) father had killed a dog in the road and that this was the cause of the blood

As young Heath had occasionally spent his evenings in the village, his at his failure to return home to supper and it was not until Sunday morning that search was begun for the boy. On seen the blood stains Saturday night and noticing marks indicating that something had been dragged from the roadside he followed the trail into the 74 Independence Avenue. bushes and discovered the body of his son. He notified the authorities, who at once went to Preble's house and charged him with the crime. Preble confessed to the deed without any hesi tation and added that he had intended to go to Bath today and make his con fession to the judge of the municipa court of that city. That, he said, was the reason for borrowing young Heath's bicycle, as he desired to use it in his trip to Bath. Pending his preliminary hearing,

Preble is confined in the lockup in Bowdoinham village.

Steamer and Schooner Rest on Bottom of Nantucket Sound

NO LIVES LOST IN CRASH

Skipper of Each Vessel Inclined to Blame the Other For Collision Which Occured In Clear Weather-May Have to Be Settled In Court

Vineyard Haven, Mass., May 13 .- As the result of their terrific encounter off Last Chop, the Norwegian steamer Edda and the American four-masted schooner Sagamore rest on the bottom of Nantucket sound, about two miles

The Edda, with her decks just above water, may be raised from the western edge of Squash Meadow shoal, but the Sagamore is likely to remain a menace to navigation in mid-channel and in one of the busiest ocean highways of the coast until she is demolished by dyna-

That no one was killed in the cras or was carried down when the Saga more foundered 10 minutes after she swung away from the Edda, seems little short of marvelous.

The collision took place in clear weather, about 6 o'clock Saturday night the Sagamore running along before strong northwest breeze, while the Edda, which was coming from the east ward in the opposite direction, was try ing to avoid a tow of barges when she found herself under the bow of the schooner too late to avoid a collision. The Sagamore struck the Edda on the starboard side, about amidshops, an tore a 12-foot hole abreast of the engin coom about nine feet below the deck The bowsprit of the schooner carrie away the smokestack and mainmast of the steamer and nearly swept Captai Meidell of the Edda from the bridge Meidall found himself clinging to th agamore's jibboom and held on unt he vessels parted. The Sagamor swung up into the wind and sank with in 10 minutes. The steamer drifted be fore the wind until she grounded. Each skipper seems inclined to blam the other for the accident. Capta Trefry of the schooner feels that hi vessel was holding her course withou deviation, with lights burning, an that the Edda took chances in cutting

Captain Meidell appears to hold the opinion that the helmsman of the Saga more luffed slightly just as the Edd: was getting clear of a tow of barger bound in the opposite direction. The question is likely to be settled in the

Wreckers begun today in an effort to raise the Edda. Her engine room full of water, but her forward an aft compartments are comparatively

It is feared that the Sagamore is too far below the surface to allow the carg of soft coal to be pumped out, especially as the tide runs very rapidly in tha part of the sound. The masts of the schooner show above the water to distance of several feet and the wrech the government within a day or two The captain and crew of the Edda remain on board the steamer, and th crew of the Sagamore are at Oak Bluffs which they reached in yawl boats.

Great Sugar Crop Promised Havana, May 13.—Cuba's great twin crops, sugar and tobacco, have both been record-breakers this year sugar for the size of the crop, and to bacco for the scarcity of all except the very choicest grades of the leaf. There is little doubt that the sugar crop will reach a totl of 1,300,000 tons, against 1,200,000 last year. The shortage of the tobacco crop, owing to the lack of rain has been in a measure compensated for by the excellence of the quality.

Her Limit.

The old generation of Galloway lairds were a primitive and hospitable race, but their conviviality sometimes led to awkward occurrences. In former days, when roads were bad and wheeled vehicles almost unknown, an old laird was returning from a supper party with his lady mounted behind him on horseback. On crossing the river Urr at a ford at a point where it joins the sea the old lady dropped off, but was not missed until her husband reached his door, when, of course, there was an immediate search made. The party who were dispatched in quest of her arrived just in time to find her remonstrating with the advancing tide, which trickled into her mouth, in these words: "No anither drap, neither het nor cauld."-London Tit-Bits.

His brother Ezekiel, I believe, had children, and it is possible that the representative mentioned may have been a descendant of Daniel's brother.

Such mistakes often occur, as for example: When I first came to Marshtield over thirty years ago, it was quite generally supposed that the numerous families of Carvers living in town were descendants of John Carver, the first governor of the Pilgrim colony, but Gov. Expectation of Life.

From statistics of insurance companies it would appear that if a boy lives until he is 10 years of age he may reasonably expect to live 50 years longer. At 15 he may expect to live 46.6 years; at 20, 40 years; at 25, 39.5 years; at 30, 35.8 years; at 35, 32.2 years; at 40, 28.5 years; at 45, 24.8 years; at 50, 21.2 years; at 55, 17.8 years; at 60, 14.5 years; at 65, 11.6 years; at 70, 9 years; at 75, 6.3 years; at 80, 4.8 years; at 85, 3.4 years; at 90, 2.2 years. Girls of 10 may expect to live 48 years. From this time until they are 40 their expectations are a little less than those of a man. From 40 to 53 a woman has a little better chance than a man, and at 53 both may expect to live 19.15 years. Then her chances diminish more rapidly than a man's until at 90 she may expect to live only 1.85 years longer .-

Another Trial For Creole

The steamship Creole went into dry dock at the Navy Yard on Monday painted.

In the trials last week it was found that there was too much pitch to her propeller blades to allow her to make the speed necessary to come up to that required by the contract.

After she had gone into day dock the blades were taken off and sent to Quincy. Everything was ready at the machine shop to receive them and the pitch of the blades was changed in record breaking time. They were sent back to Boston at 11 o'clock Monday night and fitted to the propellers so that she was floated again at high water this morning. She steamed down the harbor and s having another trial run today. ## Submarine Rescue Tests

The submarine torpedo boat Octopus was taken out into Narrangansett Bay Monday and was put through battery tests by the naval marine could run under batteries alone. She made a run lasting 3 hours, 43 1-2 min. The sea was very rough and the wind high. The board later in the day inspected a marine life preserving jacket, devised for use aboard the submarine travel passing through Quincy to in case of failure of the boat to rise after being submerged. Wearing this apparatus, it is claimed, the occupants of the boat could open the conning tower, and the buoyancy of the cap attached to the jacket would bring them gradually to the surface of the water, while a supply of oxygen would be furnished to them by means of chemical action in an oxygen comnot sufficient work, however, done on pound contained in a flask inside the jacket.

Warmer.

The weather this morning was very warm and pleasant, and it really appeared as if summer had come. The fruit trees are nearly all in blossom except the apple, and from general appearance there will be a light crop of many kinds. The lilac and many other bushes, which are usually in blossom atathis time of the year are backward, and it appears as if flowers would be very scarce on Memorial day; although one week of hot weather will make a great change. The grass is looking quite green and attractive, but little lawn mowing as yet has been done. The street sprinkling has commenced but the numerous showers have not made the duties very arduous.

Talesmen Appear Unwilling to Serve on the Haywood Jury

SLOW WORK OF SELECTION

Great Variety of Reasons Offered For Keeping Out of Jury Box--Eight of Twelve Men Temporarily Passed Remain to Be Questioned

Boise, Ida., May 14 .- Only a frag-

Haywood for complicity in the murder the one step forward was the qualification of a single talesman, who seems marked for peremptory challenge later. The rest of the time went to the talesmen of the special venire and the reasons that made it impossible for them to serve the state at this time. Judge Wood called the case at 2 o'clock and at once gave attention to the 100 men summoned by Sheriff Hodgin in the special venire issued on Thursday last. The court asked those who had special excuses to offer to. come forward, and up surged 35 men.

Seven of them were sick and five others had sick wives. Some presented certificates from doctors, others offered quaking bodies as visual evidence, and the rest pleaded earnestly. AN UNUSUAL CONTEST

Phoebe Jenks' Will Broken Through

Efforts of Principal Beneficiary Boston, May 14 .- Judge Grant of the probate court disallowed the will of Phoebe A. P. Jenks, the portrait artist, who left most of her property to Ignaz H. Gaugengigl, also a well known artist. The latter joined the son of the testatrix, Barton Jenks, in the contest over the will. The estate is worth about $65,000. The son was left $5000, and he now gets all.

The contest was decidedly unusual the principal beneficiary seeking to break the will on the ground that he thought the testatrix must have been of unsound mind to leave her son only $5000 and not to leave her sister, Miss Hoyt, anything.

Judge Grant said all the medical evidence tended to show the woman was of unsound mind when she executed the will, the result of intense suffering and being kept under powerful narcotics t relieve her pain. # OF APPENDICITIS

THE SIMPLE REMEDY THAT EFFECTS THE CURE

Professor Rianchard of the French Academ of Medicine has spent a great amount of time studying that dread disease—Appendicitis. In ompany with Professor Metchnikoff, he has arefully examined numerous cases, and both have reached the conclusion that the cure is not the knife. In more than forty cases the sym toms of Appendicitis disappeared after the patients had been treated for worms. There are, no doubt, many persons suffering om worms who are erroneously attributing their trouble to some other cause. A few doses of Dr. True's Elixir are sufficient in most cases for the complete expulsion of the worms. The presence of these parasites is easily recognized by the following symptoms:—Indigestion: oul tongue; offensive breath; variable appetit ard and full belly with occasional gripings an ains about the navel; heavy, dull eyes; itching f the nose; short dry cough; grinding of the eth; starting during sleep; slow and ver; in children-convulsions and bed wetting Dr. True's Elixir will not only expel the worms, but will build up the whole system as

William Corey and Mabelle Gilman Are United In Wedlock

BUT FEW WEDDING GUESTS 4

Floral Decorations on an Elaborate Scale--Miniature Church Fitted Up In Royal Suit of Hotel Gotham--To Spend Honeymoon In France

New York, May 14.—To avoid the unlucky thirteenth of the month, Willam E. Corey, president of the United States Steel corporation, and Mabelle Gilman, the former actress, were not married until after midnight this morning. The ceremony took place in the royal suite at the Hotel Gotham in the presence of a small party of friends of the couple. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. L. Clark, pastor of he Bushwick Avenue Congregational hurch of Brooklyn.

The royal suite in the Hotel Gotham s on the third floor on the Fifth avenue side and consists of eight rooms. It is secluded. The salon and the dining rooms were decorated last night with hundreds of American Beauty roses. The management of the hotel and those in charge of the decorations were given carte blanche and the wedding is said to have cost $5000. The banquet is said o have been one of the most sumptuous ever served in this city.

The guests assembled in a small reeption room in the suite and at 11 clock entered the dining room, where the wedding supper was served. The decorations of the rooms were beautiful and were tastefully arranged. The hallway was fringed on both sides with potted palms, dressed with sprays of logwood and snowballs, while the reception room in which the guests met was adorned with great vases filled with American Beauty roses and sprays of cherry blossoms and dogwood.

In the dining room was a great square table, in the centre of which was a bank of pink roses with sprays of lilies of the valley woven around at the base the whole edged around with broad bands of pink ribbon. Here and there nestling among the flowers, were tiny china Cupids and miniature china wedding bells. From the corners of the room were swung festoons of smilax intermingled with pink roses.

After the supper was over the party, ed by Corey and his bride, passed down the hall between the rows of palms to the double salon, which was decorated to represent a small church Proad white ribbons attached to small white posts formed an aisle down the center of the room, on either side of which were the chairs for those invited to witness the ceremony. At the head of the aisle was a small dieu covered with white silk, at which the couple knelt during the ceremony. On each side of the altar rose a white column, the two being joined by one arch. The columns and arch were heavily draped with smilax dotted with hundreds of orchids. From the center of the arch hung a large wedding bell of lilies of the valley.

There was no music during the even. ing and there were no bridesmaids, Miss Gilman being attended only by Miss Frances E. Shaw of London. Corey was unattended.

Miss Gilman wore an empire gown of white crepe de chene, the skirt of which was trimmed with garlands of embroidered wild roses. The bodice was trimmed with point-ad-Aiguille lace, caught up with trails of embroidered roses. The bridal veil was of hand-made tulle, four yards square, edged with point-ad-Aiguille lace. Miss Shaw wore a gown of white tulle, with panels of the pointe-de-Venise lace, the corsage being trimmed with gold and silver roses. After the nuptials Corey and his oride took an automobile and were whirled away to Hoboken, where they boarded the Kaiser Wilhelm II, which sailed at 7:30 o'clock this morning. They occupy the captain's suite, which has been specially fitted up for the trip. Corey was anxious to secure the imperial suite," but it had been previously engaged. Corey was attended by a valet and Mrs. Corey by a maid. Four ship stewards will look after the Corey suite, which has been made inccessible to the ship's passengers. Mr. and Mrs. Corey will proceed at once to Paris and will then go at once to the Chateau Genis, 25 miles from Paris, where the honeymoon will be passed. They expect to remain there until they return to America about the middle of July. Corey's only gift to his bride was the Chateau Genis.

Study Your Telephone

Its habits are as important as the habits of a clerk.

If it is overworked---if calls from your office are numerous--it may be you are losing trade because of your line being reported "busy."

That report too often repeated is apt to drive prospective customers elsewhere---perhaps to competitors who have been keen enough to note the value of a special Receiving Telephone or a Private Branch Exchange.

For detailed information call or write the CONTRACT DEPT.

WHEAT PRICES JUMP

December Option Touches $1.03 on the Chicago Exchange

A GREAT FLOOD OF ORDERS

General Opinion That Advance Is Based Upon Natural Conditions Which Are Sure to Curtail Coming Crop-July Wheat May Go to $1.50

Chicago, May 14 .- In the most sensational opening in the history of the Chicago Board of Trade, wheat yesterday shot past the dollar mark. Heavy realizing sales pushed the price backward somewhat, but at the close the market was strong and, according to the majority of speculators on the board, the demand upon which the late advance has been made is still unsatis

The late advance yesterday for wheat was 4 cents for the July and September options and 41-8 cents for the Decem ber option. From the low point of Mon day of last week July wheat has advanced 13 3-4 and September has gone up 153-4. In the December option the ligh point yesterday was 1634 above the low price of last Monday.

It was a certainty that a strong bulg would take place in the wheat market at the opening. Country orders had poured in, seemingly in an endless stream, and in obedience to them brokers stood ready to buy millions of bushels at the market price. Shorts were in a highly nervous condition and were ready to cover.

The result was that as soon as the gong sounded there was a terrific roar of voices, all anxious to buy, and no body offering to sell. The trade was too big and too broad to be followed with any certainty, and brokers filled orders frequently several cents away from the point at which they had hoped to buy The confusion was so great that for few minutes but little actual busines was transacted, the brokers fighting and struggling in efforts to get hold of wheat from anybody or at any price.

As soon as figures could be regis tered in the confusion the July option sold anywhere between 93 and 94 which was 11-4 to 23-8 cents higher than the close of Saturday. September opened at 95 to 99, which was up 13-8 to 53-8 above the closing price of last week. December showed a wider range than either of the other options as the opening quotations for Decem ber ran at all figures between 96% and 103, prices which were 11-8 to 8 cents above the final quotations of Saturday The rush of buying orders seemed to come from almost every town in the United States which was situated along telegraph wire. They came from from points on the Pacific and Atlantic seaboards. The professional traders were of the opinion that the opening was a little too vigorous, and that the chance to seize profits on lines of long wheat carried over Sunday was tempt

As soon, therefore, as trade steadied a trifle millions of bushels were thrown upon the market in realizing sales a result the advance for a time was hecked. The buying orders, however still poured in and the market again soared. Again the long wheat came out and brought about a reaction, and again the country buyers forced prices up. The situation was too strong for man or clique of men to stem. The country at large seemed determined to buy wheat at whatever price it could

There were no claims in any direc tion that the market was being manipulated. The general opinion seemed to be that the advance was based upon natural conditions which are certain to curtail in large degree the world's coming crop of wheat. Advices from all parts of the west and northwest con firmed previous reports of damage by weather and by insects. In addition telegrams from the Canadian northwest declared that there was still no possibility of seeding in that distric and that every day of delay meant the loss of thousands of acres that might otherwise have been sown in wheat. Cablegrams reported the markets at Liverpool and Budapest in a highly excited condition, with prices advancing strongly. Liverpool was declared to be effected by gloomy reports from Rus sia, and it was the belief of many prom uent commission men that Europe will be forced to buy heavily in the American market and that the American market, instead of being able to meet this demand, will be scarcely strong enough to supply such wheat as i needed for home consumption.

Such prominent traders as William H. Bartletteand James A. Patton de clare that the conditions warrant the sensational advance in prices, declaring that the wheat problem for this year will be a difficult one for European buyers to solve. Among smaller traders predictions are made that be fore the present advance has stopped

lence" Rebuke to an Officer Annapolis, Md., May 14.-The whole nembership of the First battalion of the brigade of midshipmen has been, restricted for an indefinite period to the confines of the institution as a result of its members having "given the silence" to Lieutenant Commander Mc-Vay, one of the discipline officers. The members of the battalion took exception to McVay's mode of investigating their actions. Those participating in the "silence" keep absolutely silent during the whole of some meal at which the officer is present in the midshipmen's mess hall, and silence when the 800 midshipmen are assembled there is decidedly noticeable.

Yale's Greeting to Root

New Haven, May 14 .- So heartily did the Yale students cheer when Secetary Root appeared on the platform last night to lecture on "The Responsioilities of Citizenship" that President Hadley, who had risen to introduce Root, simply remarked: "I see by your actions that he needs no introduction you on my part," and yielded the atform. ### New Launches.

Business is rushing just at present at the boat yard of John Stuart Company at Wollaston beach. Among the boats on the stocks are the following:

A 32-foot cabin launch for Capt. John Morrell of Boston. She has an 8-foot beam and draft of three-feet. She will have a 15-horse power engine and is finished in mahogany.

A 30-foot half cabin launch for E. C. Lincoln. Her beam is seven feet and draft three feet. She will be finished n quartered oak. A 60-foot launch for W. E. Rumphi of Boston. Her beam is nine feet and draft three feet six inches. She will be fitted with a six cylinder 75-horse power engine. A 16-foot power tender is also being uilt for the same party.

The firm is also building a 28 foot speed launch for C. H. Finnigan of Worcester, which will develop a speed of 18 knots per hour.

Sudden Change.

There was a sudden drop of several degrees in the temperature at 11 o'clock street, Norfolk Downs. this morning. Up to that time the wind was southwest and warm summer wave prevailed giving the impression that the long delayed spring weather had arrived. At the above hour however the wind shifted to the east.

The change was felt immediately and cold shivers begun to run up and down the back. People who had discarded their outer wraps earlier in the morning hunted them up again for they were needed for a time. The prospects the balance of the day.

Told to Steal a Million.

The details of a confession made by score. William O. Douglas of New York, former local clerk of the Trust Company of America, made public today, are to the effect that, acting on the advice of a lawyer, he planned to steal $1,000,000 worth of securities in order to compel the trust company to cancel his minor thefts. Douglas has already pleaded guilty to larceny and is awaiting sen-

According to his confession, he first took small quantities of bonds and, borrowing money on them, lost it in speculating. When it was evident that he could not retrieve his losses, a lawyer was consulted, who advised, he says, that the only way out of the difficulty was to steal $1,000,000 worth of securities and turn them over to the lawyer, who might negotiate with the officials of the trust company for their return. Douglas' understanding was that the lawyer expected to get $200,000 from ing polls at one-tenth of mill each, the trust company for the restoration polls $9,239, property $27,428,409, $7.83 of the securities, which would have per thousand. The total of the county been sufficient to cover the amounts tax is $72.79. Milton pays $7.09; Douglas had already borrowed and lost.

CHAPTER XXXI. PENCER tried to rise from his sofa, but the effort was too much for him. Pale and thin, with black lines under his eyes and bloodless lips, he seemed scarcely more than the wreck of his former self. His visitor laid his stick and hat upon the table. Then he bowed once more to Spencer and stood looking at him, leaning slightly against the table. "I am permitted," he asked gently,

"to introduce myself?" "Quite unnecessary," Spencer answered.

The baron shrugged his shoulders. "You know me?" he asked. The shadow of a smile flitted across Spencer's face. "By many names, M. Louis," he answered.

His visitor smiled. Debonair in dress and deportment, there seemed nothing in the air of gentle concern with which he regarded the man pains to conceal, "of my unworthy suswhom he had come to visit to inspire mistrust. Yet Spencer cursed the languor which had kept him from recovering the revolver which an hour or more before had slipped from underneath his cushion. "It saves trouble," M. Louis said. "I come to you, M. Spencer, as a friend."

"You alarm me," Spencer murmured M. Louis shrugged his shoulders. "You are pleased to be witty," he answered, "but, indeed, I am no such terrible person. It is permitted that I smoke? "Certainly," Spencer answered, "If you care for wine or liqueurs, pray ring for my servant. I can assure you that it is not by my own will that you find me so indifferent a host."

M. Louis smiled. He drew a gold cigarette case from his pocket and "Since you permit, mon ami," he said. "Good! I speak better when I smoke. You are not so ill. I see, but that you retain that charming sense of humor which your readers have learned so well how to appreciate."

-The justice of the juveni le court in Boston has intimated that he would like to have jurisdiction over delinquent parents as well as over delinquent children. More than half the cases which come Carpenter and Builder. into the juvenile courts give point to such a wish. Child after child is brought in by parents on the accusation of "waywardness," when the parents' way wardness is really blamable. Most of the children who come before the courts for the petty crimes which make up the staple of complaint are the victims of neglect, if not of positive bad example. In most instances, unfortunately, the connection between the child's delinquency and the parents' delinquency is Read! Read! Read! so indirect that no specific provision for punishment in given cases could be made but judges of juvenile courts would be better armed to deal with cases if they had some means of bringing delinquent parents to book. - Milford Gazette.

STRUGGLE STILL ON

Taft and Foraker Factions Seek Supremacy In Ohio

OPEN BATTLE IS AVOIDED

State Central Committee Will Not Have Opportunity to Test Strength of Senator and Secretary--Plan to "Smoke Out" State Officers

Columbus, O., May 15 .- For the present at least the probability of an open fight between the Taft and Foraker-Dick factions of the Republican party in this state has passed. The struggle is still on, however, and the indications are that it will terminate only with the retirement of either Foraker or Taft. Chairman Brown of the Republican state central committee vesterday called off the meeting of that body which was to have been held here today. The meeting of the committee was to have been an adjunct to the general conference of party leaders which was cancelled Monday night by Senator Dick. The Foraker people have all along claimed that the control of the party machinery was in their hands and there was a desire among many followers of Taft to prove the accuracy of this assertion. Telephone calls and telegraph messages rained upon Brown and Vorys, the Taft campaign managers, urging that the state central ommittee meet.

Chairman Brown held conferences with many Republicans yesterday. His first visit was to the office of Governor Harris, with whom he remained for an hour. Then he talked with Vorys for two hours. It was at this latter meet ing that the decision was finally reached to call off the meeting of the state cen tral committee. Brown declared that if a special meeting is desired it can be called at any time.

In the meantime the Taft leaders are planning to "smoke out" the leading officers of the state and invite them to indicate where they stand-for Taft or I'oraker. After this part of the program has been carried out a meeting of the state central committee may be

The Foraker people insist that a managers reply that Brown came out in favor of endorsement for Tar when he issued a statement declareing tha if the conference called by Senator Dick had been held it would "beyond any doubt have given a unanimous endorse ment to Secretary Taft."

Invitations to Christening Madrid, May 15 .- King Alfonso has invited Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, King Edward and King Carlos of Portugal to be honorary sponsors at the baptism of the prince, they being near relatives. This will involve the appointment of special representatives from Austria, England and Portugal, adding greatly to the solemnity and importance of the christening.

Caruso Has His Fine Paid New York, May 15 .- Counsel for Enrico Caruso yesterday paid the $10 fine imposed on the singer last November and withdrew the appeal to the su case. Caruso was arrested for a charge of disorderly conduct. The woman who complained that Caruso had annoyed her never appeared against him. Caruso is now in Paris.

Empress to Compete For Prize Copenhagen, May 15.—It is said here that Japan will be among the competitors for the Nobel prize for literature to be awarded next year. The Empress of Japan is one of the candidates. She possesses pronounced poetic talent and his contributed largely to the phenomenal rise of modern Japan in the literary world.

Confidence In French Ministry Paris, May 15 .- The prolonged and heated debate in the chamber of deputies on the interpellations of the government regarding its labor policy ended in a vote of confidence in the govern ment. The vote was taken after strenuous attack from the extreme so cialists and stood 343 to 210.

New York, May 15 .- "Japan has looked earnestly for an alliance with the United States, because in substance we have always regarded this country as a real ally of Japan. We are desirous of having such an alliance if it could be arranged. As long, though, as any misunderstanding like the anti-Japanese feeling in San Francisco exists it might not be possible to bring about an alliance.'

Thus spoke Baron Ozawa, member of the house of peers and special representative of the Emperor of Japan, in an interview last night. The baron was commissioned by the emperor to ascertain the existence of anti-Japanese feeling in this country and to express the thanks of the emperor to those Americans who aided the Japanese during the severe famine in northeast Japan after the war with Russia. The baron and his party will visit President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft in Washington next

Baron Ozawa said that he would report to the emperor that he found no evidences of anti-Japanese feeling existing anywhere in the country outside of San Francisco. Through his secretary, who acted as interpreter, he added Civil Engineer and Surveyor that the Americans with whom he talked had assured him that the Japanese were regarded as honest and intelligent people and that his countrymen now residing in this country all told him that they were being treated in cordial and friendly manner by Amer-

Asked if Japan proposed to allow the 'open door" to the world in Manchuria, Baron Ozawa said: "There is no ques tion about the open door in Manchuria. Even before the war with Russia we hoped for an open door, and it was for this and the peace of the world that we fought in the Far East."

Baron Ozawa said that Japan had no dreams of further territorial expansion in the Pacific and declared that it was innecessary for her to acquire other possessions.

"Would Japan purchase the Philippines if the United States offered them to her?" was asked.

"Japan has heard much of the Philip pines and I have often talked of them to my fellow-members in the house of peers, replied the baron, "but we do not desire them under the present circumstances. Japan has no objection to the United States owning them and hopes that the United States will always keep the Philippines. If they were to come into the possession of other powers then Japan would consider their ac-

The mikado's representative said that Japan would not increase her navy beyond the limit now planned, as it was only intended to maintain such naval acquipment as would guarantee Japan, Korea and Manchuria. Japan's financial capacity would not allow a further increase of the navy, he frank-

The baron said that Japan had no single idea or thought that it would advance at the coming meeting of the peace tribunal at The Hague and after a moment of reflection added: "Japan does not regard the efforts of The Hague seriously, as the conferences are simply talks and arguments, and nothing of weight or moment is done." Japan, since the war, he said, had sed its best efforts to bring about a satsfactory condition of financial, industrial and government affairs in Korea and was undoubtedly succeeding.

SODA WATER TANK BURST

AND OTHER CARDS. | Two Men Killed, One Badly Injured and Building Wrecked

> explosion of a soda water tank at the bottling works of O. A. Smith, Cyrus and Criger. Keller was instantly killed and Joseph At Detroit: Souci died at a hospital shortly after Detroit ..... 4 10 the accident. C. A. Smith received severe contusions about the head and Batteries—Mullin and Schmidt vere contusions about the head and

The explosion occurred while Frank Pollard was operating the carbonator, with which the tank was being charged. Keller, who came from Exeter yesterday afternoon to visit the proprietor who is a brother-in-law, had just entered the works. Without warning, the tank exploded with a terrific report, wrecking the small 11/2-story wooden building and shaking houses in the vicinity. Keller's head was blown off, and his body otherwise mutilated. Souci, who was an employe, had one leg almost blown off and sustained several fractures of the other leg, fractures of both arms and all his ribs, besides being injured about the head. Smith was severely injured by pieces of wood and other flying debris. Pollard was in the midst of the flying debris, but escaped injury. By appointment with Keller, a brother, Mrs. Smith went to the works to meet him. She arrived just after the explosion.

The exact cause of the explosion i not known. One theory is that it was due to an overcharge of carbonic acid gas, and another is that there may have been a defect in the apparatus.

CLUBS. *

Unusual interest was shown by lub members in the annual meeting eld on Tuesday afternoon in the club house and it was one of the largest meetings of the season.

Mrs.E. C. Bumpus was in the chair and called the meeting promptly at half past two. Reports of the last meeting were given which were folowed by the annual reports.

Owing to the number of reports to be heard they were necessarily briel but were very interesting. Officers and committees to report were: recording secretary, corresponding secretary, treasurer, chairmen of art and literature, arts and crafts, civic betterment, education, hospitality, house

The large balance of over a thusand dollars in the treasury was very pleasing and gives the incoming board ample funds to continue philanthropand educational work as well as to provide a good club program for ext season's meetings. A report which gave a good idea of the real aim and purposes of the club was that of Mrs. Welch of the Philanthropy committee. The good being accomplished by the Visiting Nurse as she daily goes from home to home as her services are needed was clearly and sympathetically set forth. The Nurse's salary of $500 is raised by contributions. Those to contribute the past two years being Dr. and Mrs. Brackett, Quincy Women's club, King's Daughters, and many individual gifts of various amounts. I is hoped to interest the citizens generally so that each year the required sum will be raised without becoming a beriden to the committee. The first year $641.16 was contributed and the past year $596.77, leaving a balance All of the reports expressed pleasire and appreciation of the kindness of Dr. and Mrs. Brackett, who have contributed so much to the success

ANNUAL TEA AND REUNION. Mrs., H. D. Fowler, branch secreary, and twenty members of St. Chrysostom's Branch of the Girls' Friendly Society attended the annual tea and reunion at Mechanics Hall,

Boston, Wednesday afternoon. At seven o'clock the signal was given to form the procession to walk to Trinity Church, where a most impressive service was held. The Rev. Charles Mockridge of Roxbury preaching the sermon, after which Bishop Lawrence spoke. It was an inspiring sight to see and the clergymen occupying the choir stalls.

The Girls' Friendly Society was orcanized by Mrs. Townsend and four friends who met at Lambeth Palace, London, by invitation from the Archishop of Canterbury in 1875. The late Queen Victoria consented to be their patron in 1880. The G. F. S. now count their memership 300,000 and branches exist n far away India, Africa, New Zealand and Australia.

MOVES TO NEW OFFICE.

If the present plans are carried out he Telephone company will move to its new exchange building on Merrymount road Saturday night. Every thing is now in readiness to move and only an accident will prevent.

The local manager says that the loving from one building to another will in no way interrupt service. The new switchboards are already onnected into the lines and the only thing necessary to change over is to have the operators move from the poards in the old building to those in the new building. The cable wires running into the old building will then be cut. Meanwhile however there has been no inerruption in the service. The change over will probably be

A Busy

One of the comparatively new industries in Quincy, of which but little has been said, which furnishes lucrative employment to a large number of girls is the Balfour Manufacturing Co., who have recently moved into its new building on Granite street. The specialty of this company is ladies' cotton and silk mercerized dress nearly one thousand members with skirts and petticoats. At the present their banners assembled in Trinity time the firm employ seventy-five girls who work by the piece and earn good wages. Yet the firm is not working its plant to its full capacity for the reason that it can not get all the help it wants. The new factory building is located at the junction of School and Granite streets. The School street floor is used as a store room and also contains the heating plant. The work rooms are on Granite street and John Curtis & G. H. Field, upper floor. Hundreds of windows are located on all sides of the building making the rooms very light and pleasant.

The Granite street floor is used as a packing and cutting room. Two tables extend the entire length of the room upon which the cloth is laid for cutting. From 48 to 96 strips of cloth are laid out at one time. The patterns laid on and the cloth cut with a very sharp pointed knife.

The cloth is then taken to the upper coom where it is made into skirts. In this room there are at present fifty sewing machines which are F. Roach, pastor of St. Mary's church, operated by girls. Power to run them is furnished by an electric motor and all an operator has to do to start will be held at St. Mary's church Saturthe machine is to press her foot on a day morning. leaver and the machine is in opera-

The work done by these machines almost inconceivable. some of them have one needle while there are others that have as many as five needles all working at one time. They run very fast making 3000 stitches a minute.

Every skirt is carefully inspected before it leaves the factory so that none but perfect goods are shipped They are shipped all over the country some going even as far as California The capacity of the factory is 100 dozen skirts per day.

Everything possible is done health and comfort of the employes. The work in its self is clean and the shop is made equally as clean. The rooms are swept thoroughly every day and the trimmings are burned in the furnace. All shafting is protected so that it is impossible for a girl to catch her skirt and be injured. There are also numerous fire extinguishers placed about the building and Read! Read! broad stairways so that in case of fire there would be ample opportunity

> The firm have many orders ahead and are now at work upon goods for out samples for other seasons.

Great Cotton Centres Follow the Lead of Fall River

ADVANCE FOR FULLY 85.000

Rhode Island Corporations the Latest to Fall Into Line -- Increase Generally Amounts to Ten Percent, to Go Into Effect on May 27

Boston, May 16 .- According to advices from the leading cotton mill centers of southern New England fully $5,000 operatives will have their wages advanced about 10 percent beginning May 27. The latest upward movement in mill wages originated in Fall River, where a new agreement recently announced provides for a higher schedule May 27. About 30,000 hands are employed by Fall River mills. Nearly 25,000 operatives in New Bedford will also receive a 10 percent advance, announcement of which was made Tues-

The cotton manufacturers of Rhode Island last night ordered notices to be posted in all their mills in Rhode Island, eastern Connecticut and at several points in Massachusetts, where they own mills, announcing a wage increase is named Curry. He will probably find of approximately 10 percent on May 27. The advance will affect about 25,- 000 operatives. The action was taken by the Goddard Bros., B. V. & R. Knight, and the Manville corporation, owned by the Lippitts, Rhode Island, in co-operation with the smaller mill interests. The Goddards Mr. W. T. Stead says "Americans own many mills in Lonsdale, Berkely to the court of appeals. Cullen denies stone, Mass., and other places. The Knights have more than a dozen mills in Providence, Woonsocket, Arctic, Natick, Pontiac, Riverpoint, Jackson, Westerly and other Rhode Island vilages, and Hebronville, Dodgeville, Readville and Manchaug, Mass. The Lippitts have half a dozen plants, including the Manville company of Manville, and the Globe, Social and Nourse > mills of Woonsocket, R. I. The smaller mill owners in Rhode Island have agreed to follow the action of the three larger corporations, and it s understood that similar advances wil be made by the mills of North Uxbridge, Linwood, Saundersville, Fisherville, Whitinsville, and Northbridge, Mass. all in the Blackstone valley. The latter mills employ about 1500 hands.

At this time it is not known what ac tion, if any, will be taken by the mills in northern New England. The wage question has not been considered in Boston mill offices which control practically all the mills in New Hamp shire, Maine, Lowell, Lawrence, Palmer, Ware, Chicopee and Holyoke. Three print cloth mills in New Hamp shire and one in Maine usually adopt the Fall River wage list, and it is prob able they will make a change when the mills of that city do so. The Canadian cotton mills are also revising the wage lists. Half a dozen corporations in Quebec province and two mills in St. John advanced wages The Chief of Police have caused signs about 10 percent this month.

Makes an Impressive Address In San Francisco Court

UNABLE TO BEAR THE STRAIN

Says He Desires to Make Reparation by Helping to Overthrow System of Corruption Which He Organized and Restore His Character

San Francisco, May 16 .- Abraham Ruef, nervous and pallid, in Judge Dunne's court, pleaded guilty to the crime of extortion, the felony for which he was to have been tried by the jury already selected. Before Ruef arose his attorneys, Henry Ach, Samue Shortridge and Frank Murphy, one by one, stated to the court that, owing to grave difference of opinion with their client, each of them must withdraw rom the case

Judge Dunne, at the termination of Ruef's address, made no comment, ex ept to continue the case two weeks or sentence.

When Ruef arose to plead, the court oom was crowded. Ruef first acmowledged the work done by his vaious attorneys, thanking them for their riendship, counsel and guidance. Then he continued:

"This trial has become a threatening anger to my health, both mental and physical. I am unable to bear the strain any longer. The strain on those nearest and dearest to me is undermining hem. They are on the verge of colapse. Their lives hang in the balance nd I must take some action.'

Ruef, who evidently was laboring under great emotion, after pausing a monent, continued:

"I have occupied a prominent posiion in this city. I hope to remain here, nd this will be the place of my eternal leep. Heretofore I have borne an conored name in my professional life. There has been no stain upon my honor and until the present board of super visors was elected there was no act of mine that could be justly censured Nevertheless, owing to the assaults of the press, I have been placed in a wrong light and have been burdened with a

"It is true that in order to hold to gether the political machine which had built up with great difficulty I did lower the high political ideal that I had hitherto upheld. Last night I reached oresaid, comprising Lots Nos. 16, 17, 18, 21, the conclusion that there might still be 2 and 23 on a plan entitled "Plan of Land of an opportunity to make some effort to P. Quiney, at Wollaston Park, Quincy, restore myself in the public favor and ineer and Surveyor," and duly recorded and still lies in my power to help overthrow the system which has made possible the outheasterly by lots numbered nineteen and terrible corruption of public officials humblest citizen. "I am making the greatest sacrifice that could befall a human being of my disposition-namely, to acknowledge myself in public favor. Duty calls me wherever the path may lead, but am not guilty of the charge made against me in this instance. Nevertheless, on account of the reasons stated I withdraw my plea of not guilty and enter a plea of guilty."

As Ruef resumed his seat he was trembling and his face was the color of parchment. Tears coursed down his cheeks. A crowd gathered about him. but the bailiff thrust them away. Ruef sat alone, save for the protection of the bailiff and the elisor. His attorneys cision to tell all and throw himself upon the court's mercy. Ruef, who was the acknowledged adviser of Mayor Schmitz and once the recognized dictator of muhicipal affairs in San Francisco, in the course of a long conversation with a representative of The Associated Press, said:

"I have made no confession. I know much. Some things I shall tell and some things I shall not tell. Whenever an innocent man has been forced into corruption against his will that man I shall protect. Whenever a man, be he high or low, has entered into corruption with his eyes open, that man I shall ex-

"I will not say at the present moment that Mayor Schmitz is guilty of the charges that have been brought against him or that he is innocent. I will say this: I wanted to break away from Schmitz before his re-election a year ago last November and said to him: 'I am sick of the whole thing and I want to get out. I can't stand for all these labor union bums you have gathered around you and will appoint. They would eat the paint off a house.'

"In answer, the mayor begged me to stay with him and put up the argument that these fellows must be allowed heir share or we could never hold the machine together. There was all too much truth in that. I stayed with Schmitz and I stayed with the machine that I at great labor and pains had built up.'

In Test Case Brought by State Against New Haven Road

HEAD OF MANY COMPANIES

Majority of Directors of Several Street Railways Were Officials of His Road In October Last--Trolleys Not Operated as Part of New Haven

Boston, May 16 .- President Mellen of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad was the principal witness at a hearing in the superior court here in the case brought as a test by the attorney general of Massachusetts against the New Haven road to restrain Quincy 458-2. that corporation from buying and controlling street railway lines within the confines of Massachusetts. Winfield S. Slocum, as master, heard the testimony and in addition to Mellen, J. E. Parker, secretary of the New Haven road, was

Mr. Mellen's testimony was largely in corroboration of testimony which he had given at legislative hearings on the case, and emphasized the fact that the MR. E. LANDIS SNYDER street railway companies were not operated as a part of the New York, New Haven and Hartford system.

Mr. Mellen said that in addition to be ing the head of the New Haven road he was president of the Springfield Railway company, the Consolidated Railway company, the Springfield Street Railway company, the New Engand Investment and Security com pany, the Western Massachusetts Street Railway company, Berkshire Street Railway company, Worcester and Southbridge Street Railway company and the Worcester and Blackstone Street Railway company.

Attorney General Malone, who conducted the case for the state, asked Mellen how he made a difference in all those corporations of which he was president. "Why," said Mellen, "I differentiate just the same as I do when I am acting as a director of the Rhode Island Trust company, a director of the several banks with which I am connected, and in all these instances I act in the individual cases as an individual director.'

In answer to questions by Malone, Mellen said that the annual meetings the exception of the Springfield Railway company, were held at New Haven. Malone then read a list of directors of the several street railway companies and Mellen said that on Oct. 3 last a majority of them were officials of the New Haven road.

Mr. Mellen said that in many instances the transfers of stock of the trolley lines were made at his direction. he then acting as president of the board of directors of the Consolidated Railway company. Concerning the Consolidated Railway company, Mellen said that its original policy was to merge the several trolley lines in order properly and efficiently to carry on the business. He explained that it was more of an operating company than a company to float other roads. This company, he testified, operated over 500 miles of road in Connecticut and six miles in Massachusetts. During Mellen's testimony the attorney general asked: "Don't you domi nate the boards of directors of the different corporations of which you are president? You have said that what you say goes on those boards."

"I do not. I did not say so," replied Mellen. After reading several reports and documents admitted at other hearings on this suit, Mellen was excused and the hearing was adjourned.

Merger Practically Agreed Upon Boston, May 16 .- At the conclusion of a long conference with President Mellen and Vice President Byrnes of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, Mayor Fitzgerald announced that he had learned that the management of the New Haven road feels confident of its ability to carry out its merger plan with the Boston and Maine system. "If the plans of Mr. Mellen and his associates are carried out," said the mayor, "the New Haven road intends to spend at least $60,000,-000 in improvements in this city."

New Official of New Haven Road New Haven, May 16.—Benjamin FRANK F. CRANE Campbell, at present fourth vice presi dent of the Great Northern railway, has been appointed a vice president of the New Haven system and will have charge of all traffic, freight, passenger, mail and express business, which for the past two years has been under President Mellen's personal direction.

Forgery Warrant to Be Asked New York, May 16 .- A warrant charging forgery against one of the defendants in the case of G. R. Scrugham, manager of the International Policyholders' Committee, and C. F. Carrington and Charles Stirrup, under arrest on a charge of conspiracy, will be asked for by the prosecution, which has practically finished its case.

Life Sentence For Boy Murderer St. Louis, May 16 .- On a plea of guilty to a charge of murder in the second degree, John Stapp, 15 years old was sentenced by Judge Williams to 99 Decorator and Paper Hunger. years in the penitentiary. Stapp was charged with having stabbed to death Mrs. Otillie Kraus.

SUBMARINES UNDER WATER

Twenty-Four Hours

Newport, R. I., May 16 .- The submarines Lake and Octopus, after some preliminary maneuvers under the direction of the naval trial board, were submerged at Bradford for their 24 hours' submerged habitability test. The members of the trial board decided not to go down on either of the boats, but will remain nearby on board the gunboat Hist and the submarine tender Nina during the 24 hours that the submarines are under water.

Union Should Settle Dispute

Boston, May 16 .- The petitions of T. B. Hickey and C. P. Murray for writs of mandamus against Secretary-Treasurer Baine of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union of America for certificates of their election as general vice president respectively were dismissed by the supreme court, which decided that t was incumbent on Hickey and Murray to have exhausted their remedies for the situation within the union before asking the court to interfere, having failed to take advantage which the constitution of the order gave them the right to. Both Hickey and Murray appeared to have been elected at the election of the general officers held last September.

Police Officer Roughly Used Boston, May 16 .- Police Officer Anthony J. Fitzpatrick was terribly beaten on Rutherford avenue, Charlestown, by five thugs who were later rounded up and arrested by a squad of patrolmen. Fitzpatrick presented a pitiful sight when he reached the staion house. Both of his eyes were discolored and almost gouged out of his head, his nose was broken and his jaw fractured in two places. He also lost many of his teeth.

Dynamite Lying Around Loose Everett, Mass., May 16.-Enough lynamite to blow the people of this city nto eternity was found scattered brough the back yards in the rear of Malden street, Nichols street and County road by the people living in that neighborhood. In all, about 100 pounds was distributed by the boys, who scattered 76 pounds and buried the rest. A gang of small boys are responsible for the panic caused by the finding of the dynamite. Strikers Agree to Conference Boston, May 16 .- The striking team drivers have accepted the invitation of he New England Civic Federation to confer with the master teamsters in or der that the attitude of each side may become fully understood. The invitaon was also addressed to the 10 firms f master teamsters who have been struck. Although the union has acepted the invitation, no answer has yet been received from the master teamsters.

Autoist Killed In Accident Somerville, Mass., May 16 .- J. F. Bradley was killed and four others badly injured in an automobile accident here today. The injured included two women and were taken to the Massachusetts general hospital. It is expected that one of the injured, whose names were not learned, will not survive. The occupants of the car were thrown out on the Wellington bridge ver the Mystic river. Record Train-Wreck Claims

Hartford, May 16 .- Claims amountng to $110,500 have already been preented to the accident department of the Aetna Insurance company as the result of the wreck of the Shriners' rain at Honda, Cal. Vice President Faxen says that the claims against the ompany will doubtless amount to $175,000, the largest loss, he believes, ever sustained by an accident company through one wreck.

Young Heath's Body Laid Away Brunswick, Me., May 16 .- The funeral of Norris W. Heath, the victim of the Bowdoinham murder Saturday night, was conducted by two elders of the Holy Ghost and Us colony at Shiloh. Four playmates of Heath acted as bearers. Among those in attendance were two young brothers of Sydney Preble, the confessed slaver of Heath. The burial was in the Brown's Point be the Socialists and the anti-Semites.

Up from the bottom of the bay came he submarine boats Octopus and Lake late Thursday afternoon after their 24 hours' continuous submergence test. the worse for the experience.

It was the close of the long comparative possibility test of the two boats as prescribed by the navy department. Incidentally all records of sustained life under the sea had been broken, the 17 hours for which a party on the submarine boat Fulton was submerged at New Suffolk, L. I. in the spring of 1902, having been the previous record.

As the effect of the air in a submaine is a much more important detail of such a test than the matters of comfort and facilities for cooking and sleeping, the board hurried aboard each boat as it came up, to get a sniff of the n a general way.

The Octopus blew out foul air only wice during the 24 hours she was at the bottom of the bay. It was comair supply was exhausted, and if these figures are correct they tend to show hat the boat could remain submerged 45 days, provided the food and fuel

Gibson Reading Largely Attended

Quincy people are interested in everal very worthy charities among them being the maintaining of a day jug under each arm and a man chasnursery where working mothers may ing him was given the early risers of leave their little ones and have them properly cared for at slight expense.

To aid in the work and to raise and the jugs were said to contain funds to carry it on, the Dorothy Q. house was opened through the courtesy of the Colonial Dames on Tuesday afternoon for a reading by Mr. Charles Gibson of Boston. Tickets were quickly subscribed for and there was a long list of patronesses.

Mr. Gibson was introduced by Mrs E. C. Bumpus, who arranged the entertainment. The reading was given in the large kitchen which was completely filled; the old time setting and jars of daffies, tulips and narcissus lending a poetic air in keeping with the entertainment

Mr. Gibson first gave his lecture on the "American Poets" which was followed by an original poem written for the occasion entitled "The Child at the Door," concluding with Longfellow's "The Children's Hour" and Holmes', "Dorothy Q."

Following the reading, tea was erved in the dining room the pourers being Mrs. Dexter E. Wadsworth and Miss Waterhouse of Wollaston. Miss Alice Keith Prescott served

Arrested For Stealing Beer

An amusing spectacle of seeing a man running along the street with a Granite street this morning. The man was John Ogeila of 144 Granite street

Previous to that time the jugs were cooling off in the cellar of Edward Kjellonder at 174 Granite street.

Ogella woke up this morning with a burning thirst which nothing but eer would quench. Without saying by your leave it is alleged that he forced the cellar door at the house of Kjellonder and took two gallon jugs, each of which contained beer. This was at 5.15 o'clock and alhough early, was not too early for the owner to be about. He spotted the thief and gave chase, Ogella was fleet of foot, however, and escaped. It then would appear that he went home and after emptying the beer in the jugs into his tank, went to bed to finish his sleep. Here he was found later by Lieut. McKay, who was armed with a warrant for breaking and entering that had been sworn out by Kjellonder.

Ogella was given a ride to the poice station where he was given an opportunity to finish his sleep and reflect on what the consequences would be when he faces Judge Avery in the morning.

BEING WELL TREATED

Denies That Duress or Force Was Usedto Secure His Statements to the Authorities, or That Any Promises Were Made In That Connection

Boise, Ida., May 17.—Harry Orchard, the prisoner witness upon whom the state of Idaho chiefly relies to prove its charge that an inner circle of the Western Federation of Miners planned the murder of ex-Governor Steunenberg, broke his long silence yesterday and for more than half an hour discussed himself and his imprisonment with representatives of The Associates Press.

Orchard is perfectly sound in body; clear and quick of brain. If there was ever anything in the reports that he was breaking in health and mind, there is nothing now to give them a shadow of suggestion. The one condition imposed on the inerview by Warden Whitney was that there must be no discussion of the 'case" and the prisoner himself asked that the same condition be observed. As Abigail Adams Circle, C. of F. of A., far as appearances go the prisoner will hold a concert and dance Tuesday might have traveled any walk in life traversed.

"I do not care to talk about the case as it stands at this time," he said, af-George Bailey went to Maine on ter the introductions and commonyou ask me anything that I think I > have been here my treatment has been fine-all that I could expect under the circumstances. I have been treated take no other form of exercise."

> "Is there anything as to your treatsay to the public at this time?" he was asked.

"Do you read much?" "Yes, I have done an immense amount of reading. I see the newspapers, but I read books the most. Much ligious. I used to read a great deal of other literature and a lot of novels." "Why did you change?" asked one of Orchard hesitated a moment and then in a quiet voice said: "It is like a man who has been doing wrong all his life and suddenly decides to do right. He cannot undo all the wrongs he has done, but he can at least do something

The question of the confinement and treatment of the prisoner was reverted to later and Orchard said:

"I have not talked to any newspape man since I have been here. I felt that I did not have anything to say and I did not want too much prominence I could have seen the newspaper men had I wanted to. I am free to go anywhere in the yard and to speak to anyone. There are some good men out here, brought to prison by misfortune, and I talk to them. I attend the religious services and I talk to some of the men in the hope of doing them some good."

The last formal question of the interview was directly answered. It was: "Was force or duress of any kind used on you in securing your alleged confession or statement and have any promises of any kind made to you a that connection?"

"I have never admitted and don't admit now that I have ever made a confession," said Orchard. "Mind that. But at no time was I ever subjected to force or pressure of any kind, and anything I ever said to Captain Mc-Partland was without force or threat of any kind. Anything I said was of my own free will and accord. It was just as I talked to you here. There was nothing else. No promise of any kind has ever been made me by Captain McPartland or anyone else."

Orchard's manner and conversation tended strongly to confirm the assertion that he has been reconverted to and is deeply interested in Chrisgianity.

As a precautionary measure the actual place in the penitentiary where Orchard is confined is kept secret.

May Reduce Armament Burdens London, May 17 .- The announcement made by Sig. Tittoni, the Italian foreign minister, that Italy might participate in a discussion of the British proposal looking to the limitation of armaments, while agreeing with the Austro-German reservation on the subject, has caused the greatest satisfaction, as it is practically all Great Britain asked the powers to do, believing that it may result in bringing nearer the day when the burdens imposed by armaments can be reduced.

REGRETS HIS ACTION

Minister Clarke Begs Pardon For Officiating at Corey-Gilman Wedding

New York, May 17 .- Rev. John L. Clarke, D. D., pastor of the Bushwick Avenue Congregational church, Brookiyn, who recently officiated at the marriage in this city of W. E. Corey, president of the United States Steel corporation, and Miss Mabelle Gilman, submitted to the credentials committee of the church, at a meeting last night, a letter in which the minister begged forgiveness for having performed the marriage ceremony in question.

In the letter, Clarke said he realized that he had done a great wrong both to the congregation of his church and to the Christian conception of the marrlage relation in marrying a divorced person, and he said he would humbly receive whatever censure the committee night impose. Dr. Clarke concluded by promising to use his ecclesiastical office in the future in accordance with the principles of his denomination. He added that he had repaid the fee which was given him at the wedding.

The committee decided to recom mend in its report to the congregation that, in view of the pastor's integrity and righteousness, together with his letter of apology, no further action in the matter be taken.

Had Plans of Naval Station

Paris, May 17 .- The police of this city have been engaged for the past two months in tracking a band of international spies and last night their leader, an Englishman named Blanchard, was arrested in this city. The band gained possession of plans of Bi zerta, an important naval station of France in Tunis, which they offered to sell to the French minister of marine for $3000, threatening otherwise to dispose of them to a foreign government. The search for the others con-Fined $20,000 For Giving Rebates New York, May 17 .- The Chicago. Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway com oany, through Charles C. Keeler, its counsel, pleaded guilty in the United States circuit court on two indictments recently returned against the railroad for paying rebates on coffee shipments to the Woolson Spice company of Toedo. Judge Holt imposed a fine of $20,000, which Keeler paid at once with the understanding that 13 other counts would be dismissed.

Stephenson Wins In Wisconsin Madison, Wis., May 17.-The Wis onsin senatorial deadlock was broker ast night by the nomination of former Congressman Isaac Stephenson. Th final result was: Stephenson, 54; Esch 23; Hatten, 19; scattering, 3.. The bal iot ended a deadlock existing since April 16. Since that time a daily ballot has been taken in the legislature in joint session and nearly 80 ballots were taken in the Republican caucus

Wheat Takes a Sudden Rise

Chicago, May 17.-Wheat prices of the Board of Trade again crossed the $1 mark yesterday on a sensationa alge which carried September up to 00 3-4 and December to 102. At the same time July advanced to 991/2. Th upturn was due to reports that this year's wheat crop in Europe and Amer ica would be greatly below the normal owing to injury by unfavorable weath cr and insects.

People Were Dying In Streets women, children and aged persons. who were dying of starvation in the streets of Sing Kiang Pu, were placed yesterday in a camp outside the city and are now being fed by the relief organizations. Famine and fever are spreading. The funds sent recently wil

W. H. Roberts of Philadelphia, who was chosen by acclamation. Roberts is regarded as one of the ablest men in the church.

Twenty Injured In Railroad Wreck Ogdensburg, N. Y., May 17.-Spreadng rails wrecked a fast mail on the Rutland railroad, four miles east of here, and 20 persons were injured, six seriously. There were 65 passengers in the smoking car and these, with the train crew, only suffered. The 10 occupants of the only coach in the train escaped unharmed.

Lake Steamer Reported Sunk Duluth, May 17.-It is reported here that the United States Steel corporation steamer Saxon struck a rock while passing Caribou island, opposite Michipicoten, Lake Superior, and went to the bottom. The crew was saved. The steamer was running at full speed.

More Testimony Against Soldiers Washington, May 17 .- Two witnesses in the Brownsville investigation before the senate committee on military affairs yesterday testified that they saw negro soldiers shooting up the Texas town on the night of Aug. 13. Stromboli Wakes Up Again

Messina, Sicily, May 17 .- A violent eruption of the Stromboli volcano occurred yesterday. It was preceded by a tremendous detonation and followed by continous less violent explosions. The Weather Forecast

Danderine

GREW MISS CARROLL'S HAIR

PROVE IT Beautiful Hair At Small Cost.

WITHIN the last decade great and rapid strides have been made in Materia Medica. Many diseases that were considered incurable fifteen years ago are now cured in a few days, and in many cases prevented altogether. The scientists of late years have been delving for the cause, the foundation, the reason and the starting point of disease, fully realizing that the actual and true cause must be ascertained before the remedy can be located. Hair troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp, and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment, and when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all of its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions).

The natural and logical thing to do in either case is, feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is identical with the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp. It feeds and nourishes the hair and does all the work originally carried on by the natural nutrients or life-giving juices generated by the scalp itself. It penetrates the pores of the scalp quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and lifeproducing qualities.

One twenty-five-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy-try it and see for yourself. Now on sale at every drug and toilet store in the land. Three sizes, 25c, 5oc and $1.00.

> Ruef Was Offered Immunity San Francisco, May 17 .- Abraham Ruef said last evening: "That I did not take my stand yesterday without long consideration you may believe when I tell you that two months ago the prosecution offered to let me off on everything if I would confess to Burns. I turned them down." Ruef went before the grand jury yesterday after-noon. The jury adjourned last night without returning any indictments.

Met Death In Curious Manner New York, May 17.-Alonzo B. Jones, aged 60, a well known retired architect and yachtsman, died last night as a result of injuries sustained in falling from his bed. Jones was found unconscious on the floor of his apartment. A piece of a broken china cuspidor was imbedded in his side and a large amount of blood had poured from the wound. There was also a contu sion on the architect's head.

Prosecuted on Complaint of Thaw New York, May 17 .- On complaint of Counsel for Harry K. Thaw, John Hanser was fined $100 for exhibiting moving pictures purporting to be a representation of the Thaw-White tragedy. Hanser's arrest was brought about by Thaw, who heard of the pic tures being on exhibition in an amuse ment place. Thaw's attorney declared that the pictures were harmful and not what they purported to be.

William J. Stevens, for several years local station agent at Swansea, R. I., was peacefully promenading his platform one morning when a rash dog ventured to snap at one of William's plump legs. Stevens promptly kicked the animal halfway across the tracks, and was immediately confronted by the owner, who demanded an explanation in language more forcible than "Why," said Stevens when the other

In one of the churches of New York, according to District Attorney Jerome, there was once an old woman who insisted on bowing her head every time the name of Satan was mentioned dur ing the service or sermon. The rector, after noticing the eccentricity for many months, asked her: "Madam, why do you bow at the name of Satan? It is not customary, you know.' "Oh, I know that," she said, "but it doesn't cost anything to be polite, and one never knows what will happen."

On the Job.

A New York printer who occupies a floor in Seventeenth street directed one | had it sent to Mr. McKeen. of his clerks to hang out a "Boy Wanted" sign at the street entrance a few days ago. The card had been swinging in the breeze only a few minutes when a red headed little tad climbed to the printer's office with the sign under his arm.

"Say, mister," he demanded of the printer, "did youse hang out this here 'Boy Wanted' sign?"

"I did," replied the printer sternly. "Why did you tear it down?" Back of his freckles the youngster

Couldn't Go to Egypt.

An old gentleman advertised for an agreeable companion to visit Egypt with him. This advertisement was seen late at night by a young man who had been dining freely. "A fit," promptly answered the boy.

Passed In the Dark.

It is said that General Knyphausen, who commanded the Hessian mercenaries in America in 1776, knew little about the sea and less about geography. On the voyage to America he was on Lord Howe's ship, where he passed several uncomfortable weeks, as the voyage was unusually long. Knyphausen was a martinet so far as discipline was concerned. He had strong scruples against interfering, but the time came when he could keep silence no longer. He marched stiffly up to the admiral and said: "My lord. I know it is the duty of a soldier to be submissive at sea; but being intrusted with the troops of his serene highness. my master. I feel it my duty to inquire if it be not possible that during the extremely dark nights we have lately had we may have sailed past America."—Detroit Free Press.

Don't You Like This Town?

You live here. Your business interests are here. Your home is

You are reading a Mail Order Catalogue. That indicates that you are not spending your money in this town. You are spending it with strangers in a big city. That city has no use for this town except to get your money.

This town has use for your money. If spent here, your money will help to build up the town. It will help to build up your own business.

In the long run more of your money will come back to you if you spend it at home than if you send it to Chicago or some other large city. You spend a dollar with Smith, up the street. Smith spends it with Brown, around the corner. Brown is just as likely to spend it with you . as with anybody else. Did you ever think of that?

All of us have to spend money. There is an art in spending it where it will do the most good. If spent so that it will circulate around this town and community, it will help this town and community. You belong to this town and community. Therefore it will help you. Isn't that good logic?

Homes in Quincy.

Slumbering in its heritage of history, as the birthplace of John Adams. the second President of the United States: John Hancock, the illustrious statesman, and signer of the Declaration of Independence; John Quincy Adams, son of John, and sixth President of the United States; and other notable people, Quincy has roused itself but seldom for observation and appreciation of its surroundings, and its beautiful territory of original forest and farm-lands, bordering crescent like upon its bay; and save in the dream and realization of 'Wolaston Heights"; bestirring some Hunter's Joy at West Quincy and Atlantic; no real awakening has been manifest. age worn, maybe, but still in circulation. I am proud culation. I am no tomato can dollar-not I.

This town is only my adopted home, but I like it and hope to remain permanently. When I came out of the mint I was adopted into a town like this in another state. But after a time I was sent off to a big city, many miles away. I turned up in a Mail Order house. For several years I stayed in that city. Millionaires bought cigars with me. I didn't like that, for I believe in the plain people.

Finally a traveling man brought me to this town and left me here. I was so glad to get back to a smaller town that I determined to make desperate efforts to stay.

One day a citizen of this town was about to send me back to that big city. I caught him looking over a Mail Order Catalogue. Suddenly I found my voice and said to him-he was a dentist, by

"Now, look here, doc. If you'll only let me stay in this town I'll circulate around and do you lots of good. You buy a big beefsteak with me, and the butcher will buy groseries, and the grocer will buy dry goods, and the dry goods merchant will pay his doctor's bill with me, and the doctor will spend me with a farmer for oats to feed his buggy horse, and the farmer will buy some fresh beef from the butcher, and the butcher will come around to you and get his tooth mended. In the long run, as you see, I'll be more useful to you here at home than if you'd send me away forever."

Doc said it was a mighty stiff argument. He hadn't looked at it in that light before. So he went and bought the big beefsteak, and I began to circulate around home again.

Now, just suppose all the other dollars that are sent to Chicago or some other big city were kept circulating right here at home. You could ser this town grow.

So far as the Republican party is concerned, there is no question as to the ticket next fall. It is generally agreed that it will be the same as that nominated last year, and Governor Guild and Lieutenant Governor Draper will both receive a renomination.

The question then is solely as to the Democratic nominees. With the first place practically decided, it is interesting to know what are the probabilities in regard to the second place. Thus far the name most commonly mentioned is that of E. Gerry Brown of Brockton, who was the eandidate of the party last year, and who was, as a matter of fact, primarily the candidate of the Independence League for that position. This league placed Mr. Brown in nomi-Lation before the Democratic state con-

The Making of a Successful Husband

By CASPAR S. YOST.

There Has Been Frequent Assertion to the Contrary, but the Fact Remains That the Best Place For a Married Man After Dark Is at Home is is is [Copyright, 1905, by C. S. Yost.] EAR JOHN-I get the notion in and possibly some you have no right to spare, with the boys at the club.

Now, John, I don't purpose to give you a curtain lecture on the evilg of clubs. As a rule, they are pretty good institutions. Of course there are clubs and clubs, but there is no doubt in my mind that the properly conducted men's club is one of the necessities of the present day life in the city. I belong to three of them myself and know their value. They are not, as some people seem to believe, mere gambling dens or drinking places in disguise. In all really first class clubs gambling is strictly prohibited, and intoxicating liquors are no more in evidence than at any respectable hotel. 'All this, of course, you know very well, and I mention it simply to show you right at the start that I have no feeling against the club as an institution.

But, my boy, no matter how many clubs he may belong to nor how good

they are, they don't alter the eternal fact that the best place for a married man after dark is at home. I'm not in favor of reviving the curfew law, nor do I mean to say that a man should never leave the house at night. I drop into one of my clubs in the evening once or twice a week, and I am satisfied that this occasional association with my fellow men does me good. But I don't leave home more often than that unless your mother goes with me, and when I go to the club I never stay

Hoping that you are, I want to try to inject a few facts into your carcass for the benefit of your wife as well as yourself. It may do some good, and it may not. At any rate, it will relieve my mind.

As I was about to say when the trolley slipped, your wife didn't marry you to get a boost into society. She married you for yourself, and noth ing less than yourself will satisfy her. She married you to get a husband, a companion, and it is your presence, your loving companionship, that she desires above all material considerations. This more than anything else she is entitled to, and there is nothing else so easy to give her; there is nothing else so much to your personal advantage.

How Would You Like It?

Try it on yourself and see how it works. Suppose the conditions of the sexes were reversed, as some humorists predict. Suppose you were tied up in the home all day with no one to talk to, except the servants or an occasional visitor. Suppose if your wife ing alone. the conditions are not different! Neglect is just as hard on a woman as it would be on a man similarly placed. And the daily desertion of a wife is neglect pure and simple. It isn't a nice word to a man who imagines he is doing his whole duty, but it's the only one that will fill the bill. How many divorce cases have been caused by neglect of this kind I don't know, but I'll bet my best horse it's more than half the total.

What in the name of Grover Cleveland can you expect of a woman if you go gallivanting around every night and leave her to her own devices? . While you are out with the boys having a good time what do you suppose she is doing? I can tell you. She is trying to read or to do a little fancy work and getting mighty small satisfaction out my head from a few random of the job. She is getting up every ten three letters that you are put- look for you. She is wondering why

Under such circumstances the brain has talk to, to read to or just to be there a queer way of calling up unwelcome and unpleasant pictures. Night after night of this will turn the most ardent love into indifference. It will dry up the heart and sour the blood of the most long suffering woman on earth, and then the fool man wonders what has changed his wife and of course blames her. He thinks it all over and says to himself that he has given her everything in the world she has asked for or could want. He has been a true, kind and faithful husband, and her conduct is therefore inexcusable. He forgets that he has denied her that which she considers of far greater importance than all the rest, that which she desires far more than fine cloth- to give you the joy of her presence, ing-his companionship.

Here's an Example.

There was Jimmy Rogers, a member of one of my clubs, as fine a fellow as ever walked the streets, every inch a man, generous to a fault, straight as a footrule, a stanch friend and one of the best story tellers I ever heard. He was devoted to his wife, but he was monotone fades into a thin line of an inveterate clubman. He never dreamed he was neglecting her, for, like many women, she endured in silence, became a confirmed misanthrope and finally died of nervous prostration the victim of her own imaginings. The club cannot give any satisfactory substitute for this. The one is an artificial institution; the other is divine.

Still, as I said before, I would not have you give up your club if you can afford the expense. Get out with the boys once in awhile. It won't do you any harm, if you come home sober and financially whole. But make the club the occasional diversion. Reserve the great majority of your evenings for Anna May, who is worth more to you than all the clubs in Christendom, than all the friends you can make therein, stanch and valuable however they may be. Spend your evenings with her. Have your friends in occasionally in an informal way. Visit them in the same way-with your wife. Go to the thon ter or other places of amusement-with your wife. Age Brought on Despondency

New York, May 18 .- Surrounded by every evidence of luxury, but apparently despondent because of his advancing years, Edwin M. Bidwell, aged 60, a photographer and publisher, well known in New York's exclusive clubs, ended his life by taking poison. His body was found in his gorgeously furnished apartmen. He left a note reading: 'My mind is sound, but my body is weak. I am no longer capable of making a living." The furnishings and decorations in his apartments were of sufficient value, had he cared to discircumstances the remainder of his life.

Strike Violence at Evansville

Evansville, Ind., May 18.-After a day of rioting, violence and accidents, the second day of the street car strike ended with one man dead, six persons injured and street car traffic suspended. A street car manned by a non-union crew jumped a curve and crashed into a two-story building, killing James Cates and injuring four persons. Two strikebreakers were assaulted by a mob and Felix Oden's ear was cut off and his arm was fractured.

Fishermen's Rights Violated

Washington, May 18 .- Representative Gardner, representing the Gloucester (Mass.) district, is conferring with state department officials respecting the recent decision of the Newfoundland court that the fishermen of that colony cannot legally be shipped on American fishing smacks outside the three-mile limit to fish within territorial waters. Gardner regards the decision as constituting a blow at the treaty rights of American fishermen.

Baptists Make Hughes President Washington, May 18 .- Governor Charles E. Hughes of New York was elected president of the new northern Baptist convention, which was organized here. This action was taken at the general meeting of the delegates to the general Baptist societies in session here and other Baptist laymen who are in attendance.

None of the proceedings are solidly in favor of his candidacy, before the referee will become public, and declares that Senators Foraker and as his report is sealed. Dick owe it to themselves and their friends to settle the report that they are secretly supporting the candidacy of Vice President Fairbanks.

He declares, moreover, that the sentiment for Taft is so strong that if further opposed or in any way misrepresented by Foraker and Dick it will burst all bounds and demand expression in a popular convention.

"There is, of course," said Brown, "a number of men in various parts of the state indebted to Senators Foraker and Dick for benefits received. PROSECUTION NOT BLAMED

Holds Governor Responsible, and Says Interview Was Given to In-Ifluence Jurors--Judge Says That Recurrence Must Be Prevented

Boise, Ida., May 18.-Judge Wood, presiding at the trial of William D. Haywood, secretary of the Western Federation of Miners, for the murder of former Governor Steunenberg, has directed the prosecuting attorney of Ada county to make an investigation of the circumstances under which Harry Orchard, confessed slayer of Steunenberg, was interviewed for publication, and take any legal steps that his inquiry show to be warranted.

Judge Wood drew attention to the publication of the interviews when he ascended the bench yesterday and his request of counsel for advice as to the manner in which the court should deal with the incident brought from the defense the charge that Governor Gooding and certain newspapers, moved by the disclosure that there exists prejudice against Harry Orchard, had sought to influence the jury by an attempt to bolster up the credence that may be given to Orchard's story, and the suggestion was made that Gooding be cited for contempt.

Counsel for the prosecution defended Gooding and the newspapers included in the charges, and showed that the applications for the interview with Orchard had been made weeks before the examination of talesmen disclosed turn charged that while some of the talesmen were entering court yesterday men indirectly connected with the defense had made remarks within their hearing that were intended to influence them, and this affair is also to be made the subject of inquiry by the county prosecutor.

In calling attention to the Orchard nterviews, Judge Wood said that perhaps their publication was not an attempt to influence the jury, but as i was likely to influence the jurors he felsomething must be done to prevent a recurrence of such a thing in order to procure a jury. James H. Hawley, for the state, expressed his regret over the publications of the interviews with Orchard. and disclaimed responsibility. The court drew attention to the utterances suggestion from Mr. Richardson that life. talesmen to leave the room for an hour. Richardson first exonerated the prosecution from all connection with the incident and then said: "For a period of more than 15 months Orchard has been incarcerated in the penitentiary, and secluded from all observers as far as possible and guarded in every possible way to prevent any communication with the outside. It occurred yesterday at the examination of one of the jurors that there was some question of the amount of credence that should be placed on the testimony of

"It is patent as the fact that I stand here that it was done for the express purpose of rehabilitating Orchard and giving him credibility in the eyes of this jury and the eyes of the world, and then you'll see!" it was a dastardly outrage upon this defense." The court sent for the prosecuting attorney and Mr. Hawley said that he had just finished reading the interview and suggested that possibly both the defense and the court were laboring under a misapprehension. He defended the Boise papers and told of the constant circulation throughout the country of papers in the interest of the defense damaging the prosecution, so as to create a false impression as to the motive of the prosecution and misstate what purported to be the evidence in the case.

""I am frank to say," said Hawley, "that I don't believe that the authorized representatives of the Associated Press, in seeing this man and publishing anything in regard to his physical and mental condition, would place themselves in a position where they were influencing opinion on the part of the jurors or otherwise, nor can I see how any expression of that kind can militate to the slightest extent against

Mr. Hawley took the same ground as to the other correspondents who saw Orchard Wednesday and declared that he did not believe that Governor Gooding was seeking in any way to create prejudice.

"AFTER-IMAGES."

Many Delusions Intimately Related to This Unfamiliar Law.

There are two kinds of light waves emitted from all objects, color and white waves. Whenever a source of light, as the sun, strikes an object, part of that light is absorbed and part reflected-thrown back. The latter represents such object's "luminosity The color blind are never blind to this form of light. A mirror reflects almost all the light that falls upon it. Polished silver reflects 92 per cent of perpendicular rays. Broken surfaces split up such light and so appear dar The more luminous an object the more intense is its effect upon the retina just as two horns affect the ear more keenly than one. The more intense or stimulating a light the quicker is the retina exhausted. It becomes temporarily paralyzed in the cones of such a color. Look at the sun, then look away, and you will still see the sun but its color appears a pale blue, which is the farthest contrast to the yelloworange of the sun. It is the complementary color. The light of the sun is so intense that it quickly exhausts the yellow-orange cones, leaving those farthest from it (blue, the "complementary" of yellow) least exhausted; hence this after-image of the sun looks blue, actually a pale greenish blue.

DOPING A RACE HORSE.

The Way the Potent Drug Affects the Unfortunate Animal.

"No one is likely to be caught in the act of doping a horse," said a prominent veterinarian the other day, "because the dose given is so small that it can be administered under the very eyes of the officials, with little if any danger of detection, and, besides, it is given so long before the race that the horses are not then likely to be under surveillance. If a horse is to race at 3 o'clock he gets a two grain powder on his tongue in a darkened stall at 1 o'clock. The drug takes effect in about thirty minutes, and the animal breaks out into a sweat. He is rubbed down, cooled out and done up as if he had come in from morning work. Every effort is made to keep him quiet until post time, but he very often breaks out again and is again cooled out. Chicken Obstinacy.

A police court story which is said to Illustrate "the indifference of the average chicken to good advice" was told recently at Kingston, England, when a carter was charged with stealing a fowl.

"I am guilty of stealing the fowl," admitted the prisoner. "It was eating the corn out of my horse's nose bag, and I said to it, 'If you don't go away, I'll make you,' and struck it with the whip. When I saw it was dead, I put it in the wagon. I didn't know who owned it."

"I judge it was the chicken's fault," remarked the prosecutor, "and I'll not press the charge against the man."

TREMONT THEATRE.

"The Time, the Place and the Girl' ill enter upon its third week at the emont Theatre on Monday evening d still there is not the slightest iminuition in the interest on the part the New England public to see this fully duplicating the marked success which it has created throughout the West, and which is certainly the talk all Boston. From the very start ne theatre has been packed at each erformance, and one has to be at the ot want to be disappointed and stand p throughout the performance, for the eats all go like hot cakes and the apply is not nearly enough to supply he demand for this popular enterainment. "The Time, the Place and the Girl" is a new development in the ine of a musicale comedy, and proves hat the people of every day life ma e quite as amusing as the fantasti reatures of unknown countries. haracters in the new piece are just the sort that one would be likely to meet anywhere, plain, ordinary folks, out amusing just the same and gifted with a lively disposition that is sure to keep things moving at a rapid pace

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The opera of "Dorothy," which is to e given at the Castle Square next veek, tells a rollicking romance of ve and rural life, set to melodious music and mirthful song. Its com-poser is Alfred Celleir and its libretist, B. C. Stephenson, and it was first produced on the English stage some wenty years ago. It was immediately brought over to this country and was popularized by The Bostonians, in hose repertory it remained for many easons, rivalling in favor, even "Robin Next week, the cast will inlude Clara Lane as Dorothy, Louise Le Baron as Lydia, Harry Daves as Geof-'ey Wiler, J. ### THE ORPHEUM.

Nearly 40,000 persons saw last week's erformance at Percy Williams' Orheum. The crowds taxed the capacity of the house for each and every perormance during the week and thousands are turned away. There is bu one answer for this prosperity and that is that vaudeville patrons have learned from experience that the bill at the Orpheum easily outclasses any vaudeville offering in Boston. For the week beginning Monday May 20 surpassingly strong program has been prepared. Heading the list of artists are Gallagher and Barrett whose reckless farce "The Battle of Too Soon is simply twenty minutes of riotou fun. The Six Glincerettis, acrobats who have created a sensation where ever seen, are on the bill as is also Lee Harrison, the monlogist, whose act is distinctive because he does not follow the stereotyped form.

Famine Conditions In China, as Reported by Bible Society

FOUR MILLIONS NEAR DEATH

Relief Committee Can Keep 100,000 Persons Alive Until End of June-The More Fortunate Living on Stuff Ordinarily Used as Fertilizer

Boston, May 20 .- "Not less than 1, 000,000 people must die, and it is not Improbable that four times that number will starve" is the declaration con tained in a report on the famine situation in China, made by Rev. John R. Hykas, agent of the American Bible so ciety at Shanghai. The report has just been received by the society and was made public last night.

Mr. Hykas is a member of the famine relief committee of Shanghai and ha reports from colporteurs in various places. He says that "with the funds at present at hand and in sight the re lief committee can keep 100,000 persons alive until the end of June, when it is hoped they will have at least a partial crop." Hykas' report says:

"The country has been denuded of Secretary Taft has the right of way. If every green thing. ### BETRAYED BY SNEEZES

Japanese Girls Were Ingeniously Shipped to New Yorld as Freight Port Townsend, Wash., May 20 .-Six Japanese girls, each nailed in a pine box, were nearly killed by sulphur fumigation on board the steamer Onafa at Victoria. The girls, said to have been imported for immoral purposes, were consigned to K. Sesookien, a steerage passenger, alleged to be Taki Kaimore, a procurer, who was deported from San Francisco two years ago. Through exchanging courtesies be tween British and American authorities the six women and Sesookien were brought here and will be sent back to Japan on the Onafa, which is scheduled to sail today.

Smallpox broke out on the Onaf: luring the ship's previous trip from the Orient and on reaching Victoria or the present trip the entire steerage was fumigated. The hatches were battened down and a large quantity of sulphur was ignited below.

In a short time violent and pro tracted sneezing was heard in the freight. The compartment was hur riedly opened, officers of the ship fear ing that a pet cat had been imprisoned in the sulphur fumes. Surprise was great when a chorus of sneezes issue from the six heavy pine boxes, while frantic scratching in the cases betoken ed great anxiety to escape.

On opening the cases, an almond-eyed girl appeared in each. Food and water supply was ingeniously placed in each box, which was fitted like a toy room.

Japanese Money Comes to America New York, May 20 .- America's industrial invasion of the Far East is now in full swing and Japan is pouring golden stream into the United States or steel rails, cars and locomotives. Twelve million dollars have already been expended in this country for railroad supplies to be used in the con struction of the South Manchurian railway and it is now learned that contracts involving millions of dollars are pend-Manchuria will be strapped with American steel rails from Dalny to Mukden, while the traveler will ride in cars of American manufacture drawn by locomotives built in this country. King Alfonso's Son Christened Madrid, May 20 .- With even more comp and ceremony than attended his first presentation to the officials on the day of his birth, May 10, Alfonso Prince of the Asturias, was baptized in the presence of the royal family, the state and court officials, the representatives of the foreign powers and a host of grandees, heads of the various Spanish orders and other important personages. Special guards had been stationed day and night outside the bedchamber, for Spanish custom does not permit any possibility of a change ling being foisted on the nation.

Wine Adulteration Hurts Labor Perpignan, France, May 20 .- A giant lemonstration, in which 180,000 persons from all parts of the south took part, was held here for the purpose of urging the government to remedy the distress caused by the over-production of wines and the extensive sale of wines manufactured from grape refuse and sugar. After a parade a meeting was held, at which the speakers demanded immediate action by the government to stop the widespread adulteration of wine.

Lion Gave Populace a Scare Atlanta, May 20 .- A performing lion scaped from its cage in a theatre here and made its way to Marietta street through the stage entrance. Reaching the street the animal roared and set off at a lively pace. The street was crowded and people fled in panic. One man shot at the beast and slightly wounded it before it was finally driven into a basement and captured. Young Housebreakers Caught New York, May 20 .- John Glen, aged 16, and Fred Jacobson, 15, who said that they had recently left their homes in Quincy, Mass., were held in $500 bail each on a charge of burglary. Jacobson was turned over to the Children's society. The boys were arrested while, according to the complainant, they were engaged in stripping a house of lead pipe and brass fittings. Priests Oppose Birrell's Scheme London, May 21.-The Dublin correspondent of The Morning Post says he understands that at the Irish Nationalist convention John Redmond will move a resolution hostile to Secretary Birrell's Irish bill. The correspondent report, Judge Wood said that it called adds: "This will be a conspicuous victory for the priests, against whose local influence over education the bill is secretly aimed."

> Kuroki Visits Grant's Tomb New York, May 20 .- When, 28 years ago, General Grant, in his tour of the world, was the guest of the Emperor of Japan, one of the officers assigned to attend him was a young colonel in the army, who yesterday, as General Kuroki, visited Riverside Drive and there with impressive Oriental ceremony placed a laurel wreath upon the American's tomb.

Revealed In Report on Standard Oil Company's Operations

COMPETITION IS DESTROYED

Enormous Profits In Hands of Less Than a Dozen Men--Not Only Control Petrolem Industry, but Transportation Facilities as Well

Washington, May 20 .- That the his tory and present operation of the Stand ard Oil interests "show throughout the past 35 years a substantial monopoliza tion of the petroleum industry of the country, a deliberate destruction of competition and a consequent control of that industry by less than a dozen men who have reaped enormous profits therefrom," largely through abuse of transportation facilities, is charged in a report just submitted to Presiden Roosevelt by Commissioner of Corpora tions Smith. Part one of the report was made public yesterday and other parts will follow. Certain information acquired is withheld for the present in accordance with instructions of the president, who feels that their publication might interfere with the prosecution of the government's suit pending against the Standard Oil company and ts subsidiary companies.

The report contains the net results of a study of the petroleum business during the year 1904. It is the first official statement of the operations and methods of the Standard Oil company by which, the report states, through 'scandalous railway discriminations' and other unlawful devices, they have secured and maintained an "exclusive iomination of the petroleum industry. It is stated that in 1904 the Standard and affiliated concerns "refined over 8percent of the crude oil run through re fineries, produced more than 86 percent of the country's total output of illuminating oil, maintained a similar proportion of the export trade in illu minating oil, and transported through nent field." The report points out that the molopoly enjoyed by the company does not rest on the ownership of the source of the oil supply, which amounts to only about one-sixth of the total, but "that its growth and present power rest primarily on the control of the transportation facilities.

pipe lines nearly nine-tenths of the crude oil of the older fields and 98 percent of the crude oil of the mid-conti-

After the railroad rebate was abanloned the company, the report conques, was able to establish a system of secret or open discriminations of rates in its favor throughout practically the entire country. Having estabbusiness, the company substantially re fuses to act as a common carrier.

It is shown that the Standard controis not only the wholesale, but also the retail trade in oil.

In conclusion the report says: It is apparent that the dominating position of the Standard Oil company in the oil industry has largely been secured by the abuse of transportation facilitiesfirst, by flagrant discriminations obtained from railroads; second, by a refusal to operate its pipe line system so as to extend to independent interests. first, by flagrant discriminations obas to extend to independent interests the benefits to which they were morally and legally entitled, while at the same time the Standard has prevented such independent interests from construct ing lines of their own."

Evolution In Austrian Politics

Vienna, May 20 .- The Austrian elections during the past week were the first under the new law giving equal and universal suffrage, a reform brought about after a protracted struggle. The lower house of parliement is practically reconstructed on new racial lines, and from now on it will consist of 516 members, of which there will be 233 Germans, 107 Czechs, 82 Poles, 33 Ruthenians, 24 Slavenians, 13 Servo-Croatians, 100 Italians and 5 Roumanians.

San Francisco Cars Running San Francisco, May 20 .- With the exception of the assertion of the United Railways that 17 striking motormen and conductors were taken back yesterday on application, there is no change in the street car strike. The day passed without any general rioting, but there were numerous acts of individual violence. About half of the lines composing the system are being operated. The cars are fairly well patronized.

Steamer's Passengers Ducked New York, May 20 .- Steamer Philadelphia, from Southampton, ran into a westerly gale Tuesday evening that fought the vessel until the following Thursday noon. A heavy sea broke over the ship and smashed a door on the promenade deck leading to the saloon. The water swept down the companionway, flooding the library, where several passengers received a ducking.

Shriners' Bodies Reach Home Reading, Pa., May 20 .- The bodie of the 17 Mystic Shriners of this city who were killed in the Southern Call fornia wreck on May 11 were brought ted in the here last night. With the dead came 10 survivors. The 17 caskets contain ing the dead were carried from the ear and placed on four large floats, each of which was drawn by white horses.

Candidate of Labor Organization to Oppose Present Head of City Government--Denies That He Is Backed by Practical Politicians candidates bearing the same name, but representing radically different plat forms, promise to complicate the political situation in this city when the municipal election is held next December. One of the candidates is the pres ent mayor, John F. Fitzgerald, who is expected to be once more the candidate of the city Democracy. The other candidate is also John F. Fitzgerald, but in stead of representing any party he is the candidate of a labor organization to which he belongs, Roofers' Protective

If Fitzgerald, the roofer, had any other name his candidacy would not disturb the mayor or the municipal Democracy, as it is not thought that his platform would command any more otes than would go to a socialist labor candidate or the nominee of any other minor political party, but it is feared that the similarity of names may re sult in votes intended for the re-election of Mayor Fitzgerald being cast for his labor union rival and namesake. Fitzgerald, the roofer, has accepte

the nomination of the Roofers' Protect tive union, and undoubtedly his namwill appear on the ballots at the mu picipal election. In such an event the election officials would be obliged t pay the strictest attention to the man ner in which the ballots are marked. Last fall, when John B. Moran wa the gubernatorial candidate of three parties, Prohobitionist, Democratic and Independence League, it was ruled that a cross might be marked on the ballo against his name in three places, or it only one place, and the ballot would not be invalidated in either instance. If, however, a voter intending to cas his ballot for Fitzgerald, the mayor marks a cross on his ballot opposite the name of Fitzgerald, the roofer, it will mean that one vote is lost to the mayor Again, if the voter, acting on the mis taken assumption that both men are one and the same, and marks a cross opposite each John F. Fitzgerald, the hallot will be invalidated.

The candidate of the roofers strent ously denies that his candidacy is being engineered by practical politicians i the hope of defeating Mayor Fitzger ald's re-election through the errors that must naturally result from the similarity of names. He says that h is not attracted by the $10,000 annual salary of the mayor, but that he is in spired by a honest desire to be the candidate of the plain people and work- ATLAS of the CITY of QUINCY

ROUGHLY HANDLED BY MOB

Strikebreakers Badly Bruised and Their Clothing Torn to Shreds Boston, May 20 .- William Ross, a strikebreaker, and another strikebreaker who refused to give his name to the police, were followed to their stables by a mob of men and boys in South Boston yesterday afternoon Ross, upon being attacked, sought 55 Elm Street, Quincy, May 1, 1907. shelter in the house at 100 D street, while his companion jumped aboard a car bound for City Point. The crowd followed the latter and a score or morof men jumped-aboard the car and be gan pounding and kicking the strikebreaker.

> Boys pulled off the trolley when the car men tried to move ahead an matters were assuming a serious aspec when Rev. J. A. Donnelly left his ser vice at the Church of Our Lady of the Rosary and, waving the crowd back took a position on the rear platform and watched the trolley rope. A police man then appeared and also mounte the car, and the few who followed on the car were soon left behind as the car finally moved on toward City Point. Later both men were escorted to their nomes by the police, much bruised and with their clothing in shreds.

Mellen's Consolidation Policy New Haven, May 20.-In connection with the future control of the Boston and Maine system by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, it is pointed out that since Mellen became president of the latter orporation, some four years ago, ther have been nearly 50 consolidations of arious kinds in the system, including team lines and trolley lines in this tate and in Massachusetts. To these will be added in a few weeks the mer ger into the parent steam company of the Consolidated Railway company.

Strikers and Employers Compromise Milford, Mass., May 20.-After an all-day conference, which lasted until nearly 1 o'clock this morning, the strike of the granite cutters and too sharpeners, which has been in progress since April 1, throwing 200 men into idleness, has been settled. The strikers are to have 42 cents an hour and a half holiday on every Saturday throughou the year. The agreement is to continue five years. The original demand of the men was for 43 cents an hou with the half-holiday and the manu facturers first offered 40 cents.

Making Glass at Sandwich Sandwich, Mass., May 20 .- Th

greatest industry of Cape Cod, the manufacture of glassware, has been re vived here after having been virtually bandoned for 25 years. Sandwich was once known as the glass manufacturing center of the United States. The first glass was blown on Thursday last, the preceding three weeks having been devoted to heating the furnaces to the proper temperature. It is expected that between 500 and 600 hands will be employed when the factories are once more in full operation.

Cool Work of Robbers

Washington, Conn., May 20.-While one masked man held prisoner at the point of a revolver the night operator in the telephone exchange on the second floor of the store of S. F. Seeley, other men blew open the safe in the postoffice on the first floor and another in a rear room of the building, secured $300 in money and about $400 in stamps. After having ransacked the store and later the selectmen's office in the town hall, the robbers departed, leaving no trace behind them.

Alleged Forger and Embezzler Williamstown, Mass., May 20.-In response to a request from the Boston police, Woodbury Witherell, night watchman at a local hotel, was arrested on a charge of forgery and of embezzlement of $141 from the United States Construction and Supply com pany. Witherell has been employed and a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

them all in perfect order." Duncombe mechanically glanced through the French and English papers which were spread out before him. They had certainly a most uncomfortable appearance of being genuine. He began to feel a little bewildered.

"You mean to say that you have come here to arrest me on this charge? That you want me to go away with you tonight?" he asked. "It is not a matter of wanting you to come," the baron answered coldly. "It is a matter of necessity." Duncombe moved toward the fire-

"Will you allow me the privilege of a few moments' conversation with you in private?" he said to the baron. 'Your companions will perhaps excuse you for a moment."

The baron followed without remark. They stood facing one another upon the hearth rug. Duncombe leaned one elbow upon the mantelpiece and turned toward his companion.

"Look here," he said, "those papers seem genuine enough, and if you insist upon it I will go with you to Norwich. I shall take care not to let you out of my sight, and if when we get there I find that it is any part of one of your confounded conspiracies you will find that the penalties for this sort of thing in England are pretty severe. However, no doubt you are well aware of that. The question is this: What do

Kentucky mountaineers. The west has nothing to compare with them. When it comes to "pulling a gun" quickly and shooting accurately the most expert of frontier bad men would appear slow and clumsy by the side of many of these mountain outlaws. They learn to shoot almost as soon as they graduate from the cradle. Many of their sports relate to shooting. The proprietor of the crossroads store has a shooting gallery in his establishmen where in other localities you might find a slot machine. In one store saw a wheel about half the size of a spinning wheel with pieces of cardboard containing numbers on the different spokes. The charge was "nipence" (10 cents) a shot, and the participant picked his number. The prizes ranged all the way from a box of cartridges to a bag of cornmeal or a side of "sow bosom," according to the size of the piece of cardboard selected. The wheel was given a swift whirl by the storekeeper; but, judging from the shooting I saw, I could not find out wherein he derived any profit from the contrivance .- C. T. Before the City Council At Monday Night's Meeting

The questions concerning the grant ng of licenses to common victuallers erved to prolong Monday night's meet ng of the City Council until nearly 11 o'clock. In addition to this there were several other important matters considered, notably the matter of of assessment of the cost of the new oridge at Atlantic.

Numerous petitions were received in favor of granting certain licenses and while it was expected that the subject of granting permits for the transportation of liquor would again ome up they did not. Councilmen Hull, McKinnon and

Sawyer were absent.

A VETO

A communication was received from the Mayor returning without his approval the order amending the Ordinance relative to collection of junk. The imendment provided that only registered voters should be granted licenses and that junk, etc., should be stored n closed buildings. The Mayor's reasons as stated in the communication were as follows:-

"My objections to the proposed be granted only to registered voters of mittee on Streets. the City of Quincy." "I believe this legislation is too restrictive, and seriously question the right to impose any such conditions to the granting of a icense. We have already granted six teen licenses three of which do not fill the requirements which this amendment would impose provided it became a law, they not being registered voters. This, therefore, would constitute a disour action; furthermore tax payers and citizens would be debarred from obtaining licenses because of not being registered voters, if this amendment should become effective; also, under the public statutes the only requirement of persons who desire a peddler's license (and a great similarity exists in this case) is that they shall be citizens of the United States or who have declared their intention to become such,"

"I think it would be unwise for us to incorporate this proposed ordinance for its savors too much of illiberality and unfairness and will be unjust in

Of the second amendment relative to seeping junk in closed buildings the Mayor says that he is in full accord. Councilman Walsh hoped the order would pass over the Mayor's veto. He saw no good reason why it should

-Brother Mosely, of the Hyde Park Gazette gives us the following notice: With the issue of last week, Editor Geo. W. Prescott commenced his 54th year on the Quincy Patriot and, in common with all of the craft, we extend our warmest congratulation to the Dean of Norfolk county journalism. These have been years of labor and toil for the venerable editor, but he has kept his heart warm and expanded his energies for the best interests of the fine old historical city of Quincy. He has kept in close touch with the public spirit of the place, and we feel quite confident that his work for the public good has been appreciated by his fellow citizens. As he truthfully says, in his notice of the unusual event of so many years of labor, numerous changes have taken place in Quincy since he joined the working force of the Patriot office.'

Unusual Proceedings In Case of Boy Charged With Murder

TALESMEN'S LIST RUN OUT

Streets In Vicinity of Courthouse Became Deserted When Deputy Sheriffs Begun to Summon Men to Court For Jury Duty

Salem, Mass., May 21.-For the first time in the history of Massachusette deputy sheriffs went out upon the streets to draft men to serve upon a jury in a capital case. This unprecedented action was ordered by the court when the list of talesmen summoned on the case of Edgar G. Meikle, 16 years old who is accused of the murder of his father, Charles G. Meikle, at Lynn on the evening of Nov. 7, 1905, was exhausted at the Essex county superior court here yesterday. The draft was successful, however, the panel being completed after 40 men had been summonsed into court.

The elder Meikle met his death by a revolver shot, and it was thought to have been self-inflicted. The state police held this view of the case until October of last year, when they ar rested young Meikle on the charge of murdering his father, claiming that as the bullet entered Meikle's left cheek, he, being right-handed, could not have done the deed. Although the grand Botolph street have reached Tennesee jury indicted Meikle several month ago, for some reason the case was reconsidered at last week's sitting, but

Young Meikle was brought from jail to the court by Deputies Bishop and Howe. He was handcuffed. ## HUMMEL GOES TO PRISON

Disgraced Lawyer Will Work For Year In Penitentiary Bakery

New York, May 21 .- In a large touring car, Abraham Hummel left his home in East 72nd street to go to Blackwell's island to serve a year in the penitentiary for conspiracy in the celebrated Dodge-Morse divorce case. A few years ago Hummel enjoyed an extensive practice as a lawyer, having as clients many well known actors and actresses, but his conduct of the now famous divorce case resulted in disbarment as well as the humiliation he suffered yesterday.

His method of going to the peniteniary was almost on a par with his farewell dinner given a few nights ago, at which he bade goodbye to about a dozen friends prior to his temporary re tirement. About 100 curious spectators and reporters were gathered in front of his residence at 11 a.m. when Hummel endeavored to depart for Blackwell's island without observation

An automobile had been standing at the curb for several hours, when one of Hummel's friends left the house and, short distance and returned to the iouse just as it drew up to the curb again, and Hummel, holding a handkerchief before his face to prevent a snapshot picture, ran from the basement door, jumped into the tonneau and was whirled away

For about three hours Hummel took a ride around the city and then surrendered himself to a deputy sheriff, who took him by an unfrequented route to Blackwell's island. He will be, put to work in the bakery.

WORMS IN CHILDREN

6 YEARS SUFFERING RELIEVED IN 8 HOURS

DR. TRUE, DEAR SIR:—One of my boys had been troubled for about six years with cramp in the stomach, and suspect ing that it might be brought on by worms, we gave him different medicines, but without effect. Last January he had a more severe attack than usual, and hear ing of the almost miraculous effects o your Elixir, we gave him about a teaspoonful, and in about eight hours i brought from him a living creature about eighteen inches in length. He has had no return of them since, and is now very G. W. VICKERY.

Thousands of people have worms and don't know it, yet the symptoms are easily recognized. Even though worms might not be present this extraordinary remedy will effect wonderful changes in the run-down system. It is a great stomach and liver tonic and regulator.

Worms in adults and children can be readily detected from the following symptoms: Indigestion; a variable appetite; offensive breath and foul tongue; eyes heavy and dull; itching of the nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; starting during sleep; slow fever and often, in children, convulsions and bed-wetting; looseness; hard, swelled bowels. No matter how pronounced or how light the symptoms,

A THREE-YEAR-OLD

Superman Wins Brooklyn Handicap In a Decisive Manner

HELD BACK UNTIL STRETCH

Big, Machine-Like Stride Told Against Other Favorites In Race For $20,000 Purse, Which Was Run Over a Course Deer-With Mud

New York, May 21 .- Through great crowds of cheering enthusiasts, Superman, the sturdy 3-year-old son of the great Commando, carrying the colors of James R. Keene and ridden by Jockey Miller, flashed under the wire the winner of the Brooklyn handicap over a course fetlock deep in mud at the Gravesend race track.

Twenty-five thousand people saw the mud-splashed Keene horse held back until the stretch and then sent out in front to win in decisive fashion from a field of 11 starters. Beacon Light ridden by Jockey Lowe, was second, a length behind Superman, and Nealon, carrying the colors of C. E. Durnell, was third. Superman covered the course of a mile and a quarter in 2:09.

An all-night downpour of rain had flooded the track and the railbirds figured a day for mudlarks. Six horses were scratched because of the heavy going, while Okenite and Good Luck were added starters, their owners be lieving that they had a chance in the miry racing lane for the $20,000 purs

Up and down the course in front of the grand stand the 11 contestants were neath the grandstand hundreds of men stormed the bookmakers to get bets down on the race. Down at the start the horses fretted and pranced, with their riders trying to hold them in po sition until the break. The immense crowd waited for the flash of Starter Cassidy's flag, but it was only a few moments before it fell, and the race

Out in front shot Superman, followed by Okenite and Go Between and a flying field in the muck and mire. Not wish ing to set the pace in the sticky track Miller held Superman in check and Okenite took the lead at the quarter, with Superman running in steady, even strides, close behind, and the on-coming Beacon Light a short distance away. Butling and Go Between, the stron favorites for the race, hung in their tracks and fought it out, with the others in the already hopeless ruck.

Okenite carried the lead in the flight past the cheering grandstand and Jockey Preston kept him at his top speed. Around the first turn the horses ped in a storm of splashing Okenite was first at the half, with Su perman surrendering the place to Nealon and Beacon Light. The Keene horse never varied his machine-like stride and Miller held him in tight rein. On they ran, with no relative changes n their positions, to the mile, where Okenite, fast tiring, was followed by Beacon Light, Nealon and Superman. Into the stretch they raced and Miller. touching Superman with the whip for 20 cts. pk the first time, sent the Keene horse out in front. Okenite bravely tried to fol-

Superman was in no danger, for his 25 cts. pk big, swinging stride, carried him well out in front and he sped by the judge's stand an easy winner, with Beacon Light second, a length away, and Nealon third. There were cheers for the horse, a horseshoe of flowers for the jockey, a rush of the winners for the betting ring and the Brooklyn handicap, the third in 20 years to be won by a 3-year-old, was over. Money "Shark" Goes to Jail Kansas City, May 21.-Patrick J. Hughes, a money lender well known throughout the United States, must pay a fine of $100 and serve 30 days in jail for exacting usurious interest from J. H. Williamson, a printer. Hughes was convicted of collecting 7½ percent a month for several months on a loan of $10. He appealed and the court of appeals unnimously decided against him on every point.

SUMMER ANNOUNCEMENT.

Beg to announce to the people of Quincy and surrounding towns that BROWN'S SUMMER BALLROOM, Houghs Neck, Quincy, will open the summer season THURSDAY EVENING, May 30 1907. There will be dancing every WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY evenings until June 17th, and "EVERY EVENING" after June 17th throughout the summer season. The orchestra which furnished the music last year has been engaged for this season which guarantees music of the highest order. "EXTENSIVE ALTERATIONS" have been made in the ballroom this season, making it one of the "AIRIEST" and "BEST VENTILATED" summer ballrooms in Massachusetts. The soda fountain and ice cream parlor will be conducted as last year. A large fruit department has been added to the front of the building opposite the soda counter. In the rear of the ice cream parlor has been added a penny-in-the-slot areade with about sixty modern machines of various and appropriate character.

I take this opportunity to thank my patrons of last year for their hearty cooperation in making the season a success, and assure them that my whole effort will be to make the summer dancing son of 1907 as enjoyable as possible. The new attractions added to those of last year make it possible for anyone to pass a very pleasant evening without going outside of my building.

Again thanking you for your patronage in the past and months, though the work of trans- operator's attention is wanted during trusting that the manner in which I conducted my ballroom last ferring "Central" half a mile took a call moving the receiver hook up but a few seconds. The glory of Rome has demer. parted never to return, and the night winds whistle through the deserte palaces of kings whose edicts once made the world tremble, but who made the fatal mistake of supposin that national wealth ensures perma nent national supremacy. It is only by carefully conserving our best tralitions, by instilling in our youn men and women a love of country so intense that it cannot be diverted to other objects that we may hop to escape the perils that have sent other nations down to the dust. And what better way to accomplish thi than to set apart one day of the yea for the "grateful remembrance of ou noble defenders" and a thoughtful re wrought?

The men who gave their lives for us do not need our eulogies. They have passed to their reward and their future is safe for all the years to be It is we, not they who need a Me orial Day and the lessons that its servance teaches.—Boston Courier

Publisher Mack Rises In Defense of Senator Foraker

ABLEST MAN IN THE SENATE

Declared to Be Far Superior to Taft as a Party Leader -- Will Be Returned to His Seat When Time Arrives For Choosing His Successor

Sandusky, O., May 22.—Sharp issu with the recent utterances of Chair man Brown of the state central commit tee is taken by I. F. Mack, the wel known publisher of this city.

Mr. Mack, while disclaiming author says that he is confident that the senic senator from this state, Mr. Foraker will be returned to his seat without dif ficulty when the times arrives fo choosing his successor. He asserts also that much of the criticism that has re cently been directed against Foraker in certain parts of the state is unjust and unreasonable. He declares there is no such turmoff in the state as has been represented.

"Senator Foraker is admittedly on of the ablest, if not the ablest man in ed in Ohio's midst, until one looked the United States senate today. He has done much work for his party and he deserves well of it," said Mack Secretary Taft has never done any thing for the Republican party of Ohio He never has been even a political fac-

IS UNANIMOUSLY REPUDIATED

Against Birrell Bill

Falls Far Short of Home Rule Which Is Demanded--Measure Will Be Shelved by British Cabinet--Redmond's Change of Attitude

Dublin, 'May 22 .- The largest, most epresentative and most harmonious convention which ever assembled in reland yesterday repudiated the plan or a limited Irish council, which was il the liberal government had to offer n fulfilment of its campaign promises. This action killed the hope of any home rule legislation by the present parliament, created a serious split in the government's forces and may have fareaching results.

The temper of the convention was ain from the beginning. No one had word to offer in behalf of the bill. Home rule or nothing was the unani mous sentiment and the resolution reecting the measure, proposed by John E. Redmond, commanded every vote The resolution demanded complete control of domestic affairs, and declared that the Birrell bill falls far short of that

Mr. Redmond criticised the details of he financial and other features of the ill as being inadequate when compared ith the great powers given to the lord utenant. Government by commit es, he said, was unheard of. Knowg the constitution of the British parsecure satisfactory amendments to the measure. In conclusion Redmond aid: "The Liberal party must drop the Rosebervite idea, and must come back to the standard of Gladstone. People talked of an alliance of the Irish party with the Liberals. The Irish party is independent. It can have an alliance with no English party that does not put home rule in the front of ts platform.

The Irish parliamentarians had been eluged with resolutions from town councils and all sorts of official and unofficial bodies since their arrival in Dublin, all denouncing the bill. The country spoke in an unmistakable voice and the Irish members of parlis ment cheerfully acquiesced to its will. Three thousand delegates came here to attend the convention and soon after the doors of the mansion house were opened it was impossible to get into the building, which was packed most uncomfortably. The gathering was quieter than most Irish parliament meetings. It lacked the spirit of the old home rule gatherings, when Davit tion organized under the laws of said Dillon, Healy and other fiery orators The speeches were temperate and

Immigrants Suffered Greatly From DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN Hunger and Thirst

RUSSIAN STEAMER DISABLED

Provisions Ran Short and Passengers Were Fed on Salt Pork and Water -- Fear That Condition of Ship May Lead to Outbreak of Disease

Boston, May 22 .- Disabled by the breaking of her "thrust-pin" when 600 miles east of Boston light, and with 1348 Russian and Polish immigrants suffer ng the pangs of hunger and thirst from rations of salt pork and water, steamer Korea of the Russian Eastern Asiatic Steamship company was discovered off Boston light vesterday afternoon flying signals of distress

The signals, of a somewhat unusual order, began with a message "may we Class of 1906, Facten Pianoforte School, Bosto enter your port?" and was followed by 'bad news" and several other mes sages, all tending to convey the infor mation that there was trouble aboard.

The quarantine tug went out to the steamer, and received the report from Captain Kirschliedt that the steame which left Libau, in the Baltic, or April 29, and Rotterdam May 2, bound or New York, broke her thrustpin when 600 miles east of Boston light and had run short of coal, water and provisions, and had made Boston light with partially disabled engines.

The ship's pumps were rendered us less through the shortage of water, creating unsanitary conditions through the ship, and the result was a scene of undescribable fiith of those decks occupied by the steerage passengers.

Captain Kirschljedt asked that he be provided with tow, and three tugs went down the harbor and brought the Korea up to the inner harbor, where she dropped her mud hook off the Cun-

A graduate from our "Little Hospital on the Hill" recommended by its matron, having nursed successfully in private families for several years, of strong physique and taking up the work because of her love for it-what more could we ask?

Our present nurse has worked faithfully and well through this long hard winter. The good work is going steadily on. Our physicians are learning to depend upon our visiting nurse and more than one life has been saved this past winter because of her ministrations.

Now is it not worth while? Has not this work come to stay; and cannot a wise club member suggest some method of meeting the expense in a systematic way?

I have been told, (I can hardly credit it) that there are some members of our club who are not in sympathy with this work, if there are any such I would advise them to start out some morning with our nurse, enter with her the homes she visits ad watch her as she cares for the sick ones. I am sure one day thus spent would suffice to convert them.

FEARFUL AUTO ACCIDENT.

Four persons in a big red touring utomobile yesterday afternoon plunged through a fence in Brighton and down a 60-foot embankment of rock and dirt, the car turning over and over in its descent and finally landing on all four wheels in a pool at the foot of the incline. Three of the occupants of the car were seriously injured, one probably fatally, Judge Flint held probate court for but the wonderful part of the accident is that all were not instantly

Those in the accident were: Frankin A. Ray, aged 35, married, living Of Asa L. Bean of Dover; Amos K. Tilden, at 20 Mt. Pleasant street, Winchesf Cohasset; Alice A. Knowles of Cohasset; er, who sustained a scalp wound, fractured rib on the right side and ture of both bones of the left leg and several bruises; Mrs. Annie L. Ray, mother of the two men, aged 64 M. Wiegand of Brookline; Henry R. widow, fractured spine and a frac-Smith of Braintree; Thomas F. Dolan tured rib on the left side; Mrs. Alice Ray, wife of Franklin Ray, injured hip and general bruises.

All but Mrs. Alice Ray were taken to the City Hospital on the advice of Dr. Robert W. Hastings, who was called to attend them as they lay stretched upon the grass in the field at the foot of the embankment.

The accident occurred on Common wealth avenue in Brighton, at point midway between Sunderlan road and Cummings road. The party left Winchester shortly after 2 o'clock in the afternoon on a trip to Worces ter, and Harry Ray was running the

It was Sergt . Hanson's birthday anniversary, the seventieth, and it was in a measure to show in what esteem he was held, that the presentation was made.

It was just about 6 o'clck as he was about to complete his day's duty that Chief Burrell informed him that he was wanted in the guard room to attend a meeting of the Relief Association.

On entering he found the force ined up for inspection. Before he had time to ask how, when, or where, Chief Burrell stepped forward and in a few brief words presented him with the chair.

It is not often that Mark gets taken unawares but this was one of the occasions. Quickly recovering nimself he thanked the officers for their pleasing gift and assured them that he should often think of them as he enjoyed the comforts of the chair during his off duty hours.

The patrol wagon was then rung or, and Mark and the chair given a ride to his home,

MONEY LENDER DENOUNCED

"Poco" Bennett Declared to Have Been the Direct Cause of Former Harvard Student Forging Notes to the Amount of $16,000

Boston, May 23.-Judge Fessender created a sensation in the superfor criminal court yesterday afternoon when he read a signed statement is which he charged "Poco" Bennett, the Harvard money-lender, with having leen the direct cause of George P Bowler forging the name of his brother, Robert P. Bowler, to eight checks amounting to $16,000.

After reading the statement, which explained to considerable length the views of Judge Fessenden regarding the forgery by Bowler, and in which the court made a scathing denunciation of Bennett, the last chapter in the now famous case was closed by the court committing the young Harvard man to the reformatory. Bowler, who became famous through the efforts of a young married woman from New York to get him out of jail on bail, did not utter a word, and during the whole proceeding remained calm and collected.

"Poco" Bennett, seated in the rear of the room, was like a man half dazed from a blow when he heard the words of Judge Fessenden, as the latter accused him of being the direct cause of study, and the score of Harvard under graduates present looked at him in a contemptuous manner as they heard him denounced.

After Attorney Pratt stated to the court that he had nothing to say in regard to the young man's sentence. Fessenden unrolled a typewritten state ment, which read as follows:

"I am satisfied, after a thorough examination of all the evidence and matamination of the notes themselves The funeral of Mr. George M. EIGHT CHILDREN INJURED

One Subsequently Dies as Result of Mysterious Explosion

New York, May 23 .- A mysterious explosion in crowded Mott street seriously injured eight children and struck perror to the hearts of hundreds in the growded thoroughfare. For a time a condition verging upon panic prevailed in the neighborhood and it was ot until a large force of police arrived that order was restored.

The cause of the explosion has not yet been ascertained. Residents of the neighborhood who have become only too familiar with the so-called Black Hand outrages are firm in the belief that this was their act. The police do not accept this theory, however. A few days ago there was a celebration n the Italian quarter and the police beeve that one of the aerial bombs used ish can and was mysteriously discharged while the can was standing on the sidewalk

When the explosion came the street was filled with pedestrians and romping children and every person on the street within a radius of 50 feet was thrown to the ground. The injured children, all of whom were Italians, were removed to a hospital. One of them, a boy, aged 8 years, died last right. Two others are in an extremely critical condition

MRS. NEIL IS GUILTY Does Your

TAYLOR CO. She Admits Responsibility For Death of Her Husband

Former Artists' Model and Chorus Girl Sentenced to Not Less Than Five Years In Prison For Manslaughter--Nail File a Factor ,

Bridgeport, Conn., May 23.-Catherine Neil, the artists' model and chorus girl of New York city, pleaded guilty to the charge of manslaughter in the killing of her husband, Joseph Neil, a blacksmith and pugilist, in Greenwich on Dec. 14 last, at a special session of the criminal superior court late yester lay. Judge Wheeler imposed upon her in indeterminate sentence of not more than nine and not less than five years n' state prison, at the conclusion of a nearing that lasted two hours.

Mrs. Neil was attired in deep mourn ng and showed the effects of her con finement in jail since Jan. 1 last. During the hearing she listened without any sign of emotion. After the indict ment was read she gave her age as 27 years and offered her plea of guilty to the charge of manslaughter. Mrs. Neil retained her composure until shortly after 7 o'clock last night, when Wheeler imposed sentence, after which she collapsed and had to be carried to the carrlage which took her back to jail.

Special State Attorney Carter, addressing the court, said that the state was willing to accept a plea of manslaughter for the reason, chiefly, that until a week ago he had not learned that the killing of Neil by his wife was done without premeditation. have no evidence," he said, "which I consider of sufficient strength to obtain a conviction in this case on a enarge of first degree murder."

Before imposing sentence Wheeler said that if the prisoner had used an umbrella in the manner described she should go free, but he could not accept the story by reason of the evidence taken at the coroner's inquest, which seemed to show very clearly that the Mrs. Nell's statement, the court said, had not been substantiated, while on the other hand there was abundant evidence to show that the nail file caused the fatal wound.

Judge Foster, counsel for Mrs. Neil, made a plea in which he said the prisoner declared the fatal wound had been given with the point of an umbrella which she had snatched up to defend herself during a quarrel with Neil, and that in the scuffle the point had penetrated his eye. She could not accoun mail file found in the umbrella - later, and which the state claimed had been used to inflict the death wound.

Catherine Neil was charged with having killed her husband at a hotel in Greenwich, by thrusting a nail file into the socket of his eye, the blade pene trating the brain and causing death within a short time. Mr. and Mrs. Neil had gone to the hotel an hour carlier and apparently were on good terms, as no one in the hotel heard them quarrel.

Mrs. Neil came down stairs early in the evening and said her husband had fallen and hurt himself. A physician Insurance, was sent for and death seemed to be due to natural causes. The coroner held an autopsy and found a small puncture in the brain. Later the nail file, with blood stains on it, was shaken out of Mrs. Neil's umbrella, which stood in a corner of the room and which Mrs. Neil had left when she took the train to go to her home in Brooklyn after her husband had died.

MOST OF WORKERS YOUNG

Women Were Represented In All but Nine Occupations In This Country According to Census of 1900, Wher 4,833,630 Were Employed

Washington, May 23 .- Women at work in the United States is the subject of a report issued by the census bureau, based on the returns in 1900. In that year in continental United States, by which is meant the United States exclusive of Alaska, Hawaii and other ontlying possessions, the total number of women 16 years of age and over was 23,485,559, while those at work num-Lered 4,833,630. Most of the women et work were young, 68.4 percent being under 35 years of age, 44.2 percent under 25 and 25.6 percent had not reached the age of 21; 15.9 percent were mar ried, 17.7 percent were widows and 1.3 percent were divorced.

The number of divorced women re tirned by the census, the report says. is probably deficient, because the fact of divorce is not always admitted. But it is significant that of the number reported divorced 55.3 percent were sup porting themselves wholly or in part The total number of women at work included 1,177,766 native white women whose parents also were natives; 1.090, 744 native white women, one or both of whose parents were immigrants 840,011 white women who were them selves immigrants, 1,119,621 negro women, and 11,288 Indian and Mongolian which bread-winners of the country were engaged. The returns showed among other things that five females were employed as pilots. On steam Telephones, Haymarket 724—Quincy 448-4.

The number of women at work more than doubled in the 20 years from 1880 19 1900, and there was a noticeable in crease of bread-winners among married women in 1900 as compared with 1890. In 1900 women were represented in cil but nine of the 303 occupations in 538 Tremont Building, Boston.

FOUND IN A SWAMP

Missing Man Not Much the Worse For His Unusual Experience

Melrose, Mass., May 23.-James W. Gilmore, an aged resident of Melrose Highlands, for whom searching parties have been looking since he disappeared Tuesday afternoon from his home, was found last evening lying in a swamp about a quarter of a mile from his home. Although his feet and shoulders were in pools of water, his head and hips being supported by tussocks of grass, he appeared to have sustained no injury, and his physician says that he shows no symptoms of any ill effects that would be expected to follow long exposure. Gilmore had just recovered from a long sickness and was able barely to shuffle about.

Gilmore is the owner of a sheep anch in Montana and has a fine estate here. His mind is somewhat confased as to his whereabouts since Tuesday, but it is thought that he had not been long in the swamp, as the place where he was found was searched carly in the day. To assist in the search, the church bells were rung and the fire alarm sounded yesterday afternoon, with the result that a party of about 1000 men and boys engaged in he hunt for the missing man.

Strike Threatened at Portland Portland, Me., May 23 .- A strike mong the journeymen builders of this city is threatened as a result of the demands of the local lathers for a slight increase in wages. Work on remodelling a local building was susended yesterday in sympathy with the athers. The contracting carpenter Leld a meeting to discuss the matter of standing by the contractor whose men left him. It is said that a general strike is likely to be ordered today unless the non-union lathers are discharged and the union men replaced.

"House of Lords" Stands Boston, May 23 .- The anticipated contest over the standing of the paschief rangers and the election of offi cers at the convention of the grand court of Massachusetts, Order of For esters of America, failed to materialize The attempt of the younger member of the order to curtail the powers and privileges of the so-called "house o lords," as the body of the past chie rangers is designated, completely failed The report of Supreme Chief Range Hogan showed that the order now numbered 250,000.

Testimony Against Young Meikle Salem, Mass., May 23 .- In the tria of Edgar M. Meikle, charged with the murder of his father, Edward Garrity young companion of the accused boy testified that on the Saturday precedug the day of the shooting he went to the Meikle house at Edgar's request to see if the senior Meikle was at home When Garrity reported to Edgar that he had found the door open and had looked in, Edgar explaimed, according to the witness: "I'll bet my father has shot himself."

Kuroki Visiting the Hub Boston, May 23.-General Kuroki ar rived here last night, accompanied by is suite of 13 Japanese army officer and was met at the South station by an enthusiastic gathering. There was prolonged cheering by the crowd, which continued until Kuroki had entered his carriage and was whirled away to Hotel Touraine. The general passed the even ing quietly at his hotel, but a strenuous program has been laid out for his en tertainment. Woman and Son Fatally Hurt Boston, May 23 .- As the result of an automobile accident in Brighton, in which the driver of the machine los control and the automobile plunged over a 50-foot embankment, four persons were seriously injured. Mrs. Annie Ray, aged 63, and Frank A. Ray her son, aged 36, cannot live. The accident occurred while the Ray family were enjoying a ride. It is uncertain just what caused the accident.

Smoke Leaves Yale Dining Hall New Haven, May 23.—Captain Samiel A. Smoke, a retired army officer ing hall. There have been some recent reports of trouble in the dining hall, but the official statement is made that they are trivial. The whole matter is under investigation by a committee of the dining hall.

Korea Sets Sail Again Boston, May 23 .- The crippled Russian steamer Korea, from Libau and Rotterdam for New York, which put into this port with her machinery disabled and short of provisions and coal, proceeded to New York last night, con voyed by two tugs. The Korea took on 250 tons of bunker coal and received a supply of fresh water and provisions sufficient to complete the trip to New York. Auto Killed Aged Druggist Haverhill, Mass., May 23.—Richard C. Howe, aged 77, said to have been he oldest druggist in the state, died ast night of injuries sustained by beng struck by an automobile. The police have issued a warrant, charging manslaughter, for the arrest of Charles E. Judkins, who is alleged to have been operating the car which struck Howe. Skipped From Penal Institution Boston, May 23 .- John Gaffney, a risoner at the house of correction on Deer island, escaped from that institution by swimming the treacherous channel of Shirley gut. Officers of the institution searched for Gaffney without success and the police of Winthrop were notified to keep a close lookout for the escaped man.

Small Affairs About the City

Miss Fannie Hayes of Appleton street returned Monday from a trip to Washington.

street is having a new garage built on his land in which to shelter his Grout touring car.

The Prudential committee of the Point parish have called a meeting of the members of the parish at 8 o'clock Friday evening, May 24th.

Mrs. Florence Peltier Pope of Bill ings street and Mrs. Charles Safford of Clive street are to be guest at the Charity club of Boston on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Cephus Drew of Walker street invited a few friends to her home Wednesday afternoon to Mrs. Frank Straw. After a social afternoon, refreshments were served.

Mrs. Nichols of Botolph street has returned from a two weeks' pleasure trip to Bradford, N. H. While in New Hampshire, she had the novel pleasure of seeing a severe snow estorm in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Weinshienk of Clive street will leave Atlantic on Saturday and move to Newton Highlands for future residence. Mr. and Mrs. Weinshienk have made many friends in town and their going away is a public loss. Their house has been purchased by Mr. Fred Bura ditt of Billings street and will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Burditt sometime next week.

OLD AGE PENSIONS.

The rejection by only nine majority in the House of the bill granting, a pension of $3 a week to "any citizen 65 years or over who has paid a poll tax or the equivalent and who has maintained a good moral character" is an indication that this old-world idea is gaining favor here.

It is difficult to square such a! measure with the old-time American spirit of independence or with the rule of eact justice. A majority of the men of 65 and over are not in need of state aid or would be too proud to accept it. Why should those who by industry, temperance and frugality have achieved a moderate sions to those who have not practised these virtues? And would it be wise to discourage thrift by offering a state bounty for improvidence?

There are a good many things to be considered before we admit this camel's nose of civil pensions into our tent in this land of freedom, of abundant work and equal opportunities.—Boston Herald.

need not have the slightest anxiety. I drew a little breath of relief. He did not immediately proceed to work. He threw off his overcoat and lit a cigarette. His fingers were steady enough, but he was conscious of an unwonted sense of excitement. He was face to face with destiny. He had played before for great stakes, but never such as these. A single false step, an evil turn in the wheel of fortune, spelled death, and he was afraid to die. He moved to the sideboard Everything there was as they had left it. He poured out some brandy and drank it off. With fresh courage he moved to the safe, which stood in the corner of the room. It must be there, if anywhere, that this precious document lay. He tried his keys one by one. At last he found the right one. The great door swung slowly open. He was spared all anxiety. There on the top of a pile of legal looking docunents, leases, title deeds and the like, vas a long envelope, and across it in Duncombe's sprawling writing these few words, "Intrusted to me by Miss Poynton.-Sept. 4th." He grasped it in his fingers and tore open the envelope. As he read the single page of closely written writing his eyes seemed almost to protrude. He gave a little gasp. No wonder there were those who reckoned this single page of manuscript worth a great fortune. Every sentence, every word, told its own story. It was a page of the world's history.

Then a strange thing happened. Some part of him rebelled against the instinct which prompted him to carefully fold and place in his breast pocket this wonderful find of his. His nerves seemed suddenly frozen in his body. There was a curious numb sensation at the back of his neck which forbade him to turn round. His hands shook, his teeth chattered. The sweat of death was upon his forehead and despair in his heart. He had heard nothing, seen nothing, yet he knew that he was no longer alone.

When at last he turned round he meet with your deserts. There are turned his whole body. The muscles many things which those who play of his neck were numbed still, his the great game must pardon, but there he felt as if he was in the seventh M. ### Recital in Colonial Hall. A most enjoyable recital was given n Thursday evening in Colonial hall by the pupils of Miss Lucie F. Newomb. The program was opened by ensemble playing, four players at two pianos who played a Gavotte by Gluck and the Monuet from Mozarts's symphony in E flat. Pieces by pupils in the elementary stages followed, and a very interesting drill showing the work of the Fælten fundamental training system with very young pupils. The children who took part in this drill played pieces in any major or minor key, transposing them to keys given by he audience.

The latter part of the program was given by the more advanced pupils and consisted of ensemble playing from Volkman, Massanet and Tchaiskowsky, and solo pieces, among which were the prelude in C sharp minor Rachmaninoff, the Schubert B flat major impromptu, a Fantasie on Gounod's Faust and pieces by Chaminade, Burgmuller and Moskowski. The solo numbers were Fixtures, Carriages and Grocery Stock played from memory and showed renarkably good work.

Owing to the absence of one of the advanced pupils, Miss Kathryn Randall of Wellington, who graduated from the Fælten Pianoforte school with Miss Newcomb a year ago, assisted in some of Hancock Street the ensemble playing.

Those who participated in the program were: Palmer Oakman, Bessie SATURDAY, May 25, 1907, at 2 o'clock. Their only argument is that high speed, interurban lines pay in other places, therefore, they will pay here. Such an argument is fallacious and loses sight of other conditions. In the first place, in general, nowhere can conditions be found similar to those in this state. We have about the most frequent and the best train service in this country. Quantities of loam has been carted on We have also more street railway facilities relatively than, not only any which to build. Both of these conditions mean less business for a new company and a great investment on account of physical conditions. Should some petitioners receive certificates and should build I can see nothing but - financial failure and that of a most serious character." "So easy," he said, "has it been to obtain charters and franchises in this state, that we have today one mile of tory, while New York state has one mile for every 17 miles and Pennsylvania one mile for every 15 square miles. Our statutes made this possible to the injury of both the public and the companies, for while the companies were struggling for existence many improvements were denied the public.

"While the legislature of 1898 projected street railways from the abuse of powers of local authorities, the railways paid dearly for this protection, for an excise tax act was passed which proved a heavy burden to the companies, owing to the fact that the maintenance charges and other expenses were reaching a point which demanded attention. As showing the effect of taxation it may interest you to know that last year the companies paid $3,554,075 in dividends and $1,-923,846 in taxes, in other words over $1 in taxes for every $2 paid in dividends, or over 7 percent of the gross. And when you hear that street railways, do not pay their share of the taxes you may state that the taxes paid by them last year amounted to $14.87 per thousand on the capital stock and funded debt, while the average rate paid by the whole state was $16.10."

True she has been asleep for centuries, but she is waking up. but the rigght to prosecute the suit She has been waking up for about fifty years and one of the first facts that she be allowed to carry it on. If Mrs. has grasped is that she has not been Eddy's incompetency to make the deed treated as a great power by the "western barbarians," that is us, who have broken in on her slumber and insisted on doing business with her. She has sent some of her brightest and brainiest men abroad and finding that the weak spot of the Occidental was his pocket, she has insisted on better treatment from the west and backed her claims by choking off so far as possible western trade. Wu Ting Fang was pleasant and observant while here and when he went home immediately instituted the great Chinese boycott. Now that Sir Chentung is going, having absorbed all he could of western ideas and methods, the chances are he will have some new method of making it warm for the westerner in the Far East. It will be interesting to note what course his activities take, for that there will be something fresh doing on his return home is almost a foregone conclusion.

Question of the Intervention of Trustees as Plaintiffs

STREETER OPENS ARGUMENT

Submits Trust Deed to the Court and Says "Next Friends" Must Prove Christian Science Leader's Incom petency to Execute It

Concord, N. H., May 24 -Following several skirmishes during the past two nonths, in which motions, counter-moions, petitions and affidavits have figared to such an extent that an apparent y simple case has become greatly complicated, the first legal battle fought about the person of Mrs. Mary B. G. Eddy, founder and leader of the Christian Science denomination, in connec tion with the suit in equity seeking an accounting of her property, was opened in the Merrimac county superior court here.

The original suit, brought by Mrs. Eddy's son, George W. Glover of Lead, S. D., his daughter, Mary B. Glover and George W. Baker of Bangor, Me. Los Angeles is said to be paying $8, the last named a nephew of Mrs. Eddy was brought in the name of the Chris tian Science leader by her three relatives, acting as "next friends," and was directed against Calvin A. Frye, Mrs. Eddy's secretary, and severa make bread a luxury if persisted in other prominent leaders of the Caristian Science church, asking for an ac counting of Mrs. Eddy's property,

These became complicated when three trustees, Henry M. Baker, Archibald McLellan and Joseph E. Fernald, were appointed by Mrs. Eddy and were empowered by a trust deed executed by her to manage her property The trus ees then petitioned the court to be subdituted for the "next friends" as laintiffs in the suit in equity to se cure an accounting of Mrs. Eddy's property. Following this the original plaintiff's petitioned the court to include the trustees as defendants in the orig inal suit.

Yesterday's hearing was upon the notion of the trustees that they be substituted for the "next friends" as plaintiffs in the suit against Frye and other defendants.

When the hearing opened the court room was filled with an interesting throng. Nearly all of the 10 defendants to the suit were in court when the hearing opened, although Frye, the rincipal defendant, did not appear. Frank S. Streeter, chief counsel for the defendants, occupied the floor throughout the proceedings. His argument was devoted principally to the Mrs. Eddy's incompetency to execute the trust deed giving her trustees power to act for her. Streeter claimed

He submitted the trust deed to the court and asserted that it was valid. To make it invalid, he claimed, the "next friends" must prove Mrs. Eddy incapable of making the transfer of her property to the trustees. If the deed is valid, he said, not only all of Mrs. Eddy's property has been transferred, is regarded as material, then the question of competency must be decided

Mr. Streeter then discussed the rights and functions of "next friends," contending that they can act only when the person is insane and incompetent, and that in order to act as "next friends" it is necessary for them to prove incompetency.

During his argument Streeter referred to the fact that the suit was unauthorized by Mrs. Eddy and was Carpenter and Builder. brought without her knowledge or concent, and against her wishes.

Judge Chamberlin announced at the utset of the hearing that the proceedings should be confined strictly to the question of the intervention of the trustees as plaintiffs. Regarding the motion made Monday, he said that he would not consider Mrs. Eddy's competency at this time. The hearing is unfinished.

Swindler of Jeweler's May Have Got

Away With Nearly $1,000,000 New York, May 24.-Two indictnents charging grand larceny were re turned by the grand jury against J. E. Boeck. It is alleged that while posing as a dealer in precious stones on commission Boeck obtained jewels to the value of many thousand dollars from Maiden Lane dealers and made no re

Startling disclosures are said to have resulted from the investigations thus far made by the detectives who are acting for the Jewelers' Security Alli unce of the United States. It is said or what purports to be reliable authorit, that the losses attending Boeck's fligh pre at least $500,000. A confidential employe of one of the oldest jewelry firms in the Maiden Lane district says he would not be surprised if Boeck' obligations are found to amount to near $1,000,000.

Efforts to captured Boeck are being extended throughout the civilized world, and whether a day or a decade is required in the search, officials of the Jewelers' Alliance say he must be caught.

Asiatics Flocking to Mexico Mexico City, May 24.—A dispatel from Guayama says that great excitement prevailed when 1200 Chinese or the steamer Maori King attempted to land in defiance of the Mexican quarantine officers. The Chinese took posses sion of the steamer's launches and the boats made for the shore. The captain of the steamer signalled to a gunboa and the Chinese put back to the steamer The Herald deplores the fact that Mex co is open to these Asiatics, who are forbidden entrance into the United States, and declares that Chinese and Japanese are flocking to this republic

Flywheel Went Through Roof Woonsocket, R. I., May 24.-A flywheel in the factory of the Oakland Worsted company burst last evening. A large section went through two floors bursting a hole through the roof, soared 100 feet above it, and then falling, em bedded itself in the earth. Two men were slightly cut by flying fragments of wood. So remarkable was the es cape from a serious accident and loss of life considered that a special mass of thanksgiving was celebrated in a Catholic church this morning.

"He was not satisfied of course. He declared that he had certain information that England was making definit plans with a view to insure the delay of the fleet. He went on to say that Germany was determined not to tol erate any such thing, and he conclude: that we, as Russia's ally, would at any rate remain neutral should German think it her duty to interfere." "And your reply?"

"I answered that in the event of untoward happenings France would act as her honor dictated, remaining always mindful of the obligations of her alliance. He was quite 'satisfied."

"He had no suspicion of this?" the young man asked, touching the treaty with his forefinger.

"None. It is believed in Germany found drowned in the Seine after short career of dissipation. Our friends served us well here. Now, gentlemen ment or do we not?"

Two dignified looking Japanese gentlemen arrived in Quincy Friday noon and immediately took carriages for the Fore River. One of the lin street in the presence of a large congentlemen resembled very much gregation and a number of clergymen General Kuroki the Japanese Baron who is visiting Boston.

The impression soon got that it was the much talked of General Kuroki and one of his staff. While the gentlemen resembled Kuroki it was not, but was his chief of staff and one of his aids.

The two were received by President Bowles and escorted through the yards.

They inspected the cruiser Birmingham which is to be launched Wednesday and the submarine Octopus who has just been through some remarkable stunts. They also visited the Creole and saw the new type of turbine engines.

The gentlemen spent an hour or more at the works and departed as quietly as they came.

Judge Has Eddy Trustees' Motion Under Consideration

CLAIMS OF THE PETITIONERS

Deed of Trust Executed After Notice of Suit Had Been Received--Court Cannot Consider Mrs. Eddy's Com. petency Without a Trial

Concord, N. H., May 25 .- Arguments have been completed in the Merrimack county superior court on the motion of the trustees of the estate of Mary B. G. Eddy, head of the Christian Science church, to intervene and be substituted as plaintiffs in the suit brought by her son, George W. Glover, and others, to compel an accounting of her property. Judge Chamberlin issued an order that all affidavits and citations in the case be filed by next Tuesday, and his decision on the motion will be given later.

Most of the time yesterday was occuried by counsel for the petitioners, but late in the afternoon Mr. Streeter, counsel for the three trustees, who made his main argument in favor of the motion Thursday, made a brief closing plea.

De Witt C. Howe, of counsel for the petitioners, delivered the first of the arguments for the petitioners, and was followed by William E. Chandler, also for the petitioners. Both characterized the motion of the trustees for leave to intervene as plaintiffs to be absurd and declared that the attitude of the trustees was rather that of defendants than plaintiffs. The point was made also that the deed of trust transferring the property of Mrs. Eddy to the three trustees was executed after notice of the present suit had been received.

In answer to this Streeter said that no legal notice of the suit was served on the defendants until after the exe cution of the deed of trust. Streeter denied that there was anything in the evidence to show that the trustees had prejudged the case or that, as counse for the petitioners intimated, the trustees would dismiss the suit if admitted as plaintiffs.

During the closing argument of Streeter, the judge interjected several questions. He asked how the question of Mrs. Eddy's competency could be determined without a trial, and remarked later that it seemed a strange proposition to him that the court should determine the question involved without a trial.

Mr. Reester, in replying, said the judge could determine the question of Mrs. Eddy's competency by a visit to her, and he thereupon extended an Envitation to Chamberlin and Chandler to visit Mrs. Eddy with him and discuss the case with her. Streeter added, however, that before this question of competency was settled, two other questions should be decided. He said "If your honor has become satisfied that Mrs. Eddy's property is in good hands and needs no protection, then there will be no occasion to go further."

Mr. Streeter further said that it was not right to put a woman of Mrs. Eddy's advanced years to a trial until there is something to base that trial upon. He denied that counsel for the plaintiff had thus far shown any evidence in support of the allegation shown in the

Mr. Chandler interposed, saying: "We have much evidence which will prove very troublesome to Brother Streeter when he meets it and we will present it whenever the court directs that a proper trial be had."

Citizens and Circus Men In Riot Mendota, Ills., May 25 .- Three men were killed and several other persons were injured in a riot between em ployes of a circus and citizens. The fight began in a discussion over the merits of a young woman of Mendota who went to supper with one of the managers of the show. From a fist tight, the quarrel developed into a riot, in which all the employes of the circus and fully 100 citizens took part.

Backward Season Hurts Trade New York, May 25 .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says that further progress was made in the distribution of spring merchandise this week, but the season is still very backward and much stock will be carried shaken, although some evidences of caution followed the violent rise in prices of wheat and frequent rumors of crop disasters.

News of Absconder Walker

Can you tell me whether the secret service got hold of his story, how much the French government believe of it, whether they have communicated with the English government and how much they know? Beyond these things it is not your province to see or mine, mademoiselle, and is not for us to guess at or inquire into the meaning of things. Tell me, is it worth while to have this man Pelham put out of the way for a time?" She shook her head.

"I do not think so," she answered. "He is quite stupid. The other, Sir George Duncombe, he was different. If he had stayed in Paris he would have been worth watching."

A bell rang. The man rose. "The chief," he said. "Be at the cafe tonight." Mademoiselle went away thoughtfully.

"It is over this affair," she said to herself. "Carl knows everything."

Victim of Peculiar Accident

New Haven, May 24.—An electric car was starting across railroad tracks here when the locomotive struck and swung it around parallel to the steam line. As it was whirled around the trolley car struck Frederick Dehler, aged 15, who was standing in the street, caught and buried him under it, inflicting injuries from which he died. The passengers on the car, with the conductor and motorman, escaped without serious injury.

PRAYERS OF THANKS

Passengers on Their Knees When the Korea Reached New York

HAD A TERRIFYING JOURNEY

Would Have Taken to Boats In Midocean Had They Not Been Restrained by Ship's Officers--Deck Fittings and Part of Cargo Burned

New York, May 25.-The Russian steamship Korea was towed into port by tugs with 1500 passengers kneeling on her decks in a prayer of thanks for deliverance from perils of the sea that had beset them for almost a month.

With her wooden deck fittings chopped up for fuel and a part of her cargo burned to keep the engines gong, the Korea fought almost incessant storm. For three days the ship was helpless in the midst of a howling gale, her shaft having broken in the middle of the night while a stiff gale was blow-

As the vessel rolled and pitched in the heavy trough of the sea, her officers had all they could do to restrain the 1500 Russian steerage passengers in their wild plan of taking to the boats to save their lives. The ship was not able to make this port unassisted, but as already told in dispatches from that city, did manage to creep into Boston harbor, where she was given succor and then towed to New York, where the ship's story was first told in detail.

The Korea belongs to the new Russian line between Libau and New York. She sailed from Libau on April 29 with 1500 steerage passengers and a good sized cargo. She touched at Rotterdam on May 4, and took on 18 cabin passengers there. The weather was rough after leaving Rotterdam, and it was not long before the ship was bucking heavy gales. The storm was practically incessant. It kept growing in severity and in the night of May 11 the propellor shaft snapped.

Captain Kirschjedt set his men to work to make repairs, but it was practically impossible to do anything in a raging storm, with the ship wallowing in the sea. Three days were required to make repairs. Then the vessel started again toward New York, but limped along at a very slow rate of speed. The coal supply had run very low on account of the increased consumption made necessary by the heavy

News of the helpless condition of the ship reached the steerage passengers while repairs were being made, and there was a narrow escape from a panic. The wild noise of the storm was made more wierd by the wailing prayers of the frightened Russians. The steerage nassengers would have taken to the boats if they had not been restrained. They became more frightened when Johnson and Snead became involved in they learned that the deck fittings were being burned as fuel and that the firemen were using valuable goods from the cargo to keep up the fires.

The consumption of the cargo and the exhaustion of the coal supply caused the vessel to rise in the water, and this brought the propellor so high that it was hardly more than half sub- eral Kuroki to Boston officially came merged. under the surface. Provisions ran low and there was a shortage of fresh water. Food had to be dealt out sparingly on account of the uncertainty of reaching port. This condition of affairs threatened to become worse and the captain made up his mind last Tuesday morning that he could not reach New York. He turned the ship's nose toward Boston and his signals of distress were seen off Bosten light late that afternoon. He took on provisions and fresh water and engaged two sea-going tugs to tow him to

Presbyterians and Temperance Columbus, O., May 25 .- The Anti-Saloon league lost its fight against the report of the permanent temperance committee of the Presbyterian church because that body favored the Church Temperance Federation when the Presbyterian general assembly, without a dissenting voice, adopted the report of that committee. The assembly thus set its foot upon an ecclesiastical representation in non-ecclesiastical bodies, and will continue along its line of temperance reform.

Says Companion Killed Girl New York, May 25.—Confronted with the corpse of Amelia Staffeldt, Henry Becker broke down, according to the police, and confessed that he had witnessed the assault that invited the murder of the 15-year-old Elmhurst girl. The crime was done by a companion, said the prisoner, who asserted his own innocence, and could give no information as to the identity of the murderer.

General Revolution In Ecuador Guayaquil, Ecuador, May 25 .- Parties of armed rebels appeared yesterday between Ambato and Latacunga and made attempts to capture both towns. A detachment of troops from Latacunga surprised, defeated and dispersed the rebels. Revolutionary movements are reported in almost all parts of the this country and the United States.

FIVE PERCENT ADVANCE

Lowell Millowners Say That Is the Best They Can Do For Employes Lowell, Mass., May 25.—The Lowell Cotton Manufacturers' association last hight informed the Textile Council that wages would be advanced 5 percent in all the cotton mills here on June 3. The Textile Council will meet tomorrow to consider the decision of the manufacturers, which was given in response to a demand for an advance of 10 percent next Monday. The cotton mills of Lowell employ about 20,000 operatives.

The notification to the council was n the form of a letter from Secretary Southworth of the Manufacturers' association. Southworth informed the Textile Council that conditions here are very different from those which prevail in southeastern Massachusetts, and stated that it was impossible to grant the 10 percent requested. He further said that in his opinion the recently announced advance of 10 percent could not long be maintained in those places where it will become effective on Mon-

The officials of the Textile Council do not care to express an opinion as to the probability of Southworth's offer being accepted. Some of them point out that when the last 16 percent advance was given by mills in southeastern New England the Lowell manufacturers gave but half the increase.

A New Aid Fable.

This is not a George Adc fable, though it may sling some slang. It is a Home Aid fable.

Once there was a Geezer, who sat around and cut Kindling too small for Cook Stove purposes. He Whittled against Time and Flabbergasted against his Town. The town was No Good, he said-strictly on the Blink. Yes, it was N. G. Why, hadn't he lived Here since '84 and found that the Place was Punky? Sure, Mike!

Look at that town over in the next County. Grown like Jonah's Gourd. Must be a Jonah here. We've grown some, but I don't see that we're knocking any particularly Big Persimmons. That's the way this Gazaboo knocked his town.

One day a Sarcastic Stranger floated into the Town that was Knocked from the burg that had Blossomed like Jonah's Gourd. He Heard some of the Flabbergasting and Dropped to the sit-"Look here, you," he remarked to the citizen who was Handing Out the Knocks. "What do you do for this town? Are you doing your part to put this Burg on the Upgrade? What's that hefty Bunch of litera-ture sticking out of your Clothes?"

"That's a Mail Order Catalogue from Chi-cago—a town that is a town," replied the Gee-

"So I thought," said the Impertinent Arriv-al. "Now let me hand you out a nice little Wad of common sense. For the past ten years you have been sending your money to the Chi-cago Mail Order houses instead of spending it among your home mer-chants. What would have happened to Chi-cago fifty years ago if all the First Settlers had shipped their Loose Coin to New York on catalogue inducements? Why, you'd have to use a sand dredger now to find the Original Site of Chicago. Now, in the Burg from which I have just Blown in we got over all this Bum Business years ago. We passed Resolutions got over all this Bum Business years ago. We passed Resolutions that we would trade at home and help our own town to Spread out so that you could Sight it on the map without using Opera Glasses. But you and a Bunch of other folks in this town have wasted your Substance in Riotous Expenditures in Chicago by mail and let the sheriff hang out the 'Nothing Doing' sign in front of some of your own town's mercantile Emporiums. Look et our Town and then look at yours. What makes the Differat our Town and then look at yours. What makes the Differ-

BRIBERY INDICTMENTS

Schmitz, Ruef and Others Held as Result of Grand Jury Probe

San Francisco, May 25 .- The grand jury last evening returned bribery in dictments against the following:

President Patrick Calhoun of the United Railroads, 14 indictments; Thornwall Mullally, assistant to Calhoun, 14; Attorneys Lord and Abbott of the legal department of the United Railroads, 14 each; Mayor Schmitz, 16; Abraham Ruef, 14; President Glass of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company, 2; T. V. Halsey, formerly an agent of that corporation, 1. Ruef, Schmitz, Calhoun, Mulally, Ford and Abbott are charged with bribery in connection with the fixing of the gas company's rates and with receiving $50,000 in the United Railroads franchise deal.

The indictments against Glass are in addition to the 11 indictments already leturned against him on the charge of bribing supervisors to refuse a competitive telephone franchise. The indictment against Halsey is for the same offense.

Superior Judge Coffey fixed bail w the sum of $10,000 on each of the charges and gave the accused until this afternoon to furnish bonds.

The statement was made unofficially that all but $140,000 of the entire amount of bonds, $890,000, will be forthcoming today. The United Railways alone will have to put up for its president, the assistant to the president and two attorneys $560,000 in securities, or $280,000 in cash.

Merchants Fear Further Riots Santiago, Cuba, May 25.—The strike of longshoremen and others here has then 11.37 and 12.07 P. M. lecome serious. The strikers now dominate the city and the police are almost powerless. The police yesterday were and including 9.35 P.M. Returning, leave Necompelled to fire a volley before they were able to disperse a crowd of rioters armed with clubs and stones. The merchants are closing their places of business, as further rioting is apprehended.

Nineteen Sentenced to Death Guatemala City, May 25.—The court martial which has been in session here to try the prisoners charged with com-plicity in the attempt made on the life of President Caberera handed down sentences of death in cases of 19 of the prisoners before it. These findings have created intense excitement and popular feeling is so high that the carrying out of the sentences is doubtful.

Standard Oil Again Hit

Jefferson City, Mo., May 25 .- Commissioner Anthony, appointed by the Missouri supreme court to take testimony in the ouster suit in the state against the Standard Oil company, made a report to the court that the evidence introduced before him is sufficient to oust the Standard Oil company and tributary companies from Missouri.

GOOD AFTERNOON.

It will be a satisfaction to everyone to have it from the lips of Secretary Wilson himself that the Meat inspection business is on a sound basis and that the public is getting all it had any reason to hope from the government supervision of the packing houses. The Secretary of Agriculture has just been on a tour of the west and rounded up all the chief meat inspectors for a talk in Chicago. He reports that the inspection work is going forward satisfactorily, that there have been a number of modern and sanitary packing houses built since the law went into effect less than a year ago. More than that there is about $2,500,000 being invested in other new houses, cement built and a credit to the business. To be sure the improvement is no fault of the packers. They never would have come to it but for the prodding of the Administration through the press. The public has had to pay for the improvements in the enhanced cost of meat, but at least we are now getting what we pay for and American meat products are ranked as first class all over the That probably is worth the tem the New England Telephone Company made a large increase in its underground plant in Quincy last year, it appears from the recently issued report of the directors. One thousand one hundred and seventy-three feet of conduit were built, containing 10,799 feet of ducts for holding telephone cables. Altogether 15, 504 feet of underground cables were drawn in during 1906. Some of this was an enlargement or replacement of existing underground lines, and in the rearrangement of the wires 1936 feet of old cable were removed. The new cable being bigger than the old provides a large number of extra lines which will be ready for immediate use whenever they are needed.

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE CO.

As the number of subscribers to be served increases and the circuits to reach them must be multiplied, the New England company has adopted the policy of substituting cables for the longitudinal strength of the wessel and to the strength of the wines 1930 flower and the bridge above will be supplied with the usual steering state (each will be of bronze. The chart house and the bridge above will be supplied with the usual steering state (each will be of bronze. The chart house and the bridge above will be supplied with the usual steering state (each will be or proach they supplied with the usual steering stands, engine telegraphs and indicators.

The arrangements of the quarters provide accomodation for a commanding officer, 12 wardroom officers, five warrant officers, and 340 men.

The houses on the main deck contain the galleys, bakery, breadroom, blacksmith shop and wirless telegraph room. A large workshop is provided on the berth deck between the engine hatches, and the firemens' washrooms are also located on the berth deck, between the uptake enclosure.

Nice Rhubarb.

Some of the handsomest rhubarb we ever saw is being raised at the residence of N. B. Furnald on Washington street in this city. The stalks are red and very pretty, from 30 to 36 inches long, tender and juicy. Barrels are placed over the roots, in the spring which causes the stalks to grow long, so that the leaves can welcome the morning sun and breeze.

Personal Recollections of a Dollar

I am a dollar. A little age worn, maybe, but still in circulation. I am proud of myself for being in cireulation. I am no tomato can dollar-not I.

This town is only my adopted home, but I like it and hope to remain permanently. When I came out of the mint I was adopted into a town like this in another state. But after a time I was sent off to a big city, many miles away. I turned up in a Mail Order house. For several years I stayed in that city. Millionaires bought cigars with me. I didn't like that, for I believe in the plain people.

Finally a traveling man brought me to this town and left me here. I was so glad to get back to a smaller town that I determined to make desperate efforts to stay. One day a citizen of this town was about to send me back to that big city. I caught him looking over a Mail Order Catalogue. Suddenly I found my voice and said to him-he was a dentist, by

"Now, look here, doc. If you'll only let me stay in this town I'll circulate around and do you lots of good. You buy a big heefsteak with me, and the butcher will buy groceries, and the grocer will buy dry goods, and the dry goods merchant will pay his doctor's bill with me, and the doctor will spend me with a farmer for oats to feed his buggy horse, and the farmer will buy some fresh beef from the butcher, and the butcher will come around to you and get his tooth mended. In the long run, as you see, I'll be more useful to you here at home than if you'd send me away forever."

Doc said it was a mighty stiff argument. He hadn't looked at it in that light before. So he went and bought the big beefsteak, and I began to circulate around home again.

The Making of a Successful Husband

By CASPAR S. YOST.

It Is Not Only Advisable For Married Folks to Share Their Joys Unselfishly, but the Wise Husband and Wife Will Be Equally Generous In the Exchange of Worries. A

Y DEAR JOHN-I think you are making a grave mistake. I have been in the same boat and understand your motives. They are laudable and right as motives, but they go wrong in action. They don't accomplish what you expect of them. Did you ever see a cross eyed calf? I never saw but one, and I was the proud possessor of that one when I was a kid. That calf never did learn to get a proper focus on things (it joined the beef trust before it was a yearling), and its fool antics used to make me laugh till I got the stomach ache. I remember once upon a time Lightning. as I used to call it, because you never could tell where it was going to strike, got out of the pasture, and I was sent to drive it home. Returning, I had to pass through a lane, and the calf would butt into the fence about every third panel. No matter how hard I tried, I couldn't keep it headed straight. It so happened that old Deacon Norcross was coming down the lane at the same time. He had his head up and his eyes fixed on the blue sky while he sang "I Am Bound For the Happy Land of Canaan" in a voice that made the leaves curl. He didn't see the calf. the parlor mantel. Here's the Application.

I recall this incident simply to illustrate the point I made in the beginning that good motives don't always pan out good results. That calf aimed right, but the two sexes are designed right and was doing its level best to go right. There are a lot of people just like my boytime pet, except that their strabismus is mental and not necessarily permanent. Now you come to me with your little troubles, which you think are big ones, and say you don't want your wife to know anything about them because you don't

But you cannot keep your troubles to yourself. Woman's love has a keenness of perception that is superhuman. She can detect the slightest physical or mental variation from the normal in the object of her love. She knows that you are sick or worried almost before you realize it yourself. It is in the swapping of trouble that equality of interest shows its greatest value. There was never a man and never a woman who didn't have troubles of some sort, big or little, mostly little, and there was never a man and never a woman who didn't get relieved by letting them out, provided they had somebody to talk to in whose confidence and sympathy they could rely. There is relief in the mere telling, and so when you come home in the evening, tired and probably cross, don't get out of patience with Anna May if she gives you an itemized statement of the annoyances of the day. Most of her troubles may seem trivial to you, and singly most of them are, no doubt, but a woman's troubles stack up almighty big in the totals, and they are more wearing on the mind and nerves than the sorrows that stun by their weight. Hoist With His Own Petard. A woman recently applied to a sewing machine company for a machine to be used on trial. The agent set her down as one who had no intention of really buying, so he sent her a second hand machine, made by another company, that they had somehow managed to secure in trade.

"That," said he, "will be good enough for her to do her sewing on, and that is all she wants it for." At the end of two weeks the woman called at the office. "That machine," she said, "is a treasure. It runs easily, and the tucking, shirring and hemstitching are perfectly beautiful. All the women in our building say they never saw anything so nice. They are going to sell their old machines and buy new ones like it. I am going to get a new one too. There are eleven of us who want to buy. Since that is quite a large order, we thought you might be able to get the machines for us at a discount."

The agent nearly collapsed. He tried to induce the woman to look with fa vor upon the machines made by his own firm, but her affections were fasfatuously provided. So in order to se cure any commission for himself he had to fill an order of eleven machines made by a rival concern.-New York

Complaint of Great Importance Washington, May 25 .- A definite effort has been begun before the interstate commerce commission to secure to the public a reduction in the rate of fare charged by the Pullman company for its sleeping car accommodations. George S. Loftus, a business man of St. Paul, asks not only that the rates be materially reduced, but that the company be allowed to charge only half as much for an upper berth as for a lower berth. The complaints, which are brought under the most recent act of congress on the subject of rates, will open up the whole question of sleeping car rates throughout the country.

Worth a Million, but Will Draw Pension

New York, May 25 .- Captain W. W. McLaughlin, whose 39 years of police service to the city have been crowded with stirring events, retired from the force at midnight last night. The for-Dier inspector yesterday made application for retirement on half pay, which will be $2500 a year. This retirement will remove McLaugh the investigation of the alleged Gould conspiracy, as the application for retirement forestalled any possible charges. McLaughlin has amassed a fortune of nearly $1,000 000 in real estate dealings.

Bread Cast Upon the Waters

Washington, May 25 .- Sir Chentung Liang Cheng, commenting on the effect of the financial assistance which has been furnished famine sufferers in certain Chinese provinces, said that while he rejoiced that the necessity for further aid had passed, he believed the generosity exhibited by this country would be amply repaid by the entire elimination of any further irritation be tween the two countries.

Woman Fell Under Train Dunkirk, N. Y., May 25 .- Mrs. Carmelina Crimi, wife of a mine broker of Boston, was out driving with her husband and a party of friends when the horses ran away, throwing the occupants out of the carriage. Mrs. Crimi fell upon the railroad tracks while a train was passing and she rolled under the wheels and was instantly killed. She was 23 years old.

Distinguished Himself In Boyhood St. John, May 25 .- Hiram V. Wetmore, aged 64, a veteran of the Crimean war, was found dead in his field, where he was planting potatoes at South Bay. When a powder boy on a British manof-war at the siege of Sebastopol, Wetmore caught up a live shell from the deck and threw it into the sea. For this he received a pension of $10 a month for life.

NEWS IN BRIEF

There is no likelihood of a track and field meet taking place in the United States this year between teams representing Oxford and Cambridge, Eng., and Harvard and Yale. Lieutenant General Miles of Boston has accepted an invitation to act as chief marshal of the grand civic and trades parade, to be held July 31 in connection with the Boston Old Home Week celebration. Fire at Danielson, Conn., believed to have been of incendiary origin, totally destroyed the planing mill of James A. Nichols, causing a loss of $25,000. Brigadier General Constant Will-

DEFENSE OF MEIKLE Sick Headache

Accused Youth Takes Witness Stand In His Own Behalf

SAYS FATHER KILLED SELF

Tells of Incidents Preceding Death of His Parent-Denies Making Certain Remarks Attributed to Him-Admits Kind Treatment From Father

Salem, Mass., May 25.-Edgar W. Meikle, 17 years old, who is on trial on the charge of murdering his father, Charles S. G. Meikle, took the stand in his own defense. In the main his story was similar to that already credited to him by the testimony of other witnesses, but in the cross-examination the prosecution brought out some apparent discrepancies between his testimony at the inquest and that given yesterday. During his appearance on the stand some women in the courtroom were reprimanded once for applauding. In closing the direct examination, Lawyer Sisk for the defense said:

"Now Edgar, I want to know if you shot your father on Nov. 7?" "I didn't," replied the witness, in tones more emphatic than had characterized any of his previous answers.

Edgar Meikle was still on the witness stand when adjournment was taken last evening, undergoing a fire of questions from District Attorney Peters. In his direct testimony, young Meikle said he was born in Lynn, March 13, 1891, and began attending school when he was 6 years old. He last went to school about a week before his father's death.

In describing the incidents preceding his father's death, Meikle said that on that Tuesday morning he and his father had a talk about a history book, and his father told him that he "could get the book and take it home." About II o'clock that forenoon the witness looked for the history, but could not find it. He passed by the bureau and that reminded him that he had seen his father put the book in there, so he went to a neighbor, Mrs. McCarthy, and got a key and went back home. With this key witness said he unlocked the top drawer of the bureau and found the history. He carried the book into the kitchen and put it in a box. His examination as to this part of his story was dwelt upon particularly because of the ciaim made by the prosecution that the revolver with which the elder Meikle s alleged to have been killed came from the bureau where the history was said he began just before 12 o'clock to get dinner, heating some chops. He was reaching for the pan in which the ons were to pull it forward to the front of the stove when he heard footsteps and the door opened. The witness said his father came in the door, drew the pistol from his pocket, put it to his head and fired. The witness was tazed for a moment. His father fell forward about at his feet, and the wittess then picked up the revolver and but it on the refrigerator.

After that, according to Meikle's testimony, he ran out of the house to tell Jeremiah McCarthy, a neighbor. He was frightened, nervous and excited, and did not remember using the expression "the old man has shot him-Belf" to some boys on the street.

That evening witness went to the police station and was questioned while there. Thursday morning he met his uncle. Roland Meikle, and the uncle Faid he was going to have a thorough investigation. On Saturday morning as he was passing the place of Mr. Blaisdell, an undertaker, the latter Esked him if he wanted to see his father. The witness replied in the affirmative and then went into the back room of the undertaker's establishment. Blaisdell lifted the cloth from the face and then, according to the witiess, pointed out the wound and said:

After the funeral the witness had a t remember that he used the words: "My counsel told me to stick to my

Oriental Lyric Translated by Fanny Raymond Ritter.

A lady in New York who had been tenderly reared married an adventurer who had many ups and downs. She stood by him bravely and faithfully through poverty, and even in disgrace. He served a sentence in Sing Sing for forgery; she took a room near the prison to be near him, and by her devotion secured a commutation of his sentence. Late in life she abandoned him, informing her friends that he was a villain. She had discovered that all the love letters he sent to her were copies of letters sent to his first wife.

Gave Back His Money.

A fabulously rich man who is quoted for his economies died. He appeared at the gates of heaven. He was me by St. Peter. Gabriel, as recorder of deeds, sat near by. St. Peter said:

"What have you done to cause you to think you should come into heaven? "Well," said the applicant timidly, "I met a crippled child and gave it two stairs, and the doctor decided to put up a job on him. He rushed out an articulated skeleton, placed it in a AND OTHER CARDS chair by the desk and then the two men withdrew to the back room. "In rushed the boy and, without noticing what was at the desk, came directly up to the skeleton. When he looked up and saw it grinning at him he was nearly scared into convulsions and bolted for the door yelling bloody murder. The joke tickled the doctor, but Ingalls' conscience pricked him, and, going to the window, he looked out at the boy, who was standing below crying.

"'Come upstairs, my boy,' he said. 'I'll buy one of your papers.' "But the newsy began to yell harder than ever, and between his sobs he managed to blubber out:

Taking Chances.

A small boy had been punished and in consequence was feeling at enmity with all the world, but with his father in particular. When he came to say the deed's intent,
Temptation, victim, sinner, crime, pardon,

His mother understood, but thought it best to "appeal to his better self." "Harold," she said sweetly, "what about papa? You forgot, dear." "Didn't. Don't want papa blessed." "Why, Harold! When you love him so! Just think, dear, papa has gone downtown now, and how would you feel if he got lost or hurt because you hadn't prayed for him?"

This rather worked on the boy's mind, and slowly he began to clamber out of bed, when, just as he got on his knees, he heard the familiar click of his father's key in the lock. "I guess I'll risk it," he announced and jumped back into bed.—Lippincott's.

Story of Three Boys. Three boys were told to go and take the exact time by the town clock. The first came back and said, "It is 12 o'clock." He became in after life a bookseller. The second was more exact. He said it was three minutes after 12. He became a doctor. The third looked at the clock, found out how long it took him to walk back to the house, returned to the clock, then added the time of his walk to the time shown and reported the result thus: "It is at this moment twelve hours, ten minutes and fifteen seconds." DR. CLAYTON R. MARSTIN Certain to Result From Agrarian Plans of the Douma

STOLYPIN SOUNDS WARNING

Tells Parliament That It Must Not Disregard Government's Attitude and That Forcible Expropriation of Land Will Not Be Permitted

St. Petersburg, May 24.—Premier Stolypin caused a sensation in the !ower house of parliament last evening by unexpectedly announcing that a serious conflict existed between the house and the government and scored an ef-Back Bay 209 fective point by showing that the agrarian committee of the house had proceeded to solve the whole agrarian problem without consulting with any representative of the government. The premier ended his statement with announcing that the forcible expropriation of land would not be permitted, and warned the house that the speeches exciting the peasants were beginning to cause a dangerous agitation in the provinces, which the government was determined to restrain.

The premier's entry on the scene was almost dramatic. At the close of a dull session of the house devoted to the adoption of rules of order, Stolypin suddenly claimed the floor. The motion of the social revolutionists to adjourn was defeated and amidst the most intense attention the premier declared that the agrarian committee of the house on Wednesday had formally adopted the principle of the forcible expropriation of land without waiting to ascertain the government's attitude. It was the premier's duty, therefore, to enlighten the deputies. Fundamental principles maintained by the government had been disregarded, an openly revolutionary tone marked most of the speeches and insults had been aimed at the government. The premier added that the agrarian program of the committee left the various parties in the house in irreconcil-Address 39 Gay St., Quincy. Tel. 356-2 able positions towards each other and towards the government. If the principle of the forcible expropriation of land was permitted to prevail a social upheaval, of which history would not be able to show a parallel, would be precipitated. Continuing, Stolypin characterized the constitutional democratic agrarian program as being milder and more gradual than that of the radicals, but, he said, the same principle, the undermining of the rights of property, was hidden at the bottom. Furthermore. the constitutional democratic price, $40 per deciatine (2.70 acres), was unreasonowners. He scouted the argument that the forcible expropriation of land was inevitable, pointing out that the present available government reserve of land was inadequate to appease the land hunger. M. Stolypin asserted that to plunder the land of 130,000 landowners would be like nursing an invalid back to health by nourishment drawn from his own body. The whole state must assist in solving the agrarian problem. The premier then announced the government's willingness to assist the peasauts to purchase land and help them on a broad scale in the payment of the mortgage interest, but he firmly asserted that the forcible expropriation of land could not be permitted except in the case of the exercise of the right of eminent domain, in building roads, for irrigation works, etc. In conclusion the premier warned the house that some of the speeches made had excited the peasants and were beginning to cause a dangerous agitation in the provinces, which the government was determined to restrain, adding: "The radicals long for a mighty upheaval. We yearn to build up a mighty Russia."

Cross and Cash For Baby Alfonso Madrid, May 24.—The traditional ceremony of conferring the Cross of Pelayo upon the Prince of the Asturias, the newly born heir to the throne of Spain, took place in the palace in the presence of members of the royal famlly and a gathering of government officials. The baby was invested with the cross by his father. After this ceremony a delegation from the principality of the Asturias delivered a gift for the royal baby, consisting of 1000 golden doubloons, equal to $8000 in value.

David Belasco announces the reurn of his star Warfield in "The throw it wide open next Monday. Music Master" for a two weeks' engagement beginning Monday evening, June 3rd. This engagement will positively be Warfield's last in Boston in "The Music Master," for here his season will close and his present vehicle which has served him so well and will be laid aside. With Mr. Warfield will return the same artistic company consecutive seasons in New York and during his first engagement in Boston last October. Since Warfield was last seen at the Majestic he has given his of the dear old German in a few of the other large cities and played a return engagement of four weeks in New York. His last metropolitan run was at the old Academy of Music, the spacious playhouse of historic fame. Warfield and "The Music will positively not appear elsewhere in New England, hence this Boston engagement is the last opportunity to be afforded for seeing the great character actor in his greatest Sung first in London at the Savoy theatre, and later in this country by the Bostonians, its name, its character and its songs became the rage and continued for many seasons in the popular favor. At the Castle theatre next week there will be crowded houses to show that the opera is well remembered and still appreciated. The Castle Square cast will be headed by Miss Clara Lane as Patience, with Mr. Murray, Mr. Shields, Mr. Thayer, Miss Le Baron, Miss Ladd and Miss Earl in the other important roles.

Hollis Street Theatre. The biggest hit in Boston at the moment is "The Prince Chap" at the Hollis Street theatre. The first night of the piece that occurred last Monday proved to be one of the most brilliant theatrical happenings perienced this season. Its comedy and pathos both are a real delight while the acting is a revelation.

Park Theatre.

To a house packed to suffocation by widly enthusiastic audience Miss a bridal tour through France and Lillian Lawrence opened her season at the Park Theatre, Boston, last The ovation advance. Miss Lawrence on her first appearance was a charming tribute to her great popularity. Sunday's Boston Post said: "The play was 'Frou-Frou,' and she was literally bombarded with bouquets, while the applause, continuing for several minutes, stopped the progress of the play. At the close of the more pronounced demonstration. The larger floral pieces were handed over of flowers from wing to wing. It was degree, and what is more uncommon, one of the most remarkable receptions ever accorded an actress in this city.'

Keith's Theatre. There will be several items of more than ordinary interest on the Keith bill for the coming week, prominent among them being Cressy and Dayne "The Futurity Winner," Rooney and Bent, La Belle Blanche and the Zazelle-Vernon Company. The engagewere the height of art to him. Having ment that Cressy and Dayne are to commence next Monday will probably six times, it was not at all wonderful be the last they will play in Boston as vaudeville stars for a long time to come, as they are under engagement to appear in a three act comedy next season. The Orpheum. In preparing the bill for week beginning Monday, May 27, at Percy Williams' Orpheum the management figured out that the audience could stand two hours and thirty minutes of joyous laughter with the result that a program has been selected which is confined almost exclusively to comedy acts. With hot weather chasing spring away theatre goers demand the lighter forms of amusement and next week they will be regaled with an entertainment that is guaranteed to be hot weather proof. Guyer and Crispie head the array of fun provokers with their eccentric dancing act calculated to excite the risibilities of the most blase vaudeville patron. Thomas J. Ryan-Richfield Company in their hilariously funny sketch "May Hagarty's Visit" don't even give the audience opporfunity to breathe between laughs. Holcombe-Curtis Company with their ridiculously funny sketch "The Alphabet Class," will be close contenders for the laughing honors.

HIGHLAND PARK.

While the warm season is a little backward this year the management of the Old Colony St. Ry. Co., which operates Highland Park, is confident that it will come eventually and that when it does come people will wish to make up for lost time in the matter of out of door amusement. As a result of this feeling there will be some excitement at the park earlier this year than ever before, plans being made to list. Williams 1473 Hancock street

From then on there will be an abundance of pleasure offerings at this pet park of this district. Monday the restaurant will open the roller coaster will start rolling and in the evening the dance board will be the Mecca of hundreds of successfully for the past three seasons graceful dancers. As a special feature, however, and one that is an innovation this year the managemen of players who supported him three will offer free moving pictures every evening commencing at 8 o'clock These will be given every evening absolutely free until the theatrical summer season opens at the park June remarkably life-like characterization 24. ### MRS. FRANCES A. BRECKENRIDGE.

Word has been received by Mrs W. T. Babcock of this city of the death of her mother, Mrs. Frances A. Breckenridge, who died at the home of her son-in-law Dr. M. L. Harris in Chicago.

Mrs. Breckridge was well known by some of the older residents in Quincy who met her during her oc-Monday evening, another Gilbert and casional visits here. She is the Sullivan opera has been selected. It author of the book, "Recollections of a New England Town," which she presented to the Crane Memorial Library and a few years ago she wrote a delightful sketch of Quincy and its past history, which was printed in a Connecticut paper. Although nearly eighty-three years old at the time of her death her pen was still busy. Among the printed testimonies to her worth and ability are the following from various sources

"It is probable that the announcenent of no death could cause more sincere sorrow to Meriden people in general than that of Mrs. Breckenridge. Long a resident here her personality in itself had won for her a host of warm friends and to her the people of Meriden are indebted for a collection of writings dealing with the history of this town, the value of which cannot be overestimated.

For years, under the name of 'Faith," she contributed articles to The Journal, which were afterward edited by Mayor Thos. L. Reilly and issued in book form under the title "Recollections of a New England Town." This book had and still has a wide sale and has generally been commented on as one of the most charming of books dealing with early New England life."

Mrs. Breckenridge was some years ago made honorary member of the Ruth Hart Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. At a meeting called for the purpose tribute was paid to her memory by Miss Hannah K. Peck in the following

Mrs. Breckenridge was a rare woman, combining in a remarkable degree the characteristics of the olden time with the up to date intelligence of the woman of today.

A shrewd observer of human nature with a caustic wit, a keen sense of humor, great command of language and entire originality her writing on congenial themes amounted to genius. Her wonderful memory enabled her to draw from a rich storehouse, things old and new-and she comsecond act there was another and bined them often with a master hand, But not only was she a genius in the realm of letters-she had the power of making friends in an unusual

She was for over 60 years a memper of St. Andrew's church, a devout communicant and most efficient and inspiring aid in all our benevolent work.

Her little pamphlet entitled Story of Woman's Work in a England Parish" is a graphic and entertaining sketch of the evolution of the sewing society from its first feeble beginnings in 1828.

Young Men's Christian Association OF QUINCY, MASS.

(Legal Title - Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Quincy, with a firm faith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make, their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endowment, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educational class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor.

The Treasurer, William F. Cummings, 7 Clive Street, Quincy, or the General Secretary, Ernesz G. Gay, will be happy to answer inquiries.

(Legal Title: City Hospital of Quincy) INCORPORATED 1889

The Trustees of the City Hospital of Ouincy earn stly appeal for donations and bequests for the Encowment fund. This now amounts to over $60,000, but a fund of at least $100,000 is urgently needed. Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) will endow a Free Bed to which such name may be given as the Donor may desire, but any sum for this noble institution which stands ready to serve us all in the hour of need, will be most gratefully received.

The Secretary, Timothy Reed, Adams St., Julincy, or the Treasurer, Richard D. Chase, Savings Bank Building, Quincy, will be very glad c confer with any one or to answer any inquiries.

Arraigned For

William Albert Murphy, who it is illeged has two or more wives living in various parts of the country, was arraigned in court this morning on a complaint sworn out by Anna Murphy of Braintree, charging him with polygamy.

Murphy was arrested in New Haven ast Saturday by Detective John C. Scott. At the time of his arrest he was working as a brakeman at New Haven, and had been for some months. "He offered no resistance when arrested.

Murphy was represented in court this morning by J. J. McAnarney who waived the reading of the complaint and pleaded not guilty. The case was then continued until Saturday under $1,000 bonds. He was unable to get bail this morning but expects to before the day is out.

Murphy denies that he was ever married to the Portland woman. He knows her however and says that she is a married woman and was married last September or October. He first met her four or five years ago and says that they lived together as man and wife for four months, but there was never any marriage ceremony.

He admits that he was legally married to the Braintree woman and says the reason he left her was beeause she told him to get out. This was last March. As to his arrest Murphy says that had he desired he could easily have escaped from the two inspectors that arrested him. The Braintree people were trying to spring a trap upon him and for that reason he submitted quietly to arrest that the matter might be cleared up.

JURY OUT MANY HOURS

Boy Showed Strain Upon Nervous System and Fell Into Arms of His Guardian When Adjudged Not Guilty -- Claims That Father Shot Himself

Salem, Mass., May 27.-Edgar W. Meikle, 17 years old, who was tried last | banks is about 50 years of age and marweek in the Essex county superior court, charged with the murder of his father, Charles S. G. Meikle, was adjudged not guilty by the jury. Young Meikle burst into tears as he heard the verdict, and, swaying as he stood, fell into the arms of his guardian, Mr. Trimble of Lynn, with whom he will for the present have his home. The boy made no statement.

The jury made its report at 2:30 Sunday morning, after nearly 10 hours of deliberation. During all that time the jury remained locked in their room, not desiring at any time, apparently, any instructions from the court. A PEACEFUL DEATH

Watchers Barely Knew When

MANY YEARS AN INVALID

Encouraged Husband Under All Conditions, In Spite of Personal Afflic tions--Life as Wife of William Mc-Kinley Was a Notably Happy One

Canton, O., May 27 .- Mrs. William McKinley, widow of the third martyred President of the United States, died at her home here yesterday afternoon. The transition from life to death was so peaceful and gradual that it was with difficulty that the vigilant physicians and attendants noted when dissolution came.

There was no struggle, no pain. Mrs. McKinley never knew of the efforts nade for days to prolong her life or of he solicitious care of her sister and other relatives and friends

The funeral services, which are to be imple, will be held at the McKinley nome Wednesday afternoon. Secre tary of the Treasury Cortelyou is diecting the arrangements and will renain here until after the funeral. The ody of Mrs. McKinley will be placed in he vault in Westlawn cemetery which holds the remains of her husband un til the completion of the national mausoleum, when both caskets will be transferred to receptacles in that tomb

More than half of Mrs. McKinley' ife of almost 60 years was a period of nvalidism. Through all this, however, she showed a firm and unwavering be lief in the career of her husband and by her cheerful words, in spite of per onal afflictions, encouraged him unde all conditions. She believed that his star of destiny would never set until ie had become President of the United States, and for more than a quarter of a century cherished this belief until her opes were realized.

After President McKinley's death she expressed a desire to join him and rayed day by day that she might die ater, however, she frequently told friends she desired to live until the completion of the McKinley mausoeum, which is the gift of the nation, and which is to be dedicated on Monument hill Sept. 30 next.

Ida Saxton McKirley was born in Canton June 8, 1847. James A. Saxton her father, was a business man and banker, his wife a woman of extraorinary culture and refinement. Ida axton was reared in a home of comort and ease. Part of the years of her ung womanhood were spent in the tark county bank, which belonged to er father. On several occasions she had charge of the institution.

Her life as the wife of William Mc Kinley was a most happy and devoted one. They never "kept house" while he was in congress because of her in valid state. She, however, desired to be with him as much as possible and spent much time in Washington.

At Washington, as the first lady of the land, Mrs. McKinley was unable to act as hostess at brilliant social functions. After the crushing blow which came to her when the assassin's bullet struck down her husband, friends despaired of her life for a month or more. She rallied and for several years enjoyed better health than usual. She would not consent to leave her Canton

Mrs. McKinley was fond of the Irama. Among her diversions was the crocheting of slippers, which she gave as keepsakes to friends and to bazaars. More than 3500 pairs of slippers were of children, she showed her intense affection for children until the end of her

The estate which was left by President McKinley was appraised at $215,-000 when the inventory was made. It has increased in value since that time By the terms of the will of McKinley the estate at the death of Mrs. McKin ley was to be divided equally among his brother, Abner McKinley, now deceased, and sister, Mrs. Duncan, and Miss Helen McKinley of Cleveland. when the two men engaged the room they described themselves as John and Paul Sarkis, each about 35 years of age. The men had been visited, she said, by a man wearing a clerical garb, who looked not unlike the murdered man. She thought that this man called at 8 o'clock last Wednesday morning. No one in the tenement that day heard any unusual uoises.

Late Wednesday afternoon an express wagon brought to the house the trunk which later was found to contain the body. One of the Sarkis, with the aid of a young man who drove the express, carried the trunk with consider able difficulty to the lodgers' roon That night Mrs. Sherer asked her roomers for the rent due. The internal organs were congested and Lehane gave it as his opin ion that the man was thrust into the Real Estate, trunk while alive, and the cover of the

The body was removed to the morgu at midnight last night and was identi fied as that of the priest. He had lived at 608 Monastery street, West Hoboken, and frequently made trips to this city soliciting funds for his church in Hoboken. Father Kaspar, Real Estate and Insurance carrying a small leather bag in which his collections were placed, came to be a familiar figure in Greek and Armenian circles here, and it is believed that he was murdered for the money he carried.

The autopsy revealed that the priest had probably been drugged and placed, while still alive, in the trunk, there to be suffocated to death. Thrown upon the body and as if to fill the trunk to the point of suffocation was the priest's clothing.

The coroner's physician said that the man had probably been dead six or seven days. The contents of the stomach will be examined to determine whether knockout drops or some other drug was used. The police have sent out a general alarm for Sarkis Erma jian, Sarki Barmorvion and Paul Sarisatan.

Simon Pashakarian of 506 Tenth avenue last night identified the trunk as belonging to Sarkis Ermajian, an Armenian, who, he said, roomed with him for four months, and up to last Monday night, when he quit the house. The police theory is that the priest was murdered in the Tenth avenue house. They believe that the priest wa lured to this room, there drugged and robbed and the trunk later sent to the West Thirty-Seventh street address.

Alleged Plot to Poison New York, May 27 .- The investigation into the police department, started by charges that detectives had been used in the Gould separation case, has developed into allegations by Mrs. Howard Gould that she has received anonymous letters which she claims disclose a plot to poison her. Mrs. Gould will, it is expected, make formal complaint to the federal authorities that her mail has been tampered with.

PENCER, whose recovery during the last few days had been as rapid as the first development of his indisposition, had just changed for dinner and was lighting a "cigarette d'appertif" when, without waiting to be announced, the is what you call a coup, this, eh?" Vicomte de Bergillac entered the room Spencer, with lightning-like intuition,

"Off with your coat, man, and get your code books out. I am going to finishes ever seen on the Schuylkill beat give you the most sensational story which has ever appeared in your paper!" he exclaimed, "Only remember this-it must appear tomorrow morning. I am arranging for the French papers to have it. Yours shall be the only English journal. Glance through these sheets. They contain the story of 'l'affaire Poynton.' "

Spencer was master of the gist of the thing in a very few moments. His eyes were bright with excitement. "Who guarantees this?" he asked quickly. "My uncle has signed it," Henri de Bergillac answered, "and at the bottom of the page there you will see a still more distinguished signature. You understand 'l'affaire Povnton' now? It is very simple. That English boy actually witnessed a meeting between the ezar and the emperor and turns up in Paris, with a loose sheet of a treaty between the two relative to an attack upon England. Our people got hold of him at the Cafe Montmartre, and we have hidden him away ever since. Our friends, the Germans, who seemed to have had some suspicions about him, have filled the city with spies, but from the first we have kept them off the scent. We had a little difficulty in convincing our friends, your country people, but we managed to borrow a ew papers from the German ambassador while he was staying at a country house in England, which were suf-risks of your discovering a clew," De Bergillacanswered, "because you in your turn were closely watched by German sples, hoping to discover them through you. That is why we had to strike hard at all of you who interfered. I was sorry for little Flossie, but she knew the risk she ran. The vicomte did as he was asked. Then he turned toward the door.

Out on the boulevards the papers were selling like wildfire. The vicomte bought one and, sitting down outside a cafe, ordered absinth. The great headlines attracted him at once. He sipped his absinth and smiled to himself.

"The play commences," he murmur ed. "I must return to M. Spencer." Spencer was still working like

"I must interrupt you for a moment," De Bergillac said. "I have brought you ar evening paper. The Baltic fleet has sunk half a dozen English fishing boats, and the whole country is in a frenzy. It is the beginning.'

On the way he passed the great pile of buildings in the Louvre. In a room at the extreme end of the pile a light was burning. De Bergillac looked at it curiously. A small brougham, which he recognized, stood outside.

"If one could see inside," he mut tered. "It would be interesting!"

In a sense it was interesting, M. Grisson sat there in front of his open table. His secretary's place by his side was vacant. Opposite sat a tall man with gray hair and dark mustache. The prince smiled. He remained admirably self possessed, though the very veins in his forehead were swollen with anger

DEATH PENALTY AN OBSTACLE

Talesmen Resist Attempts to Show That Their Belief Had Been Recently Formed--Defense Criticises Sheriff's Making Up of Lists,

The last man of the second, venire was disqualified yesterday afternoon and Judge Wood postponed the trial until Friday morning, when Sheriff Hodgin is to produce another special venire of 61 men. The odd number was jocularly asked for by the defense in the hope of changing the luck that has dogged the even numbers used. The work of jury filling is stopped at the vacancy created by the 11th peremptory challenge, so that there remain three more peremptory challenges. There was a long and at times pic turesque fight over the qualification of Harmon Cox, a veteran, who gave up carpentering to fight three and a half years in the Civil war, then to join the gold rushes of the late 60s, and then farmed for 30 years. The defense held that Cox did not have sufficient mental qualifications to sit in so grave a case, and tried for nearly two hours to disqualify him, but without success.

SHOE MACHINERY FIGHT

Hostile Amendments to the Bill Are Beaten by a Heavy Vote

Boston, May 28.- The fight of the United Shoe Machinery company against the bill which would forbid it to make restrictive leases, collapsed in the house yesterday afternoon. The vote showed that it was not a mere defeat for the Shoe Machinery company,

After Representative Higgins had called the amendment of Mr. Ross to exempt labor unions from the operation of the law a betrayal, and had likened it to the kiss of Judas and the sword of Joab, the house rejected the Ross amendment by a vote of 130 to 90. After Mr. Brigham had characterized the fight of Mr. Turtle against the bill as the last desperate stand of a monopoly, the house turned down the Turtie amendment to strike out the penalty clause from the bill by a vote of 130 to

Mexico Has Large Force of Troops on Guatemalan Frontier

Attempt to "Assassinate" Cabrero Said to Have Been a Bluff Concocted by President Himselt--Had Planned to Show "Magnanimity"

Mexico City, May 28.-Mexico has 8000 men fully equipped and on a war footing now on the Guatemalan fronthe south of this capital are 8000 additional troops which can be transported to the border on 24 hours' notice.

While there is a disposition in official circles to modify the height of the tension existing between President Cabrero and the Mexican government, it is admitted on all sides that should Cabrera carry out his intention of exe cuting the 19 men accused of complicity in the alleged attempt to assassinate Cabrera, Mexico will be forced to intervene.

A. P. Hawley, an American business man, who has returned from a trip to Guatemala and other Central American republics, says:

"Two days after the alleged attempt on Cabrero's life it was known about Central America that the whole busi ness was a badly garbled plan framed up by Cabrero himself, in an inspired noment, to arouse the sympathy of the country and of the neighboring repub-

"All he got was a thinly veneered note of regret and sympathy from the various countries who are, as a matter of courtesy, obliged to accept the statement of the government.

"In Guatemala City everyone knows that the explasion of a few harmless powder caps was all a prearranged affair. Cabrero had another motive in the business. Nineteen men were arrested, charged with the crime, and after fastening the charge on them he is going to show his magnanimity to all the world by pardoning each and every Nebraska, or his heirs, devisees or legal one of them. This little play is to gain the confidence of the outside world."

HIGHER WAGES FOR 85.000

Lowell the Only Large Mill City Still Outside the Fold

Boston, May 28 .- The general upward movement in the wages of New England cotton mill operatives yesterday affected about 85,000 operatives in Rhode Island, southeastern and western Massachusetts, Amesbury, Pownal, Vt., and several other places in northern New England. The advance which became operative in the sections named amounts to about 10 percent. Early next month it is expected an increase of 5 percent will be given in many mills in other manufacturing districts The cotton mills of New England employ upwards of 200,000 hands when the machinery is fully manned.

It is expected that a conference between the Lowell mill agents and representatives of the Textile unions will be held toward the latter part of the HERBERT A. HAYDEN week for the purpose of discussing the demand of the Textile Council for a 10 percent advance. The manufacturers claim that 5 percent is all they can grant, and that even that increase could not be paid for more than a few months. President Regan of the Textile Counci states that the union men will present figures at the conference to show that wages in Lowell are far below the rate paid in southern New England.

At a largely attended meeting of United Textile workers at Lewiston, Me., it was voted to appoint committees to see the agents of the Lewiston Cotton mills and demand an increase in wages of 10 percent. Letters were sent to the manufacturers some days ago asking for an increase, but no re ply has been received as yet.

Attempt at Murder Charged Rockville, Conn., May 28.—Charged with attempted murder, Clark House is under arrest here, and his victim John Dunn, is in a hospital. House, is said, met Dunn in the Tolland post office and shot Dunn in the leg. The latter grappled with House, who truck Dunn repeatedly over the hos with the revolver, inflicting sever wounds. The trouble is said to have grown out of remarks alleged to have been made by House to Dunn's wife.

Bonds Go to Administrator Boston, May 28 .- Judge Loring, in he supreme court, has directed Mrs Laura T. Ripka to turn over to Arch oald M. Howe, administrator of the estate of her brother, Joseph P. Green ough, $300,000 worth of bonds that were given to her by Greenough. Mrs Ripka claimed that the bonds were given to her outright, but the adminis trator alleged that they were given to her to hold temporarily. The case has

To Survey New Haven Road New Haven, May 28 .- A train upo which experts will live for several months will leave this city to make a tour of all the lines of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad system. The engineers will accurately measure all the tracks, will report in detail upon the length, height, tensile strength and construction of all bridges and will prepare in detail a valuation vey probably will take five months.

Warrant Out For Proctor Boston, May 28.-Robert G. Proctor former private secretary to Senato Lodge, who was convicted of larceny of a contribution to the Republican campaign fund, was defaulted in the superior court when called for sentence and a default warrant issued for his arrest. Proctor was out on $500 bail, which he furnished himself, pending a decision of the supreme court on the question of a new trial, which the cour refused to grant two weeks ago.

Sailors Say They Were Cheated Newport, R. I., May 28 .- Because some of the members of the crew of the Chilean cruiser Senteno, who had just received three months' pay, are reported Insurance, to have been cheated by Newport merchants while spending their money on shore leave, Mayor Clark issued a publie statement calling attention to the fact that the English sovereign is worth $4.82. Some of the sailors complained that they got only $2 in exchange for their English money.

> Life Sentence For Blind Man Boston, May 28 .- Pleading guilty to a charge of murder in the second de gree, John H. Sperry, 50 years old, was committed to the state prison for life in the superior criminal court. Sperry shot his wife fatally in their home after an all-night quarrel and then attempted to take his own life. From the effects of his self-inflicted wound he is now totally blind.

> Motorman Blamed For Boy's Death New Haven, May 28 .- Coroner Mix found Motorman John J. Murphy responsible for the collision of his trolley ear with an engine on a railroad cross ing and also found Murphy criminally responsible for the killing of Fredrick Behler, 15 years old, who was thrown under the wrecked trolley.

Gained Nothing by Striking North Grafton, Mass., May 28 .- The Grafton flax mills started up yesterday with all the old employes back after the plant had been closed for a week About 25 yarn rulers and winders went out, but returned at their old wages. About 150 employes were thrown out of work for a week by the strike.

Kerosene Oil as a Beverage Stamford, Conn., May 28.-George Gardner, identified by discharge papers from the British army in which he had Decorator and Paper Huager. | served 14 years, died in a boarding house here from the effects of drinking kerosene oil. CHAPTER XXXVIII. N the following morning the inhabitants of London, Paris, Berlin and St. Petersburg for a sum varying from a halfpenny to a penny were treated to sen sationalism as thrilling as any six shilling shocker hot from the press and assured of its half million circulation. One English newspaper and one French outdid their competitors by publishing side by side with their ac count of the exploits of the Russian fleet a marvelous but circumstantial story of a meeting and alliance be tween the rulers of Germany and Russia. The eyes of the whole world were Mr. George Snow of New York, for awsked me if I would have it sponged turned toward Kiel, and more wonderful rumors still flashed backward and forward along the wires throughout Europe. At an unusually early hour M. Grisson, supported now by two members of his ministry, received a visit from the Russian and German ambassadors, The roar of the lion can be heard | Prince Korndoff and Count von Munchen. The usual compliments were quickly exchanged.

"I have asked my friend, Count von Munchen, to accompany me," Prince Korndoff explained, "because we are here to speak with you on a matter concerning which our interests are identical. You have read the demands which England has dared to lay before my master with reference to the encounter in the North sea." M. Grisson bowed.

"I do not need to tell you, then, that said sternly, "that you should make : they are scouted with indignation secret treaty with another power and by my master and his advisers," the keep hidden from us no less a scheme prince answered. How to Clean Goatskins. There are two methods of cleaning white goatskin rugs, both equally effective. First remove the lining from the rug. To four gallons of lukewarm water add half a pint of aqua ammonia. Stir the rug about in this preparation several times for half an hour, then rinse it thoroughly in warm clean water and hang it in the shade to dry. When dry, the rug will be stiff. Give it a vigorous rubbing between your hands to soften it. The second method is to get a large quantity of gasoline and wash the rug in it. If it evaporates too quickly, mix pure soapsuds with it.

A raw north-easterly wind was what greeted the Grand Army, Memorial Day morning, when the Post assembled at headquarters in response to general orders to devote the day to the decorating of the graves of comrades who lie buried in the cemeeries in Quincy.

Although the air was cool, it was an ideal day for marching. The watering carts and watering car had laid the dust in the streets through which the veterans were to march and the absence of the usual hot sun made it very comfortable for the marchers.

The Post assembled at headquarters t 7 o'clock, when details were dispatched to decorate the graves of members of Paul Revere Post that are buried in cemeteries outside of Quincy, the graves of Col. Paul Revere for whom the post was named the graves at Mt. Wollaston, the Hancock and English cemeteries. A detail also visited the Nationa Sailors Home and held services and decorated graves.

At 9.30 the command formed in front of Grand Army hall and headed by the Oriental Drum corps and escorted by John A. Boyd camp U. S. W. V., and the Finnish band, marched to the junction of School and Frank-

Fitchburg, Mass., May 31.—Seven persons were quite badly injured, none it is believed fatally, and several others sustained painful bruises by the derailment of an electric car upon which the members of the local Grand Army post. women and children, were being carried to Forest Hills cemetery to decorate soldiers' graves.

The accident, which was probably due to the spreading of the rails, occurred as the 10-seated open car, with its full quota of passengers, was rounding a curve. The car suddenly left the track and shot diagonally across the street, narrowly missing a telegraph pole, and landed in the gutter with such force that all the passengers wer thrown forward and many hurled to the ground. The car was only slightly damaged.

Physicians were soon on the scene and attended to such of the injured as needed their services, and later the in-

The authorities have drafted large forces of police into the disturbed dis tricts, with the result that there have been some serious conflicts between the police and the peasants and many persons on both sides have been in

There have been numerous prosecu tions, but the sympathy with the aims of the peasants is so strong that in one or two instances even the magistrates have declined to concur in the conviction of the disturbers of the peace, on magistrate even going to the extent of declaring himself ready to go to prison with the defendant.

In parliament the opposition de clares the Irish league to be responsible for the growth of this movement, using it as a means to force the governmen to grant the Irish demands. Chief Sec retary for Ireland Birrell, speaking in the house yesterday, admitted there was considerable cause for anxiety, but denied the existence of any evidence of a widespread conspiracy.

KNOCKED HER DOWN

Becker Says That Is All He Did to Staffeldt Girl

SAYS GRAHAM KILLED HER

Latter Makes Denial and Declares That His Accuser Himself Did the Stabbing Which Caused Death-Both Men May Be Implicated

New York, May 31.-Two prisoners in the jail at Long Island City have denounced each other as the murderer of 15-year-old Amelia Staffeldt, who was assaulted and stabbed to death while gathering dandelions near her father's farm in Elmhurst last weck.

The men were Henry Pecker, who wice confessed to the crime and subsequently repudiated his confessions, and Leon Graham, who was arrested on Wednesday within a mile of the scene of the murder for attempted assault on 5-year-old Mamie Luck of Corona. The police are not satisfied that Becker is mentally responsible, but believe he was concerned in the murder with which they have also sought to connect

In the hope that the two men might recognize each other, they were brought together in the corridor of the jail yesterday. Neither, however, made any sign that he knew the other. The pris oners were then placed in separate cells and Becker, being questioned, admitted that he knew Graham, and declared that the latter was the murderer.
"He killed the Staffeldt girl," said
Becker. "Graham stabbed her to death after I had knocked her down with a

When Graham was subsequently told that Becker had confessed to the murder, he admitted having witnessed the crime and said: "I don't want to go to the electric chair. I did not kill that girl. I saw Becker knock her down. Then I hid behind a tree while he stabbed her with a knife. We went to a pump and washed our hands. But I never killed that little girl; he did it. I never killed that little girl; he did it.

After we went to the pump we separated, and I did not see the fellow again until a few minutes ago here in the jail."

The police are convinced that Becker and Graham are the two men seen by Mrs. Emily Simonson washing blood from their hands on the afternoon the little girl was slain.

Graham was arraigned yesterday on the charge of assaulting the Luck child and was held for the grand jury. The prisoner said he had been attracted by the beauty of the little child and intended only to kiss her.

A mob of 2000 people, which besieged the Flushing police court at the hearing of Graham, made an attempt to prisoner were forced to draw their r

The crowd followed the wagon, shouting "Lynch him!" and they gathered about the door of the police sta-tion. Before Graham could be taken from the wagon it was necessary to drive the crowd back by the display of arms. Then a squad of officers rushed the prisoner into the courtroom.

Graham was half dead with fright, and in a weak voice pleaded guilty to the charge against him. Magistrate Connorton held him to the grand jury on a charge of assault in the first degree, on which he may be sent to prison for 20 years.

While Graham was relating how he attacked the little girl, John Luck, father of the girl who arrived just in father of the girl, who arrived just in time to rescue her, tried to attack Graham. He was held back by officers.

The police waited until the crowd had disappeared before daring to bring Graham out of the courtroom, and he was then hurried to the Queens county jail for safekeeping.

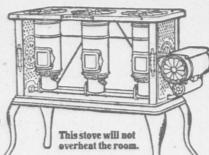

Looking Up Duncan's Record
Boise, Ida., May 31.—Carl H. Duncan, who came here disguised and heavily armed and was arrested Tuesday on suspicion, is still held at the city prison and an extended investigation of his career and conduct is in progress here and in other cities. It is expected that he will be taken into court and charged with carrying con cealed weapons. None of the socialists in Boise accepts Duncan as a member of his particular branch of the party.

On Track of Murder Suspects New York, May 31.-Captain Mc-Cafferty, in charge of the detective bureau, says he expects in a short time to arrest the three men who are suspected in connection with the death of Father Kaspar Vartarian, whose body was found last Sunday in a trunk in an apartment in West Thirty-seventh street. McCafferty says the arrests will be made in this city or Chicago.

The Chinese Rebellion

Canton, May 31 .- A severe engagement has occurred between the provincial troops and a body of rebels, re sulting in a victory for the former. The rebels lost over 100 men killed and the government forces captured the rebel leader. Two thousand additional troops have been dispatched to Chaochow. A gunboat, having troops on board, has salled from here for Swatow.

Suit of Half Brothers of King of Spain Reveals a Great Scandal

Madrid, May 31.-Like a bombshel nto royalist circles came a decision of he Spanish supreme court declaring itself competent to try the suit of the heirs of Elena Sanz, the Bohemian dancer and opera singer, who bore two sons to King Alfonso XII, father of the present king, which has been brough against King Alfonso XIII, his mother Maria Christine, and his sisters, Maria De Las Mercedes and Maria Theresa besides including all the sisters and other relatives of Alfonso XII.

The heirs of the Sanz woman are the two sons, half-brothers of the present king, and until now their existence has not been known to the mass of the Spanish people. Only the court circle knew of the transgressions of the king those who knew all kept their mouths

But about the first act of the mother royal husband and her accession to the regency, was to banish from Spain the beautiful singer, who went to Paris and died there, alone, penniless and friendless, with her two little boys alone to mourn, eight years ago.

In the will of the late king provision was made for the payment of an annuity to Elena Sanz, which, at her death, was to revert to her two boys, the illegitimate sons of a King of Spain. This provision, it is said, never was carried

CORNELL DEFEATS HARVARD Three of the Crimsons Give Out at

End of Two-Mile 'Varsity Race Ithaca, N. Y., May 31.—Cornell's varsity eight-oared crew defeated Harard by three-quarters of a length last evening in a thrilling two-mile race on Lake Cayuga. The official time was Cornell, 11:01: Harvard, 11:031/4.

. Harvard took the lead at the start and rowed a rapid stroke. The crimson started at 36 and maintained 38 for con iderable stretches. Harvard led for a aile and a half, part of the time by nearly a length. When Cornell finally eaught up it was a fierce struggle for an eighth of a mile before Cornell took he lead by a scant yard.

The last half mile was a series of desperate spurts in which Cornell's superior endurance won. Three of the Harvard oarsmen. Faulkner, Severance and Bacon, were exhausted at the finish. The race was rowed in partia

Quarry Accident

Luigi Conclari, aged about 45 years, was seriously injured this morning at one of the quarries of the Granite Railway Co. by a load of grout falling upon him. The man was at work in the bottom of the quarry. A boat load of grout was being hoisted from the quarry when one of the chains broke. This caused the load to fall into the quarry burying Conclari beneath a ton of grout. He was severely injured about the head and limbs and was removed to the City Hospital in the police ambulance. Conclari has a wife and four children and resides at 40 Bryant avenue.
